

FOR THE LADIES.

Fashion Fancies. Fashion is running wild over embroideries of every kind, and this trimming is used with a lavish hand upon toilets designed for every occasion.

When tea-gowns are made of white or light-colored materials, they are usually cut, cut, ruffles, pockets and revers of velvet in various colors—violet, copper, red, anora, pink, terra cotta, bronze green, ruby red and sapphire blue.

Deep and full box-plaited ruffles, shell ruffles, diagonal puffs, turret blocks falling over plaatings, and a host of other old trappings appear at the bottom of the skirts of late importations and home productions of costumes.

Demure or false fronts of natural hair or wigs are still in vogue as a dressing of the hair a matter of only a few moments.

The mull neck scarfs lately so popular are now utilized as bosoms or loosely knotted at the throat, and are worn with the neck ribbon in place above them around the neck, inside the dress collar, but outside the ruche or linen collar.

Sloping shoulders are enduringly unfashionable. In days gone by their possession was considered indispensable to establish any claim to having a good figure.

Dresses of sheer and fine French lawn, almost as gaudy as organdie, are made up with handsome trimmings of imitation duchesse lace edgings, falling over plaited ruffles on the skirt.

The variety of grenadines is so great at present that these dresses will be more used than they have been; for young ladies the Spanish lace grenadine is made over colored satin—notably terra cotta red, olive green and salmon colors; for older ladies the fine taffeta grenadine of sewing silk is used as a transparent above rich colors, while for those who prefer all black dresses two kinds of grenadines are used, combining the plain or striped armure grenadine, with brocades that have large balls, flowers or fruits, apples, pears or plums brocaded on relief upon a satin lustrous ground.

Stir the Others Up. "Excellent sermon this morning," said Deacon Goodwill to his neighbor, "the hinges in the vestibule to shake hands with the brethren."

"Well, pretty good; pretty good. Ain't quite up to old Parson Slocum. He preached agin wickedness in the land."

"To be sure, but this man preaches right to us, personally."

A Picture Worth Beholding.

Hanging between two small windows, and catching the light from a larger one opposite, in one of the offices of Adams Express company at 52 Broadway, New York—the office occupied by Mr. W. H. Hall, head of the delivery department—is a plainly framed but neatly framed chromo about 2 1/2 by 3 feet in size, which is looked upon by hundreds of people daily, in many of whom it has a wonderful and salutary effect.

It is to that picture and the persuasions of Mr. Hall, said Mr. Edward J. Douglas, a gentleman connected with Mr. Hall's department, "that I owe my present ability to perform my work. Some weeks ago I was violently attacked with sciatic rheumatism, and hour by hour I grew worse, and nothing my family or the doctor could do gave me any relief, and I began to think in a few days that my case was hopeless and that I was doomed to be an invalid and helpless cripple for life.

But at last I thought of that picture which I had often looked at with but little interest, and then Mr. Hall came to my bedside, and telling me how St. Jacobs Oil had cured him of a worse and longer standing case than mine, urged me to use the same remedy. I did so that very night, directing my wife not to spare it but to apply it thoroughly according to the directions which are given in the large piece of damask cloth saturated with the Oil, and then bound the cloth to the affected part.

The next morning I was free from pain, and although a little sore in the hip was still present, and the next day I resumed my duties in the office, and in a few days I was able to do my full work as usual, and here I am now in full health and strength, having had no touch of rheumatism or other pain since. Whenever I see one of our drivers or any other person who has any symptoms of rheumatism or sciatic rheumatism, I point him to the picture in Mr. Hall's office, and then direct him to go to St. Jacobs Oil at once."

A gentleman who was asked for his marriage certificate quietly took off his hat and pointed to a bald spot. The evidence was conclusive.

That most comfortable Relief. Of West street, New York, is offered over by Mr. C. V. Ward, who thus addressed one of our representatives recently: "Some months ago I had rheumatism in my right arm, and was unable to raise it. I was advised by a friend to use St. Jacobs Oil. I did so, and in a few days my arm was perfectly well."

Character is the diamond that scratches every other stone.

The success of St. Jacobs Oil throughout the civilized world is without a parallel.—Richmond (Va.) Southern Plante and Farmer.

A Tranquil Nervous System.

Can never be possessed by those whose digestive and assimilating organs are in a chronic disorder. Weak stomachs make weak nerves. To restore vigor and quietude to the latter, the first must be invigorated and regulated. The ordinary remedies may temporarily soothe the nerves for a while, but they can never, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, remove the causes of nervous debility.

A GREAT many people who are always complaining that life is a burden would feel very unhappy at the prospect of being relieved of the load.
