The testimony of a number of persons in each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of the salutary remedy, has, under timely use of the salutary remedy, has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumfiances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine, than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere affertion, could do.

It is not indeed prefumptionally proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason, which can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these pills, taken once every two weeks during the prevalence of our annual bilious severs, will prove an intallible preventative; and surther, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyfrequently in cases esteemed desperate and bey-oud the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild and may be used with safety by personain ever and may be used with laiety by personain ever fituation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off su persona bile and prevent its morbid secretions; to restore and amend the appesite; to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal confequence. A dole never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness, sickness of the stomach and severe head-arbe, and ought to be taken by all fevere head-ache, and ought to be taken by all perfons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious an preventing and curing most disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
