The Day of the People.

The dawning of Popular Representation is at hand. Those old musty documents known as the Constitution, Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence, contain the principles with which the ship of a free State may sail without other chart or compass. The eternal principle of popular representation is one of the vital planks in the grand old structure which we call Nation. The people shall rule themselves. All delegations of authority shall come from the peoplc. In these days too often we see the expressed will of the people set at naught in the interest of a petty office or at the behest of a party chieftain. At Cincinnati the unbely hand of a Cameron gave us Hayes in defiance of the wishes of a large majority of the Republicans of the old Keystone State. Then at Chicago the 306 who stood by Grant attempted in their blind devotion to a great leader to throw down the traditions of the country and upset the idea of popular government by a step and a long one toofin the direction of an Empire. These are notable examples of a disregard of the wishes of the people, candidate. And Elk county, where and they stand as warning mile stones to all men that there are ambitious to a man. But the little "boss" has and unscrupulous men, even in a Re- had our delegate instructed for Beaver. public whom it will not do to trust too far. Columns could be written on about it? Following we reprint a comthese high misdemennors, but a hint suffices for our purpose.

Last fall at the Republican county convention, of Elk county, a great mistake was made; the wind was sown which is bringing forth the whirlwind.

Henry Souther, of Erie, would make an acceptable candidate for Govenor. He has had a large experience in public Authority was given the Chairman of affairs, is a first-class lawyer, and has the County Committee to appoint the served with distinction on the Bench and in the Legislature and other imcommittee. In this action he made a blunder which no amount of excuses will release him from. Republicans of Elk county are you prepared to be dictated to by one man, periodical issued in behalf of the and that one man of no very large ealibre either? Are you prepared to have your rights as citizens and Republicans trodden under foot by a man simple because he holds an official position and dances when his masters pipe? Last week (Wednesday), this committee or a fraction of it (six men all told) were present. The chairman held two substitutions for use in case erly inactivity at the White House in of emergency, and had things "fixed" all except getting out of the way of to suit himself. The chairman's too utterly-utter disregard of the THE ADVOCATE will have about as much effect on the course of this paper as a heaffixed to his portrait engraved by effect on the course of this paper as a flee bite would have on the cheek of a Stalwart. While for eleven years we have struggled to maintain a Republican paper in Elk county, and much of the time without the support of the mighty chairman, we feel amply repaid for our trouble by a steady increase of subscription list and job work and advertising patronage, and feel able to get along without his recognition as long as by faithful work we merit the support of our friends. This point we will have more to say ing health has lately made in the face about hereafter. The outrageous action of the Little "Boss" is something that stinks in the nostrils of honest men and cries for vengeance at the hands of the voters. When will the people have their day?

In our issue of March 16, we favored the calling of a County Convention to Washington, March 27.—One of the most important subjects before the president now is the appointment of appoint a delegate, is that the reason | the commission to organize the territhe committee was called together in made on the part of Mormons to sesuch hot haste and in silent conclave? cure the appointment upon that commission of ex-Delegate Hooper, of of a delegate to the State Convention that territory, on the ground that the Mormon interest ought to have party has an interest, and that due Mormon in faith, but not a polygamist notice should be given through the in practice. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the PETITIONS FOR SERGEANT MASON'S PARDON POURING IN ON THE PRESIDENT.

(Philadelphia Press.) Washington, March 24.-The flood of letters and petitions in behalf of the pardon or the commutation of the sentence of Sergeant Mason which is pouring into the White Horse shows an increasing interest in this matter all over the country. An enormous petition for Mason's pardon, containing over 12,000 signatures, was to-day re-ceived from Toledo, Ohlo

Members of Congress are continually bearing to the President these petitions received from their constituents, which are referred, as usual, to the Judge Advocate-General of the Army for consideration. Active steps in Mason's behalf were taken to-day by the presentation in the Supreme Court of the papers and petitions asking a writ of habeas corpus. The Court, as stated last night would be done, took the case under consideration and will will allow the filing of the petition. Meetings are being held in various portions of the city each night, in the interest of Mason's wife and child, bring her from her home in Virginia to this city. She is expected

The Anti-Chinese Bill. SECRETARY OF SATE FRELINGHYSEN

OPPOSED TO IT. Washington, March 27.—The mem-bers of the New Jersey delegation say that Secretary Frelinghuysen is opposed to the president's signing the Chinese bill, and will use his influence to have it vetoed. It is understood that the Chinese minister takes the grounds thathe bill is a direct violation of treaty stipulation, and that the twenty years' suspension of the immigration of the Chinese is not such a resonable time as contemplated by the terms of the treaty. The opinion is maintained that if the bill becomes a law the Chinese government will not consent to accept its provisions, but require the United States to abrogate the treaty as a whole. The Chinese minister thinks that the words " reasonable time" could not be made to

(From the Elmira Advertiser.) A young farmer of Clintondale, Ulster county, became deeply enamored of a young lady, a stranger in the neighborhood, who was temporarily stopping in the village, and after court-ing her assiduously for some days, popped the all important qu estion, received "yes" for an answer, and insisted on the marriage ceremony being performed the following evening. Accordingly, a large number of friends were invited and the couple made one by a justice of the peace of the neigh-borhood. Immediately upon the con-clusion of the ceremony the bride was surrounded by her gentlemen friends, all of whom insisted upon kissing her, greatly to the displeasure of the jealous groom, whereupon she made her escape to an adjoining room, and soon to be ex-secretary of the interior, the bridegroom has not seen her since, will be appointed president of this or at least has not been able to recognized her. The truth of the matter is that the bride was a pretty boy, and when he left the room he changed his

The Coming Great Comet.

(N. Y. Sun.)

If the comet that was discovered by a young astronomer in Albany a week age fulfils half of the promises made for it, we may expect to behold, in May or June a celestial spectacle such as has not been equalled since 1858 or 1811. This conset, although some 200, 000,000 miles from its perihelion, which it will not reach for three months, shows a bright tail and a starlike nucleus. The inference is fair that the comet is a very large one, and that when it gets into our neighborhood it will present a magnificent appearance. Moreover, Prof. Chandler's figures show that the comet is plung-election officers, but refused to say on ing almost straight at the sun, it will probably approach within 100, 000 miles. The only other comet, in the long list of those bodies whose orbits have been calculated, which approached anything like as near to the sun as this are the comet of 370 B. C., the comet of 1667, the comet of 1680, often called Newton's comet, the comet of 1843, and the comet of 1880, The last named was observed only in South America and Australia and at the Cape of Good Hope. Concerning the comet of 370 B. C., of which fright-ful things are related, and which is said to have split in two, not much is known, but the measurements made in the other cases are generally to be depended upon. In fact, it was the approach of the comet of 1680 which led Newton to anticipate possible peril regiment, for threatening a superior officer and for other violations of military discipline, has been sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and undergo an imprisonment of fifty days; Harlo Manard, of the same company, for disobedience of orders, has been sentenced to thirteen days' imprisonment.

> Of course the replymay be made to these objections tlat, although no known comet is great enough to cause carth, yet we do not know but that comets exist thousands of times more massive than any human eyes have ever seen, and that such a comet may some time pay us a visit. In fact, we have had a rather distant view of one comet that really seemed to belong to an order of magnitude different from that of ordinary comets—a sort of cele-stial whale among fishes. This was the famous comet of 1811, which had a heed almost as big as the sun itself But it kept far away, its perihelion distance being some ninety million miles. If such a comet as that should rush upon the sun, Mr. Proctor thinks, it would soon show us what it could do. But his opponents say that even the downfall of the comet of 1811, although it might make the weather uucomfortably hot for us, would not, 'dissolve the elements with fervent heat." Those who may have a lingering suspicion of danger can take comfort in the fact that when this huge comet disappears it was travel-ing on a track that must have carried it uncounted billions of miles away from the solar system, so that it is not likely to return in thousands of years, if ever. That the astronomers themselves are not much alarmed is shown by the fact that they are all very anxious to witness the promised spectacle of the downfall of a comet in 1897 or thereabouts. Whether the coming comet's close approach to the sun will throw any light on this interesting question of course cannot be foretold, but all the present indications are that it will pay its respect to the sun of the sun its respects to the ruler of the solar saytem with royal splendor, present-ing perhaps such a scene as was witsed when the great comet of 1264, which failed to return, as expected, in 1860, spanned the heavens with its tail. In the mean time there is no occasion for anybody to be alarmed, but good reason for everybody to rejoice that we are likely to witness one of the grand-est phenomena of the skies.

Payment of Poll Tax.

THE VOTER MUST PAY IT IN PERSON OR BY AN AUTHOTIZED AGENT.

On Thursday lost a criminal suit charging one William H. Shrouds, an election officer of the Eleventh division of the Twelfth ward of Philadelphia, with unlawfully rejecting the vote of one William Purst, was tried before Judge Allison of that city. The history of the case is substantially as follows: Curst, the prosecutor, was challenged for non-payment of taxes. presented a tax receipt, but was again challenged on the ground that he had his oath that he had paid the taxes. His vote was then rejected. In his examination in court he said that he believed that the republican city committee had paid the taxes for which he held the receipt, but he did not know of his own knowledge that such was the fact. Council for the defense took the ground that Durst in failing to pay his poll tax or in deputizing any one to do it, had not complied with the requirements of the new constitution as to the qualification of voters, and that Shrouds was therefore justified in refusing to take the ballot. Judge Allison, in a long and comprehensive charge on this point, said:

Logansport, Ind.
When sending in an order for Ridney
Pads, writes: "I wore one of the first ones
we had and I received more benefit from it than anything I every used. In fact the Pads give better general satisfaction than any Kidney remedy we ever sold."
