We expect Miss Daisy home the last of the week. Miss Pennypacker is visiting one of the government buildings of Milford's vaccines. Drs. Elgin and Hichens, friends of Mr. and Mrs. McKee are at the head of this wonderful plan.

Bull Moosers Were Here

Mr. John N. Hetrick, candidate for Congress, and Dr. W. F. Klein, a candidate for State Senator from the 17th district, escorted by Dr. E. W. Garber of this place, candidate for the State Legislature, called on our business men last week. They also called at some of our industries, distributing printed matter, buttons, etc.

Two Crops of Potatoes

John Wharvell planted a bed with potatoes early last April; these matured and were taken up in June. On the 26th of June he replanted the same bed with imported Irish potatoes and last week he began taking up fine large potatoes from this planting. Two crops of potatoes in one year from the same ground, is unusual in this section.

Oscar Made Good

Secures a Better Position

We are more than pleased to inform the many friends of Prof. E. R. Barclay, that he is still climbing skyward. Prof. Barclay was one of the best principals that ever had charge of our local schools, but in 1901 saw fit to go to Huntingdon where he secured a far more responsible position at quite an increase in salary. Only last week he was elected superintendent of the schools at Pottsville at a salary of $2,100 for the initial year's work and $2,500 thereafter. An idea as to his popularity at Huntingdon may be gleaned from the fact that when the school board there held a meeting requesting him to reconsider, offering to greatly increase his salary, petitions signed by hunderds of scholars were presented. Only last summer he built a fine and modern home at Huntingdon. He will take up the work at Pottsville Nov. 1.

Richards—Frank

Announcements were received on Saturday by the many friends of Dr. Frank Llewellyn Richards, one of our local physicians, telling of his marriage to Miss Esther Marie, daughter of Mrs. Anna Frank of this place, in New York City on Feb. 19, 1912. Dr. and Mrs. Richards left Sunday for New York City, returning home last evening. Both have a host of friends who join us in wishing them much joy and happiness on their journey thru life.

Gee, It Was Good

Mr. Christ Herr brought a fine large ripe strawberry to this office on Saturday. Sorry you didn't have more of them Christ.

Obituary

THE ROAD WHICH WE ALL MUST TRAVEL SOONER OR LATER

Some Well Known People From Our Neighborhood Have Passed to the Great Beyond Since Our Last Issue Gone to Their Reward.

George Crane

George Crane, of Mountville, was attacked with vertigo while oiling the wheel on his wind pump, fell to the ground a distance of 40 feet and was instantly killed.

Robert Nentwig

Robert, infant son of Mr. Max Nentwig of Florin, died on Friday afternoon at 1.30. The funeral was held on Sunday forenoon at ten o'clock in the U. B. Church. Interment was made in the Florin Cemetery.

Frederick A. Hipple

Frederick Augustus Hipple, a retired wholesale tobacco merchant, and a native of Bainbridge, died from apoplexy at his home at Shawmont street and Gettysburg avenue, Roxborough. He was seated at the dinner table when he was attacked. He was a descendant of the first settlers of the Susquehanna Valley. A widow and three children survive.

John Stauffer

John Stauffer died from tuberculosis at his home at Silver Spring last Tuesday night. He had been ailing two years. He was a miller by trade and later was in the cigar business. He belonged to the U. B. church at Silver Spring. His wife, three children, two brothers and a sister survive. The funeral was held from his late home on Friday at 1 o'clock with services from the Bethel church at Landisville at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

Mrs. Amos Shuman

The death of Mrs. Anna Shuman, wife of Amos Shuman, occurred at her home in Mountville, on Thursday night, from paralysis. She was stricken Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Shuman was fifty-one years old, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eshleman, of Cordelia. She was born in West Hempfield township. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Beckie, wife of Christian Herr, of Mountville. Her parents and the following brothers and sisters also survive: Aaron Ehleman, of Lancaster; Mrs. Abram Meiskey and Mrs. Emma Herr of Columbia; Mrs. Philip Bard of Cordelia; Mrs. James Youtz of Mountville, and Sarah, at home.

The First Number

The first number of the Pattersonian is being distributed and is truly a credit to the Mount Joy High School. It contains twenty pages of interesting reading together with a limited number of advertisements. The publication is the product of this office and we can't help but reproduce from its columns. The New York Journal gained much popularity with its daffodils, but listen to this:

If the maple is a tree is Mr. Roudabush?

If the Editor is absent will any body Miss Herr?

If the Pullman is an automobile is Miss Donovan?

If coal is black is Mabel Geistweit?

If hay is grass is May Flowers?

If Harold Harmon is short is Marie DeLong?

If Bernard is dressed is John Bair?

If pig is pork is Walter Bernhart?

If Frank Gantz is pale is George Brown?

For Sale—A home-made sink bench. Apply at this office. 1t

CAUGHT ROBBING THE MAIL

Evans J. Carpenter, Formerly of Town, Gets Into a Hole

Mr. Evans J. Carpenter of Lancaster, an employe of the New Era office, was arrested yesterday on complaint of that newspaper, and is charged with taking mail containing money, while carrying the mail between the postoffice and the New Era office.

Three decoy letters were sent yesterday by two post office inspectors. Evans lifted these, only delivered two, was caught, questioned and it was found had opened one and removed the contents. He gave bail for a trial at court.

Mr. Carpenter formerly conducted a restaurant here and has a sister and two brothers living in this place.

Hostetter—Charles

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Charles, in Rapho township, near this place, at noon on Tuesday, Monroe H. Hostetter, of Manheim, was united in marriage with Miss Katharine L. Charles the daughter of Mr. Benjamin Charles, of East Petersburg, a well known school teacher, and last term in charge of the West Park school in Penn township. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Jacob N. Brubaker, of near this place. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter left on a trip to Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in the new house recently erected by E. P. Hostetter, on Stiegel street, Manheim.

Roosevelt Was Shot

Theodore Roosevelt was shot and slightly wounded Monday night at Milwaukee, Wis., as he was leaving the Gilpatrick Hotel for the auditorium to make a speech. The wound was superficial and the colonel went on to the hall and began after he had seen the assailant arrested and taken to the police station. A supposed lunatic shot him in the breast. The wound is not serious.

Has No Jurisdiction

The State Railroad Commission Wednesday informed D. G. Brinser, of Rheems, Lancaster county, that it has no jurisdiction over claims for damages for delays on deliveries of merchandise by railroads. The complaint asked the Commission to expedite payment of a claim, but this is held to be wholly beyond the power of the Commission.

A General Clean-up

Owing to the new sanitary regulations of cities and towns, Borough Council has decided to remove ashes and rubbish twice a year. All ashes and rubbish placed on the streets and alleys will be removed in the East Ward during the week commencing Oct. 21 and in the West Ward during the week commencing Oct. 28. Do not obstruct streets or alleys.

Church of the Brethren Love Feasts

The fall love feasts of the Church of the Brethren in this section will be held at the following places on the days named: At Kreider's, on October 16; at Reading, on October 19; at Little Swatara, Middle Creek and Rheems, on October 22; at Mohler's and Mountville, on October 23; at Fairview, on October 24, and at Midway, on October 29.

Wilson Club Growing

At a meeting of the Wilson Progressive Club on Thursday night it was decided to get an out of town speaker of some prominence to address a Wilson mass meeting in the auditorium of the hall at some future date. There were 21 members admitted to the club during the past week, making the total membership 80.

On the Hockey Team

Miss Beatrice Brown, daughter of Councilman George H. Brown, who only recently entered Bradford College, at Bradford, Mass., is already a fixture on that institution's female Hockey team, playing right ring. Miss Brown is certainly some athlete as this is a very responsible position.

Entertainment a Success

The home talent entertainment in Mt. Joy Hall Friday evening for the benefit of "We Sisters" of the United Brethren Church was well attended. The rendition was a credit able one which more than pleased and we are glad to report a neat balance for the "Sisters."
