"WILL THE SUIT WEAR WELL?
MY BOY IS AWFUL HARD ON HIS CLOTHES"

How often a mother or father greets us with this remark! If at the time, we are trying to sell one of our good, durable $—, $— or $— Boys' Suits, we will, of course, answer must decidedly in the affirmative. The wearing quality of our Boys' Clothing is one of its many good features. Another strong point is its stylishness. This is due to the extreme skill used in cutting our Boys' Clothing. It is cut just as carefully and scientifically as the finest of men's clothing. Bring the Boy here for his spring suit. You can't do better.

SILVER LAKE

A. R. Wiggan and Harold Seeds were registered at the club house for a few days, returning to Philadelphia on Sunday.

Dr. Persifor Frazer spent a few days here recently.

Francis Mercier, proprietor of the Belleview Hotel at Dingmans, visited his son on Monday and Tuesday. Time is dealing kindly with him, who though about 84 years of age looks hale and hearty.

Edward McMurray of Milford made a business trip here recently.

A. R. Wiggan's cottage is nearly completed, he will occupy it about July 1st.

John Hanna is improved so as to be at work again.

Mr. Root Refuses to Resign

Erving Winslow, the secretary of the New England anti-imperialistic league has demanded the resignation of Secretary Root as he believes that Mr. Root has consistently and avowedly used his official influence to keep the nation from abandoning the Philippines. Mr. Root has refused to resign ;in fact he appears to have ignored the Winslow demand. Doubtless this will be construed as another indication of the secretary's resolve to trample upon the wishes of the people.

The suggestion of a public indignation movement to compel the war department to make public in full General Miles' report on the Philippines in which he severely arraigns the army of which he is the head, falls rather flat in view of the official denial that any part of the report has been suppressed.

"The tariff is always revised in the interest of its beneficiaries," says Editor Bryan. The principal beneficiaries of the American Protective tariff policy are the people of the United States.

SANDYSTON.

It is announced that the Emperor of Germany spends $25,000 a year on his uniforms. And we are fondly imagining that the kaiser would be impressed by General Miles.

The long talked of new road from Tuttles Corner to Culvers Gap is getting nearer and as the contract for the building was awarded last week it is safe to predict that before snow flies, we of the Delaware valley, will not have to climb those hills, but as Engineer Konkle says, we can trot from one end of it to the other and in either direction. The appropriation of 45,000 dollars asked for, for the further building of good roads means that Sussex county will soon have as good roads as any county in the state.

The creamery at Bevans is steadily increasing its receipts and everybody is glad that it is a success. One patron of the creamery received a milk check for last month of over $300 and when pasture comes that check will undoubtedly become larger.

The steady dry weather pinches worse and worse and fears are being entertained that the grass crop is injured beyond recovery. The roads are a mass of dust and a good rain would do a great amount of good just now.

On the 11th inst Hiram and Asher Snook of this town left for a trip through Tennessee in search of timber tracts. Both are experts in lumber business and may they meet with success is the wish of their many friends here.

How times change: When I was younger than I am now, it was customary for the gent to go home before midnight but I notice the time is after sunrise. Pretty long hours that.

A Port Jervis quartette of musicians and singers will give an entertainment in the Centerville church Wednesday evening, May 27th. An admission fee of 25 and 15 cents will be charged. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of a new organ for the church.

A rainbow social will be held at Hainesville Thursday evening, May 28th. Where they will get that rainbow from is more than I can tell as it dont rain in this section any more.

It beats all how dusty our roads are. The drought coming directly after the gutter mud was thrown in by the machine, is now converted into dust and people traveling are not having a very enjoyable time of it.

The law forbidding the sale of "guns, pistol, toy pistol or other firearms" to boys under 15 years of age is now a misdemeanor and this is a mighty good law. A few days ago parties were standing on the stoop of the store of L. T. Smith when a bullet struck the floor by the group and luckily no one was hurt.

CAREER OF C. DRYDEN

North American's Star Sporting Writer Has Been Describing Game Since 1889

Among the special writers who give The North American sporting department its distinction none is better known than Charles Dryden.

Mr. Dryden has been called the George Ade of base-ball. His humor is as fresh and as spontaneous as that of the famous author of Fables in Slang. His inimitable reports of base-ball games are entirely characteristic. Nobody writes like him, nobody gets the same infectious twists and turns of merriment, and none of his imitators has succeeded in reproducing the entirely unforced effect. For the last thirteen years Dryden has classed by himself in this particular branch of newspaper writing.

In 1889 he made his first essay as a base-ball wit. This was in Chicago. He wrote up a game in imitation of the stilted, archaic phrase of Bible language.

It scored an instant hit, and in a short time all the prominent papers of the west were bidding for his services. For seven years he stayed west, changing between San Francisco and Tacoma. In 1896, when W. R. Hearst bought the New York Journal, he secured the services of Dryden. When he had been less than a year in the metropolis he had his memorable quarrel with Andrew Freedman. He was shut out of the New York grounds, but kept up a long-distance fire of raillery on the eccentric owner of the Giants and kept not only New Yoak but the entire country convulsed by his clever quips.

In 1900 The North American took a notion that it wanted Dryden to round out the strong staff. Hearst was averse to parting with his crack sporting writer, and made him exceptional offers to stay.

But the proprietor of the Journal was outbid and Dryden came to Philadelphia. He came back in 1901 and is now under contract for the present season of 1903.

Mr. Dryden is a newspaper writer of wide experience. He has had a varied career, having from time to time been a sailor, an iron moulder, fisherman and war correspondent. He represented a San Francisco paper in Samoa when the rival kings were fighting for the throne.

The other branches of sport are looked after by an able corps of specialists. A particular effort is to get the fullest reports of amateur base-ball games.

On opening days and important events staff writers and photographers are sent from the office, and contests are covered with the same care that is given to reports of major league games.

The continued delay in the ratification of the canal treaty is making the candidates for the commissionership extremely nervous. Those who believe they have landed the "plum" are very anxious to see the digging begin at once.

Before democracy's nomination day the Cleveland boom can be appropriately styled the Cleveland relic.

The latest "temporary prosperity" reports indicate individual deposits in the country's banks amounting to more than three million dollars.

It is understood that the effect of the St. Louis ovation given to ex-President Cleveland will result in Mr. Bryan's redusal to exhibit his $400. heifer at the exposition.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.

California Excursions

The Erie will sell a special excursion ticket from Port Jervis to Los Angeles or San Francisco, Cal., daily, from May 11th to 17th, inclusive, good returning to July 10th, at the low rate of $67 for the round trip. Here is an opportunity to visit the Pacific Coast at less than the first class one way rate.

Joseph Pomiuville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the results. For sale at 25 cents per box by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.
