

Local Advertisers. I. O. of F. Ridgway Lodge 969, I. O. of F. meets every Thursday evening.

OFFICERS: John A. Ross, N. G.; L. A. Brendel, V. G.; Sec'y: John Anderson, Ass't Sec'y; H. H. Wensel, Treasurer.

ELK CO. ADVOCATE RATES.

Yearly Advertisers. One Column One Year $50.00. One-half Column One Year $25.00. One-third Column One Year $15.00.

LOCAL ADVERTISING. Ten cents a line first insertion; five cents a line for each additional insertion.

A choice lot of smoked meats just received at Morgester's.

A court martial will convene at Greensburg on the 23d of August for the trial of thirteen men who refused to attend drill and inspection.

Dr. J. S. Bordwell, who has had over twenty-five years' practice, has moved his office to his new building opposite the Bogert House, Main St., Ridgway, Pa., where he may be found from 1 to 2 and from 7 to 8 o'clock P. M.

Frederick Foreman had eight hundred bushels of wheat at Greensburg for more than a year, expecting to sell it at his own price, and has at last sold it at the market price, which is much less than it was a year ago.

A man in Millintown has four wives buried in the same cemetery where one tombstone serves to record the name, date of birth and death, with the virtues of each, and the much-made widower is at great pains to place floral offerings on each of the graves of his dear departed every Sunday evening during the season of flowers.

Grand Ball. There will be a Grand Ball at Hyde's Opera House, Ridgway, Pa., on Friday Evening, September 9, 1881. All are cordially invited to attend.

Again we call upon the public to bear in mind that for bargains in Dry Goods and Clothing, Boots and shoes, hats and caps, Hosiery, Notions and Furnishing Goods, they must call at the New York Store before the proprietors, Cohen Bros. & Brownstein depart for the East to purchase their Fall and Winter stock for which they must make room, and therefore are, so to say, slaughtering everything to close out. Bear in mind all we say is just exactly so, and to convince yourselves give us a call.

Had Chronic Catarrh and Constipation; could get no help. Peruna cured me. Mrs. S. R. Williams, Martin's Ferry, Ohio.

In another column we publish from the Salisbury Press a very full and accurate account of the annual inspection of the Second Brigade at Camp Vincent, near Salisbury. Therefore, we will not enter into any further details of life in camp generally but only so far as relates to Company H of Ridgway.

The following is a list of the members present at the encampment: Fred, Schenck, Captain; W. S. Horton, First Lieutenant; Geo. R. Woodward, Second Lieutenant.

Henry A. Parsons, Jr., 1st Sgt.; Howard Gordon, 2nd Sgt.; Joseph Bailey, 3d Sgt.; O. Kells, 4th Sgt.; S. S. Wilson, 5th and Company Sgt.

Privates: Anderson, John; Aaron, Geo. T.; Benton, Isaac E.; Barrett, Jack E.; Bailey, Edward; Cook, John H.; Heller, Wilmer; Houghtaling, Amos K.; Kennell, Jerome; Luther, C. E.; Luther, Ed. J.; McChesney, Robt.; McAllister, Crede; Morry, William; McChesney, Walter; McChesney, J. A.; Maloney, William; McMillan, W. C.; McCauley, James E.; Mohney, Fred C.; Nichols, Frank; Ross, L. H.; Shann, John; White, Jas. D.

Items of Camp Life. Daniel Nelf cooked for the boys and gave great satisfaction. Mack Kline and Coyt Messenger were along as supernumeraries and liked camp life first-rate.

All the members of Co. H. were pleased to learn of the re-appointment of our old Sergeant Major Crawford, city editor of the Erie Herald. He is a gentleman and a scholar besides being a popular officer.

We were all pleased to become acquainted with so many members of the sixteenth regiment, The Old City, Erie, Corry, Bradford and Warren boys are a lot of "bricks" anyway.

Sgt. Shannon and Crum are well known to us all and happy are we to renew their acquaintance. May they live long and prosper. Co. H. was obliged to wait in Warren several hours, during which time Company I made our stay pleasant. Sergeant Hackney as well as the rest of the Warren boys will please accept our thanks.

The receipt of Prof. Marcor, just across from Camp Vincent, was much admired by our boys. Number visiting the place. Through the kindness of the Professor we were shown through his elegant house which for convenience and completeness we have seldom seen excelled. In fact a model of good taste.

The sad story of Cheeky and Bet is enough to bring tears to the heart of a stone. We'll write a story of their tribulations one of this fine days.

List of Letters. Remaining in the Ridgway Post-office, Elk county, Pa., up to Aug. 22, 1881. Allen, A. D.; Cochran, J. A.; Dunsmie, Addison; Goodwin, Mrs. Mary; Johnson, J. T.; Millar, Miss Annie; Mitchell, Miss E.; McDonnell, Miss Annie; Rack, W. M. H.; Tomgren, J.; Wilson, R. A.; Wilson, J. B.; J. H. HAGERTY, P. M.

PERSONALITIES.

G. T. Wheeler has been back from Texas ten days. M. J. Earley, of Alto, McKean Co., is here this week. Mrs. J. W. Eyster and Miss Nellie Cronin returned to Erie to day.

Miss Agnes Barrett and Mrs. J. K. Jeffrey, returned from their visit to Warren Tuesday.

Mercer Brothers new horse is supposed to be the handsomest one in the county.

Mrs. Penfield, mother of Jas. A. Penfield; is in town on a visit to her son and other friends.

Wm Cohen, who superintends Cohen Bros. & Brownstein's branch store at Luddington, Mich., is in Ridgway for a few days.

Mrs. Elizabeth Penfield, of Jefferson county, was in Ridgway Boro for several days visiting her son James Penfield, and other friends here.

John Winklebleck, of Horton township, was in town yesterday and made his annual visit to THE ADVOCATE office. Mr. Winklebleck has cut twenty ton of hay and 120 dozen oats on his farm this season doing nearly all the work himself.

He is one of the best farmers in the Toby valley.

MARRIAGES.

McQUEEN-FRINDEL—Tuesday, Aug. 16, 1881, at St. Mary's, by Rev. Father Heale, Mr. Arthur S. McQueen to Miss Mary Frindel, all of St. Mary's.

LOFF-JACKSON—On Monday, Aug. 15, 1881, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. J. Sander, Mr. Henry J. Loff of Kama, Pa., to Miss Mary A. Jackson, of Laurel Hill, Pa.

BIRTHS.

FANNIN—To Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Fannin, Jr. Tuesday, Aug. 22, 1881, a son.

McGOVERN—To Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McGovern a son.

DEATHS.

IRWIN—August 13, 1881, Molly E., infant daughter of J. H. and L. C. B. Irwin, at the age of 3 months and 8 days.

"She is not dead, but gone before." One sweet flower has drooped and faded, One sweet infant voice has fled; One fair brow the grave has shaded, One sweet darling now is dead.

She is gone to heaven before us, But she turns and waves her hand, Pointing to the glories clearer us, In that happy spirit land.

W. P. L. BARRETT—At Debus Mines, Elk Co., Pa., Aug. 6, 1881, Mary A., infant, daughter of W. and Rhina Barrett, aged 2 months and 2 days.

PAWLEY—Wednesday, Aug. 23, 1881, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Pawley, aged about 10 months.

MRS. E. CRAYSTON.

In returning thanks for past favors respectfully begs to inform her friends and the public generally that she has just returned from New York where she purchased a large stock of Millinery and fancy goods of the latest styles, also a nice selection of ladies' styles, Plain and Fancy hosiery, Ladies' and Children's Parasols, Hair goods, fancy Chinaware, &c., which she intends to sell as cheap as the cheapest. Particular attention given to trimming and in a style that cannot be surpassed in this section. All are invited to call and inspect her goods before purchasing elsewhere.

Dr. Sharp—Hello! Doctor where are you going to on such a run so early in the day?

Dr. Smart—Why, you know at Cohen Bros. & Brownstein's New York Store they have got the biggest bonanzas out. They are closing out their spring and summer stock to make room for their fall and winter goods and you can buy things almost for nothing there.

Sharp—Well, that is good news, but what are they selling there that is so desirable?

Smart—Well there are Dry Goods and Clothing, Boots and Shoes, hats and Caps, Notions, Hosiery, and Furnishing Goods.

Sharp—Well if that's the case I'll go down with you for I need some things and if I can save any money I am ready so do so.

Smart—Well hurry or we may be too late for the bargains.

Sharp—So here goes for COHEN BROS. & BROWNSTEIN.

Bonanza—N. Y. Store—Bonanza. My daughter had a very weak back. peruna cured her. John Orgill Pittsburg, Pa.

No Hospital Needed. No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffer to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cure at home.—New York Independent.

New lot Flour, Feed Meal, Corn, Graham, Oats, &c., at Morgester's.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs, &c., at Morgester's.

What the ladies say about the Vapor Stove: It takes better than the Cook Stove. I would not have believed it possible to do such an ironing and not heat up the house.

I can start a fire in one minute. It is as portable as a sewing machine. W. S. SERVICE, Agt.

Ayer's Ague Cure is a purely vegetable bitter and a powerful tonic, free from quinine or any mineral substance and always cures the severest cases.

THE LATE JAMES L. GILLIS.

A MOST REMARKABLE CAREER—SOLDIER, STATESMAN, JUDGE AND LEADING CITIZEN—HIS ARREST AND TRIAL FOR THE MURDER OF MORGAN—HIS STATEMENT ABOUT MORGAN—HIS BLAMELESS LIFE.

(From the Philadelphia Times.) The death of Judge Gillis at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, a few weeks ago, calls to mind a man, who he was, and the part he filled in his country's life.

There, in 1812, James enlisted in a company of New York volunteers, and was immediately commissioned a lieutenant of cavalry and assigned to a regiment of cavalry, which was later reorganized as regular dragoons. He was in the battle of Fort George, Chippewa and Lundy's Lane. Shortly after the latter battle he was taken prisoner by the British and confined at various places in Canada, and in 1814, while under parole, he was arrested and put on board a transport about to sail for England. Gillis and several others were successful in making their escape by capturing the transport, and were transported and gaining the bank of the St. Lawrence river opposite Quebec, at which place the vessel was lying. All were finally retaken. They wandered about for several days, trying to reach the United States frontier, and made but little headway in that direction. Finally they made terms with a Canadian Frenchman, who promised to guide them across the boundary, but betrayed them; the red coats got them, returned them to confinement, and Lieutenant Gillis was not again permitted to escape. He remained in confinement until the close of the war, when he was sent to Salem, Massachusetts. When Congress, about 1833, passed a law giving a bounty of 160 acres of land to the soldiers of the war of 1812, Judge Gillis had no other means of support, and he considered it to his advantage to hang in his house in a gilt frame, which was a luxury in the way of that art that his neighbors generally could not indulge in.

IN THE WILDS OF PENNSYLVANIA. In 1822 he moved to Pennsylvania and located in what was then Indiana county, afterwards a part of Jefferson county, now Elk county. His nearest neighbor was sixteen miles distant and his nearest postoffice about seventy miles. The approach to his location was from Clean Point, on the Allegheny river, and supplies were brought from that place over a rough wagon road, about thirty miles of which he had to travel. He was the nearest neighbor was sixteen miles distant. The sheriff had come there from the town of Indiana, the county seat, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, and they were then in the office of the Governor of the State had been duly recognized by Judge Young, who was then holding court at Indiana, and the proper warrant had been issued for his arrest. The party started on horseback the next morning, Indiana, a distance of about one hundred miles, through the woods. The most part of the way was only a blazed line and a narrow path for their route. A Red Bank and other streams to rise very high, and the party was delayed three days over the proper time making the trip. Great anxiety was felt for the party, and the deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff, and the opinion freely expressed that he had made way with both of the officers. Late one afternoon, however, the community was relieved by the arrival of the overland party. Gillis was ordered to the sheriff's office of the county, who was a Mason, and spent a pleasant night in the town with his brother Mason. The next morning he procured a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Judge Young. Upon the hearing of the writ he was refused. He was conveyed to Canandaigua by way of Franklin and Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y. Upon the route he lacked neither food drink or shelter. He was held in custody by the sheriff, but he would not be released until he had been taken to a third party, that he would accompany the deputy to Canandaigua peacefully and quietly, but if any harsh means were used he would not be released. The deputy sheriff