

The lumber market is booming this spring. Light supply and heavy demand.

There was an average of 187 pupils in the Borough schools for the month ending Feb. 28.

Major E. T. Scott will deliver the initial address of a series at Emporium next Sunday evening in the M. E. Church.

On account of the lecture last evening the Presbyterian social was postponed until Tuesday evening at M. S. Kline's.

The Rochester & Pittsburgh R. R. is working between the bulkhead and the old school house. This company means business.

Roscoe Conklin, of New York, has been nominated by President Arthur to be an associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. His confirmation is beyond doubt.

Building promises to be lively in the Borough the coming season. Postmaster Hagerty, and ex-Sheriff Oyster will each build new houses. We also understand that Doctor Farley, and the Hydies will put up several tenement houses.

L. L. Angle and W. G. Barry, formerly of Lock Haven, who were tried at Erie for false pretenses, have been sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and undergo an imprisonment of ninety days. The defrauded firm, Messrs. Johnson & Breviller, interceded for them or their sentence would have been more severe. -Renovo Record.

Dr. Carroll will deliver his celebrated lecture, "The Young Man in Chains" this evening at the M. E. Church. The Doctor is one of the most polished orators and eloquent speakers in America. He charmed his audience last night for an hour and a half. Admission 25 cents. No reservation seats.

W. U. Hensel, Esq., of Lancaster, Pa., will deliver the last lecture in the Ridgway School Library Union course on Thursday evening, March 9th, subject, "The Wives of Some Famous Men." Mr. Hensel is editor of the Lancaster Intelligencer and comes highly recommended as an entertaining and popular speaker.

J. B. JOHNSON.

Blaine on Garfield. Following is the closing part of Blaine's eulogy on Garfield delivered in the House of Representatives last Monday:

Great in life, he was surprisingly great in death. For no cause, in the very frenzy of wantonness and wickedness, by the red hand of murder, he was thrust from the full tide of this world's interest, from his hopes, his aspirations, his victories, into the visible presence of death—and he did not quit. Not alone for the one short moment in which stunned and dazed, he could give up life, hardly aware of its relinquishment, but through days of deadly languor, through weeks of agony, that was not less agony because silently borne, with clear light and calm courage, he looked into his open grave. What blight and ruin met his anguished eyes, whose lips may tell—what brilliant, broken plans! what baffled, high ambition! what surrendering of strong, warm, manhood's friendship! what bitter rendering of sweet household ties! Behind him a proud, expectant nation, a great host of sustaining friends, a cherished and happy mother, wearing the full rich honors of her early toil and tears; the wife of his youth, whose whole life lay in his; the little boys, not yet emerged from childhood's days of frolic; the fair young daughter; the sturdy sons, just springing into closest companionship, claiming every day and every day rewarding a father's love and care; and in his heart the eager, rejoicing power to meet all demand. Before him desolation and great darkness! And his soul was not shaken. His countrymen were thrilled with instant, profound, and universal sympathy. Masterful in his mortal weakness, he became the centre of a nation's love, enshrined the prayers of the world. But all the love and all the sympathy could not share with him his sufferings. He trod the wine-press alone. With unflinching front he faced death. With unflinching tenderness he took leave of life. Above the demonic hiss of the assassin's bullet he heard the voice of God. With simple resignation he bowed to the Divine decree. As the end drew near, his early craving for the sea returned. The stately mansion of power has been to him the wearisome hospital of pain, and he begged to be taken from its prison walls, from its oppressive, stifling air, from its homelike and its hopelessness. Gently, silently, the love of a great people bore the pale sufferer to the longed-for healing of the sea, to live or to die, as God should will, within sight of its heaving billows, within sound of its manifold voices. With wan, fevered face tenderly lifted to the cooling breeze, he looked out wistfully upon the ocean's changing wonders; on its fair sails, whitening in the morning light; on its restless waves, rolling shoreward to break and die beneath the noontide sun; on the red clouds of evening, arching low to the horizon; on the serene and shining pathway of the stars. Let us think that his dying eyes read a mystic meaning which only the rapt and parting soul may know. Let us believe that in the silence of the receding world he heard the great waves breaking on a further shore; and felt already upon his wasted brow the breath of the eternal morning.

The Assessment Mutual Life Association of Washington, Pa., does legitimate business on the cooperative principle; takes no risks over 45 years; graduates its assessments according to the age of insured; permits no speculation assessments to parties having no insurable interest. In each and every case a strict medical examination is required and in fact is a thoroughly legitimate Co-operative Life Insurance Company.
All claims are paid in full its last claim being that of John P. Moffat of McKeesport, Pa., who died December 24, 1881, and the claim paid to his widow, Josephine Moffat, on the 13th of December, for the full amount of the policy, $5,000.
For information regarding the association inquire of J. P. ASKEY, Hyde House, Ridgway Pa.
—Pictorial Illustrations.—"The usefulness of pictures in a general way is seen by comparing the keenness of observation, the general intelligence, the accuracy of knowledge exhibited by children brought up in the midst of an abundance of wholesome illustrated literature, with the comparative dullness of vision and narrowness of information shown by those who have not been so privileged." The foregoing, which we take from the "Canada School Journal," truthfully applies to the "3000 Illustrations in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary," in which more than 340 words and terms are illustrated and defined under the following twelve words: Beef, Boiler, Cattle, Column, Eye, Horse, Moldings, Pneumology, Ravelin, Ships, Steam Engine, Timbers, as may be seen by examining the Dictionary.
—"We have just received from Saafield's Music Store, 775 Broadway, New York, the February number of the SAAFIELD TEN CENT LIBRARIES. These series of monthly publications of which the subscription price is only one dollar (12 numbers), single numbers 10 cents, are revolutionizing the music business. Think of buying 10 pages of the best music for ten cents! It is wonderful. The number just received contains "President Arthur's Grand March" a beautiful baritone solo, "Bring My Hero Home," and several other popular pieces. Other numbers contain the Gobble Duet from "Maocotte," "Garfield's Funeral March," arrangements from "Olli-vette," "Billie Taylor;" and other operas. The March number will contain a complete Potpourri of "Patience." Send 10 cents for sample copy, or still better $1 for a year's subscription, the publisher, Mr. R. A. Saafield, for this wonderfully cheap publication to 775 Broadway, New York.

Local Institute.
Brookport, Pa., Feb. 25, 1872.
MR. EDITOR: The following is a brief synopsis of the proceedings of a district institute held in Horton township which we submit for publication in your columns.
In accordance with previous arrangement the teachers of Horton School District convened at the Keystone School House on Friday morning for the purpose of holding a district institute. They were called to order by Craig McAllister at 11:00 A. M. An organization was effected by electing Craig McAllister chairman and J. E. Fopano secretary. A committee, composed of Misses Nellie Ferman, Ada Thompson, and J. E. Fopano were appointed to arrange a program and report, after which the institute adjourned to meet at 1:15 P. M.
FRIDAY AFTERNOON.
Institute was called to order by the chairman at the appointed hour. After a song by our "school maams" Superintendent Dixon who was on hand at the opening of the afternoon session made an address on the object of district institute and touched upon punishment, assigning work and government.
Craig McAllister gave his method of dismissing classes. This topic called out many remarks from different members of the institute. J. E. Fopano spoke a short time on writing, which also called out many questions and remarks.
INTERMISSION.
J. C. Nelson gave a very plausible method of presenting geography to a class.
J. E. Fopano then talked on language lessons, discussing the old and new methods of teaching language.
Craig McAllister then presented his method of teaching grammar. The institute then adjourned to meet at 7:30 P. M. in the M. E. Church.
EVENING SESSION.
Institute was called to order by the chairman at 8:00 P. M. The following program was observed:
Music—"To the Work," by the young ladies and gentlemen of Brookport.
Address—Relation of Teacher and Parents in the Education of the Child, by J. E. Fopano.
Music—by same as above.
Reading of an Educational Journal by Nellie Ferman.
Solo, Nellie Ferman.
Address—Elements of Success, Supt. Dixon.
Music—"What Shall the Harvest Be."
The audience was dismissed at 10:00 P. M. The attendance was large and attention good. Three members of the board of directors—Messrs. G. S. Hines, J. S. Chamberlain and George Clinton—were present during the afternoon session, and all but one of the members were present in the evening, thus showing that they are in sympathy with the work.
SATURDAY FORENOON.
Institute was called to order at 9:00 A. M. All the teachers being present, J. E. Fopano presented a method of teaching primary arithmetic. He briefly illustrated the use of the abacus in teaching to count, add, etc., and the process of "carrying" and "borrowing" with bundles of sticks.
Miss Ada Thompson gave her methods of teaching Readings, which are worthy of a trial by every teacher.
J. C. Nelson drew on the board a diagram for parsing. It was pronounced excellent by Mr. Dixon and others.
Miss Nellie Ferman talked on spelling presenting many good ideas.
Craig McAllister then occupied some time on "Letter Writing."
Adjourned.
SATURDAY AFTERNOON.
Institute called to order by the chairman at 1:30 A. M.
J. E. Fopano continued on "Language Lessons" after which Supt. Dixon spoke at length on "Punishment." This was the last exercise and after tending a vote of thanks to Mr. Dixon for his presence and excellent instructions the institute was adjourned at 2:30 P. M.
We believe that each teacher went away feeling satisfied with the work done, and that they were amply repaid for all their efforts. The day sessions were well attended by pupils, and educational interest seemed to be on its feet. Horton can boast of an enterprising board of directors, desiring to be up to the times and we believe their schools are not far behind the average.
CRAIG McALLISTER, Chairman, J. E. FOPANO, Secretary.
SKILL IN THE WORKSHOP—To do good work the mechanic must have good health. If long hours of confinement in close rooms have enfeebled his hand or dimmed his sight, let him at once, and before some organic trouble appears, take plenty of Hop Bitters. His system will be rejuvenated, his nerves strengthened, his sight become clear, and his whole constitution be built up to a better working condition.
—"If you are troubled with fever and ague, dumb ague, bilious fever, jaundice, dyspepsia, or any disease of the liver, blood and stomach, and wish to get well, try the new remedy, Prof. Guilmette's French Liver Pad. Ask your druggist for it and take no other, and if he has not got it send $1.00 in a letter to the French Pad Co., Toledo, O., and receive one by return mail.
SILVER CREEK, N. Y., Feb. 6, 1880.
Gents—I have been very low, and have tried every thing, to no advantage. I heard your Hop Bitters recommended by so many, I concluded to give them a trial. I did, and now am a roused, and constantly improving, and am nearly as strong as ever.

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportion accurately adjusted to the nature, certainty, and purity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for constipation, induced by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which excite general and local trouble. AYER'S PILLS are especially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by an excited nation, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being composed of the most concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.
AYER'S PILLS are an effectual cure for Constipation, or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Energy, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhoea, and all Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.
