Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, in an address at the meeting of the Boston Society of Universalists, deprecates the sending away to foreign missions of the zealous and accomplished women, who are so much needed in home missions. Mrs. Porter, a wealthy lady of Chicago, has founded a hospital for the care of poor children over three and thirteen years of age. It is sacred to the memory of her lost baby boy and is named the Maurice Porter hospital.

It is pleasant to record that a lady who has been out of the country for ten years or more, engaged in missionary labor, returning for a visit and rest, has seen nothing that so much surprises her as the increased earnestness of the women in the work of the church .--Presbyterian.

The Women's Silk Culture association of the United States, at 1328 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, have offered ten premiums, aggregating $500, to be given to the silk calturists of the country who produce the ten largest amounts of cocoons. Quality will also be one of the conditions.

Two young women of Kentucky and Ohio, respectively, have received a patent for a pan to be sunk in an ironing board, for the reception of the flatiron when not in use. The fracture of joints, burns and other casualities caused by flat-irons will be known no This devise is a simple iron mold, one inch deep, eight inches long and five wide, to be fitted to the board, and yet for this patent the young women were offered $5,000 the day after receiving their papers.

The informal Sunday meetings at the Woman's Educational and Industrial Union, Boston, which have been held by Dr. Clisby since the regular season closed, have been well attended and have elicited much earnest discussion on the topics chosen-Faith, Char-Imagination, and Individual or Universal Life of the Spirit. It was the wish of those present, who felt they received so much help from the thoughts given on these vital questions, that the meetings might be continued through the summer.

Struck by Lightning.

During a heavy thunder-storm that swept over Harveysburg, Ohio, Frank Oyler, a lad of sixteen years, sought refuge, with his plowing team, in a barn. While he was caring for his horses the building was struck by lightning. The bolt passed through the building, hit the boy fairly between the shoulders. and, running down his back, passed around in front across the groin, thence down the left leg to the knee, where it forked and sent both prongs to the barn boor. This bolt that passed down the lad's back and leg set fire to the floor at the points where the prongs struck, and in a few minutes the building was in ashes. Frank's younger brother saw the barn in flames, and lighting his way in dragged the insensible lad to the house. Young Oyler remained unconscious for nearly an hour during which time his father traced the course of the bolt by means of a blistered streak running from the shoulders to the left knee. Upon recovering, and at last account he was nearly well, the boy said: "Ouick as she went I could feel the darn thing all the way from my neck to my knee."

grandfathers are again in fashion. Beaded collars in solid jet embroidery on black Brussels net are very stylish. S wall jeweled lace pins, matching the earrings, are used for fastening bonnet strings.

Mousquetaire gloves are the favorite style, and appear in Lisle thread for warm weather.

Dainty little smelling bottles in the shape of jeweled Greek amphorae are worn on chatelaines. Jumbo is the latest craze in decoration, and Jumbo charms and ornaments are shown by the hundred.

Among the rapidly appearing eccentricities in fancy jewelry is an ornament for millinery in the shape of six tiny birds transfixed on a gild d spit.

The Alpine peasant hat, called the Montaguard, with broad brim bent down over the eyes, is to be an exceedingly popular head covering for seaside TISP.

Pure wool-mixed cheviots with a dash of Cayenne red in the woof will be much employed for traveling dresses all summer. The facings and cordings are of red satin.

Pompadout silks figure among new fabrics for evening wear. These are chiefly in detached flowers in natural colors scattered over a light ground, and are combined with plain silks in shades to match.

Black openwork chenille wraps in the directoire shape are much worn this season. They form a rich and elegant addition to promenade costumes of moirs, foulard or satin, and have all the becoming effect of a black velvet mantle.

A great deal of ficelle is used on straw hats. Some wide brimmed shade hats have the brims entirely covered with this lace, held by numbers of small, gilt-headed pins. A garland of flowers or a long ostrich feather completes the trimming.

One of the prettiest and newest berthas for the summer is of violettinted mull, upon which are appliqued natural-sized heartsease blossoms of gold and purple velvet. The edge of the bertha is bordered with violet-tinted Spanish lace.

He then saw a camp kettle and the remains of a fire about 1,000 yards from the tent, and approach-ing nearly stumbled upon De Long's hand sticking out of the snow about thirty feet from the edge of the bank. Here, under about a fost of mow, they found the bodies of De Long and Ambler about three feet apart, and Ah Sam lying at their feet, all partially covered by pieces of tent and a few pieces of blanket. All the others except Alexia they found at the place where the tent was pitched. Lee and Koch were close by in a cleft in the bank toward the west. Two boxes of records, with the medicine chest and a flag on a staff, were beside the tent. "None of the dead had boots. Their feet cut in by the search party. "After completing the tomb the party sepa-rated to search the delta for traces of Chipp's Pactor to search the deith for traces of Onipp's people. Melville went to the northwest part of the delta and west as far as the Olenek river; Ninderman took the center and Bartlett the northeast. Ninderman and Bartlett found nothing. Melville has not yet returned. The search is to be extended to Cape Borchaya and the bay of that name. They expect to finish in time to reach Vakurak or Verkeloiana. time to reach Yakutsk or Verkhojansk before the rivers break up. If they do not finish before that time they will have to re-treat to the foot of the hills and mountains with the natives until the water falls, as the whole of the delta is covered with water in spring to a height of four feet and in some places to twenty feet above the level of the river Otherwise they would have buried the dead where they found them."

WISE WORDS.

Want of good sense is the worst of poverty. It costs more to avenge wrongs than to bear them. Let the root be good and the fruit shall not be evil. Impatience dries the blood sooner than age or sorrow. In every affair retire a step, and you ave an advantage. Wit is a merchandise that is sold but an never be bought. Better bend the neck promptly than o bruise the forehead. He who proposes to be an author should first be a student. The winner is he who gives himself up to his work body and soul. The heart is a crystal palace; once broken it can never be mended. A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold. Though the presence of imaginary good cannot make us happy, the absence of it may make us miserable. Justice exists independent of the law and no statute can modify its principles although it may effect its attainment.

By utilizing selfisbness greater gool can often be done than by decrying it. Self is at the bottom of many good actions in their motives.
