MARIETTA CAR HO[illegible] The several passenger trains will leave the "Upper-station Depot" as follows: Morning train, East, at ten minutes before 8; Mail train West, 11:38; Harrisburg Accommodation train, East, at 9 minutes after 5; the same train West, at five minutes before 7 in the evening.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1863.

☞ We are compelled again to lay over Capt. Roath's letter. It is in type, and will appear in our next.

☞ The Patriotic Circle will meet on Thursday evening next, at Mrs. S. P. Sterrett's.

☞ Our usual variety is greatly curtailed this week in consequence of the lengthy description of the Farmer's and Gardener's Exhibition.

☞ Mr. Jacob Gotthall, of the Hot House, near the Upper Station, had some mammoth Prince Albert Potatoes at the late exhibition. They were the largest we ever saw, and of fine taste and very mealy when cooked,—this we know for we had a trial of them. Mr. G. has been quite successful as a fruit and vegetable grower.

☞ A most shocking accident occurred on Wednesday afternoon last, at the Musselman Limestone quarry, adjoining this place, by which James McCann, a laborer in the quarry, lost a leg. It appears that a loose piece of rock fell into the quarry upon his foot completely severing it at the ankle, leaving the foot in the shoe. Dr. Landis, and Dr. John J. Sowerby, who is on furlough from the naval service, awaiting the readiness of his vessel for service, and on a flying visit to our place, attended the wounded man and found amputation immediately below the knee joint necessary. He is now doing as well as could be expected.

☞ Rev. John Walker Jackson, pastor of the Locust Street M. E. Church, Harrisburg, will deliver his very able and eloquent address on "The Union—The Constitution—Peace," on Friday evening next, October 9th, at seven o'clock. None should fail to hear this celebrated Divine, being regarded as one of the most eloquent belonging to the M. E. Church. Some very fine music will also enliven the occasion. Mr. Jackson delivered this address in Harrisburg, some time since, where it was pronounced something very finished and eloquent.

☞ One of the amusing "side wings" of the late Fruit exhibition, was a mammoth Canteloupe with a neck-shaped sweet potato stuck into one end and trimmed to represent the head and neck of a goose, with cabbage leaves for wings, and three small rhubarb leaves for a tail, which, upon the whole was very natural looking. The following advertising card was placed upon its back:

"The Vegetable Goose—Supposed to have escaped from the wilds of New Jersey, and found its way to Girod's Cornucopia, next door above Spangler & Patterson's store, playing smash among the fine fruits and vegetables always there on hand, where it was finally captured."

☞ Hon. Molton C. Rogers, at one time a prominent member of the Lancaster Bar, died in Philadelphia on Sunday morning, in the 78th year of his age. He was born in the State of Delaware, and after graduating at Princeton College, he studied law at Litchfield, Conn. He removed to this State and took up his residence in Lancaster city. He soon became one of the leaders of the bar, at that time filled by distinguished men. On the election of John Andrew Shultz as Governor of this State, Judge Rogers became Secretary of the Commonwealth, and on the 15th of April, 1826, Gov. Shultz commissioned him one of the Justices of the Supreme Court. After the adoption of the new Constitution he was re-commissioned to the same office by Governor Porter, and continued on that bench until 1851.

☞ The Miasma and foul vapors generated by the hot sun will be far more deadly to our volunteers than the enemy's bayonets. In the Indian and Crimean campaigns, Holloway's Pills were used in enormous quantities. They kept the troops in perfect health. Soldiers supply yourselves. Only 25 cents per box. [217

☞ Col. Thurston Polk, of the rebel army, was recently captured at Bolivar Landing, on the Mississippi, and delivered to General Buford, commanding at Helena. This Polk was with the rebels at Iuka, Corinth, New Madrid and Cold Springs.

☞ The war debt of the "Southern Confederacy" is now estimated at $1,200,000,000. Is there any sane man who can estimate in piccayunes the probable cash value of said debt five years hence?

Farmer's and Gardener's Society of Donegal.

This living society of practical gardeners and farmers, held their tenth semi-annual exhibition, on the 25th ultimo, in Temperance Hall, in this borough. We have attended many State and County Fairs in our time, but we never saw the display of fruits on this occasion surpassed, in number of varieties and fine and luscious appearance.—Crowds of admiring visitors filled the Hall during the day, and especially in the evening. We noticed quite a number of amateur fruit growers from York county, and from other distant points. The officers and members of this commendable society, certainly have reason to congratulate themselves for the success with which their efforts have been rewarded. Quite a large accession to the society, was obtained in funds, and new members, which will enable it to do still better hereafter; and the association being in correspondence with the Agricultural Department of the Government at Washington, they will receive a share of the distributions of seeds, plants, &c., so that it will be the interest of cultivators to become members, that they may avail themselves of the advantages attained thereby.

Special Committee on nomenclature and value of new and seedling fruits:—J. J. Libhart, Dr. S. Keller, Samuel Bahn, Daniel Engle, John Musser, S. H. Purple and Henry M. Engle.

Report on New and Seedling Grapes.

Carpenter's Dark Seedling—Supposed to be a seedling of the Catawba; differs in flavor from the Parent, and the specimen, submitted, not equal in quality.

Creveling—Fully equal to the Isabella; preferable on account of its earliness.

Cloantha—Equals the Isabella in quality; other merits claimed for it, not known.

Swalara—No special merit.

Garber's Dark Texas Seedling—Equal to the Isabella, and deserves further trial.

Alvey—Considered worthy of cultivation.

Fanny—A seedling of J. B. Garber; a good white grape; sweet and pleasant flavor; worthy of cultivation.

Cuyahoga—Judgement suspended until another season.

Union Village—Inferior to many old varieties.

The foregoing varieties tested, were principally found on the tables of S. H. Purple, of the Columbia Nurseries, Dr. Keller, of Elizabethtown, and D. Engle, of the Marietta Nurseries. Many more varieties were submitted by these gentlemen, but the limited time allowed the committee, prevented further examinations.

Dr. S. Keller exhibited, and submitted to the judgement of the Committee, the following four varieties, originated and grown by himself. He has long and patiently experimented with our native grapes, and deserves success, and the thanks of all who admire the grape:

No. 1—A dark red colored grape; stiff pulp, but sweet and agreeable.

No. 2—A dark grape, medium size; promises well, and may prove a good wine grape.

No. 3—Larger in size than No. 2, both in bunch and berry, and equal in quality with it.

No. 4—Similar to the Northern Muscadine; larger bunch and berry, and probably, preferable on account of adhering better to the bunch.

Report on Apples.

"Ned."—A seedling, originated in this place, and described in the "Gardeners' Monthly," maintains the character given it.

Jane—A seedling originated in Maytown, and possessing sufficient merit to make it worthy of cultivation.

Col. W. H. Eagle exhibited a dish of assorted fruit; 1 dish well ripened Pippen apples. James Duffy, 15 varieties apples, from his York county farm, all well-perfected fruit. Daniel Engle, 12 varieties of fall and winter apples; a fine collection; all worthy of cultivation, amongst which we notice the Yellow Bellflower, Hubardson, Nonsuch, Newtown Pippin, Imperial, Sweet Rambo, &c. Christian E. Greybill, 4 varieties of winter apples; all highly colored and perfect fruit. John J. Libhart, exhibits some fine specimens of Smokehouse, Redstreak, Northern Spy, "Ned," Baldwin, Pumpkins County King and a Pound Apple weighing 1½ ounces. C. Stibgen, extra fine pound apples, weight over 18 ounces. Orange Quinces, J. M. Anderson; 2 varieties of apples of extraordinary size. Henry M. Engle had a fine collection of the most favorite sorts; but the Apple crop, we regret to say, as a general thing, is a failure in this locality this season.

Report on Peaches.

H. M. Engle, presented some very fine specimens of Smock's and Walter's Late, and several delicious seedlings and other varieties of the season; one a small, yellow fruit, named by the proprietor "Golden Drop," which was sweet and delicious, deserving the notice of those who prefer quality to size.

Daniel Engle, also had some very fine specimens, for the season; such as Walter's Smock's and Crawford's Late, Malacotas, Grosse Mignonne, and Molden's White.

Peter Gottshall exhibited 2 varieties of peaches, his Crawford's Late were beautiful.

J. E. Keybill, 1 dish of highly colored Crawford's.

John Musser, 1 large dish of splendid Crawfords.

Samuel Jackson, Crawford's Late.

B. Spangler, Crawford's Late.

Report on Grapes.

Samuel Bahn, of Hellam, York county, exhibited 17 leading varieties, splendidly bunched and colored; among which were the following foreign kinds, grown by this successful cultivator, in the open air, five miles from this point: White Nice, Black Hamburg, Muscat Hamburg, Black Damascus and Portugal, which we never saw surpassed by any grown under glass by the most approved house treatment. We consider that this gentleman is entitled to special credit for demonstrating that these magnificent varieties can be grown in the open air in this latitude, with proper treatment, and without deterioration of their superior qualities.

S. H. Purple, of the Columbia Nurseries, exhibited 42 varieties, including the old established sorts; with many of those lately brought before the public, we notice some extraordinary bunches of Catawba and Isabella, which were beautifully ripened; also, Rogers Seedlings, Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 9 McLaren, Garber's, Seedlings and Cynthiana; also a group of bunches of Black Hamburg suspended from the ceiling, weighing 10 pounds, very attractive; and several other foreign varieties in magnificent specimens.

Daniel Engle, proprietor of the Marietta Nurseries, had on his table 17 varieties among which we notice as particularly fine, the favorite Delaware, which we regard as the best grape of all hardy grapes, for open air culture, in sweetness and flavor it is unrivalled; the specimens submitted were very fine and delicious. Among other new kinds we noticed the Union Village, Creveling Alvey, &c.

Dr. S. Keller, of Elizabethtown, exhibited 14 varieties; 4 of which were seedlings of his own raising, which will be reported upon by the special committee on new and seedling fruits.

John A. Garber, presented 5 varieties.

Henry M. Engle, 8 varieties; among which the Clinton was fine.

Jacob E. Kreybill, some very fine specimens of Catawba and Isabella.

J. J. Libhart, 3 varieties.

Israel Goodman, White Frontigan; good bunches, and well ripened in the open air.

Barr Spangler, 4 varieties.

S. L. Dellinger, 2 varieties.

C. W. Girod, 2 varieties.

Henry Wolfe, Fruiterer, a case containing several varieties of very fine looking grapes, apples, peaches, pears, &c.; but being under glass, and not come-at-able, we judged them to be foxes grapes.

Mrs. J. Whitehill, A. Musser, D. Eyer, J. Eyer and A. Stibgen, also presented some fine specimens of Isabella, Catawba and Concord.

Report on Beans.

Henry M. Engle, exhibited 16 varieties; his Stevens, Genessee, and his Duchess d'Angouleme, the former for beauty, and the latter for size, were unsurpassed.

J. M. Erisman, presented 3 varieties; among which the Soldat Labourier and Duchess d'Angouleme were fine.

John J. Libhart, exhibited 22 varieties; we notice as very fine the Vicar of Winkfield, and St. Michael Archangle and Napoleon.

Daniel Engle, showed 14 varieties; all fine; especially the Passe Colmar.

Christian Stibgen, presented the finest Seckle's in the exhibition.

S. L. Dellinger, had several varieties among which, the Louisa Bonne d'Jerry was the finest in the room of that variety.

Peter Gottshall, exhibited 8 varieties; one of which, was the finest colored pear on exhibition.

S. H. Purple, of Columbia, had 18 varieties; the Pound pear was very large and fine in appearance, and is one of the best kitchen pears; a number of other kinds were well grown.

The Committee learned from the growers present, that the past season was very unfavorable to the pear growing, to the continued rains in the blooming season, and the subsequent attacks of the curculio and summer drought; still we must say, that we never saw a better collection of fine pears, proving clearly that special interest is taken in the cultivation of this most delicious fruit, in our gardens and orchards.

Report on Potatoes.

Peter Gottshall, presented some of the most, and finest Prince Albert's that we have ever seen.

John Shields, exhibited some very large and fine Mercers; also a seedling, of that variety, originated by himself, as large as the Parent, now the second year from the seed, represented equal in quality and productiveness; we consider it worthy of further trial; also a Chinese Yam, weighing five pounds; we think this esculent deserves more attention than it has yet received.

Jacob E. Kreybill, presented some very fine Prince Albert's.

J. J. Libhart, exhibited the Garnet Chili, a new variety, said to promise well, being equal in quality to the Mercer and more productive.

Barr Spangler, presented the Ohio Red Fox Seedling.

Jacob Erisman, had the Rough Chippe.

Michael Stump, the Judge Watkins.

Jacob Bahn, of Wrightsville, exhibited a number of Bermuda or California Sweet Potatoes, averaging over four pounds each; this is a late introduction, and they promise to be a valuable acquisition on account of productiveness.

John N. Kreybill, exhibited some of the same variety, nearly equal in size.

John Musser, showed some fine Nansemond Sweet Potatoes; we can distinguish no material difference from the Jersey Yellow, in appearance.

Report on Melons and Pumpkins.

Henry M. Engle, exhibited some extraordinary large and fine looking Spanish Strawberry, and Cross Watermelons; also extra large Canteloupes; but we had no direct invitation to explore the interior, we can say nothing in regard to the quality of their contents, however, the committee labor under no doubts about its capacity, under more favorable circumstances to have done them full justice.

Peter Gottshall showed some very fine cooking Pumpkins, Cushaws and Squashes. Barr Spangler also presented some fine examples of this family.

Report on Vegetables.

W. M. Eagle, presented some extra large Lima Beans.

Peter Gottshall, a variety of fine vegetables.

A. Emswiler, showed some large and fine Blood Beats.

P. Gottshall, the Prussian Rutabaga.

Report on Domestic Wines.

The committee found the wine offered by Col. Wm. H. Eagle very good and easy to take.

The Floral Committees not having yet reported, we take the following from our own notes:

The display of Flowers by Mrs. Sterritt, Mrs. Bonham, Mrs. J. E. Kreybill, Mrs. J. Musser, Mrs. J. Whitehill, Mrs. A. N. Cassel, Mrs. Barr Spangler, and Miss Gottshall, was very fine for the season.

The Cushion of flowers by Mrs. H. M. Engle, deserves particular notice.
