COMMON COUNCIL.—The Common Counoil assembled yesterday afternoon in adjourned session, for the purpose of continuing the consideration of the appropriation bills, Mr. Trego, President, in the chair. The roll was called. Mr Kerr moved that Council proceed to the consideration of the Highway bill from the Select Council. Subsequently, Mr. Kerr modified his motion, so as to read. "to take into consideration the ordinances from the Select Council."
The ordinance making an appropriation of $62. The ordinance making an appropriation of $62,-0, out of the income of the Girard Estates, for 250, out of the insome of the Girard Estates, for various pariposes, was concurred in.

An appropriation for the use of the Girard College for Grphans, amounting to $88,280, was concered in. It was agreed that forty additional orphans be, admitted, requiring a further appropriation of $5,550, and an additional teacher. The extra expenses will be, for—Subsistance. $2,500 Arr. Happer observed that the school could not be properly heated for less than $500.

Mr. Quinn said that the High School was only for a few people—a select few—and it was not for the general good. It made the scholars proud, haughty, and sometimes rancy. It was for pupils who thought themselves gentlemen.

Mr. Hassell favored the increase, as necessary to keep the pupils healthy and comfortable.

The $500 smendment was agreed to—yeas 27, nays 23. nays 23.
Mr. Blynn moved that $300 for furniture be increased to $500.
Mr. Creawell said that he believed there was no institution in the United States that cost so much as the High School. He thought the sum was not required.

Mr. Blynn said that the directors wished to fur-slip the lecture room.

Mr. Hacker thought that the furniture could not be too plain. The sum asked for could not be af forced this war. be too plain. The sum asked for could need forded this year.

Mr. Creswell observed that the education in the school was very expensive. The boys were taught a smattering of Greek, a smattering of Latin, a smattering of French, and a smattering of German—but actually perfect.

The amendment was not agreed to; but a second amendment reduced the appropriation for furniture as $100.

A long discussion ensued on the last item for the High School, for printing and petty expenses.

Mr. Quinn seld that many of the scholars who went to the High School would become industrious tradesmen, only they were expolled in the High School, where they were taught to believe themselves gentlemen, while they were not so.

Mr. Creswell said there were hundreds of eminent men in the United States, who had never heard of the High School. He wished that the motivey were appropriated more to the useful, and less to the ornamental.

Mr. Hasell said that, in most commercial situations, pupils of the High School were preferred.

Mr. H. considered that the saleries of the teachers in the High School were not excessive. Professor Hart, as principal of the High School, had retired, and entered another institution where he had better salary.

Mr. G. P. McLean considered that the debate while putting them in trim. We have news from the United States steamer Dacotah, now on her way to the East India equatron, to the 26th of October. She had reached Mauritius from Cape Town, was taking in coal and provisions, and would sail in a few days for her destination. The Norfolk people are loudly complaining that The Norfolk people are loudly complaining that only four hundred men are employed in their yard, while the Germantown and Merrimack need fitting. The authorities think these vessels are far advanced enough to occupy Portsmouth, just now. They will not be hueried. A letter received yesterday, however, states that the Merrimack is to and entered snother institution where he had a better salary.

Mr. G. P. McLean considered that the debate had travelled out of the record—the real object of the amendment being to reduce $300 for printing, &c., to $100. Still the discussion, as related to the school generally, was continued

Mr. Harper said that the High School had produced persons who preferred working with their heads rather than laboring with their heads rather than laboring with their head rather than laboring with their hands.

The debate than turned upon salaries.

Mr. Laning favored the increase of the salary of Mr. Rink, a teacher, from $400 to $800. He did not warmly support the High School, however. It was an institution for the few at the expense of the many be equipped forthwith.

It has been ru-mored that she would not go to Africa, but to Fort Sumpter. There is no foundation for such a the many
An admendment to add $400 to the sum of $18,088, appropriated for salaries, was not agreed to.
In discussing the salaries of the teachers in the Normal School, Mr. Quinn said that the ides of teaching rhetorio—and there was a salary for a teacher of retorio—was an absurdity. Women could talk well enough without teaching
An amendment to reduce the aggregate of salaries in the Normal School was not agreed to.
Many of the items gave rise to long discussions, but, as these were mostly on minor details, they would not interest the general reader. The bill, however, was much changed by the time it had passed through the committee, and finally it appeared in the following form:
Section 1. The Select and Common Councils of the city of Philadelphia do ordain, That the sum of $531,038 be, and the same is hereby, appropriated to the Board of Controllers of the Public Schools of the First School district of Pennsylvania, for the year 1861, as follows:

Monthly Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city was held last evening, at the church, Eansom street, below Ninth, Geo. H. Stuart, Eaq., in the chair.

The exercises were opened by the chairman reading a portion of Soripture, the thriteenth chapter of Proverbs having been selected for that purpose. This chapter opens with the words, "A wisc son heareth his father's matruction; but a foolish man heedeth not rebuke;" concluding. "The way of transgressors is hard."

Prayer was lext effected by the Rev. Mr. Gambol, of hard."
Prayer was rext (fleted by the Rev. Mr. Gambol, of this city. He prayed éamestly in behalf of the interests of the Association; that all the obstacles which now seemed to impede its progress might be removed, and that there who were now its enemies might soon become its chief supporters; and that the time might speedily come when this irratitution should again resume its former usefulness.

After the prayer, the audionce united in singing a hymn, after which the Secretary. Mr. John Wansmaker, read the minutes of the last stated meeting of the Association, which, with a slight amendment, were adopted. THE ESSAY. THE ESSAY.

The Rov. Mr. Cornell then read the concluding part of his paper on "The Life and Character of Amos Lawrence," the former part of which was read at a previous meeting. He prefaced it by expressing his thanks to the Chair, and through him to the Association, for this privilege of presenting his views of a man with whom he had been intimate in life, and for whom he entertained the highest regard.

In 1833, the health of Mr. Lawrence was quite feeble, and he rode much on horseback. He frequently asject.
