The minutes of the preceding day were read and	the public is led into this error is owing to the isoth that they forget that the discount on the 5s of 1871 is to be regained in ten years, and on the 1874s in thirteen years; whilst on the 6s of 1881 it is distributed over twenty years. In the two first instances the holder recovers about 2½ and 2 per cent annually; whilst on the 6s his annual provata is only about 1½ per cent. Thus the 5s, in consequence of having less time to run to maturity, get paid annually in one case, ½ per cent., and the other 1 per cent. more than the 6s do. Thus what is lost in the rate of interest is partially regained in the proportion of discount.
