FROM HAMMOND ENCAMPMENT.

[Correspondence of The Press.] NEAR FALLS CHURCH, VA., August 15, 1862. At last, order is being restored out of chaos, and the beautiful encampment of our mammoth hospital presents a cheering aspect, although there are hundreds of sick around us. In the humane care of Surgeon T. E. Mitchell, (who was taken prisoner at Front Royal, while in the performance of his duties, amid the contest of the two Maryland regiments-let Maryland, Secesh, and Ist Maryland, Union-of which he was at that time surgeon,) together with his aids, the sufferings of the sick and wounded will be ameliorated. have an efficient corps of surgeons and assistants, among whom, I may mention the names of Dr. W. A. Banks, of Maine, formerly in charge of the hospitals at Warrenton, Va., and a worthy gentleman he is found to be, in his intercourse with his patients and the visiting civilian; Drs. Draine, Owens, Dorsey, McKimm, and Carrier, and Cadet Abner Thorp, all in the superlative, as regards the performance of their onerous duties, and entitled to the rraise of the country, as their untiring efforts speak of their devotion to the cause of life and liberty, to the brave soldiers now prostrate in "Hammond Encampment." But one week has passed since the major portion of the invalids were at the Warrenton general hospitals, and the conveyance of the sufferers to their present home has been accomplished without the loss of a man. Out of one thousand patients—and NW. many of them typhoid cases—we bury but few. We are now preparing for the reception of the wounded who may be unfortunate enough to be orippied in the present strife in the vicinity of Culpeper Court House. A visitor could spend several days with pleasure, in viewing the various departments of this establishment—one, if not the largest in the Union, and, perhaps, the most advantageous to the soldier, whose "life in the tented and the country of the field?" requires plenty of air—and is more like a soldier's home than within the walls of a house or ordinary hospital. The selection of the site displays a sound judgment, and to compliment the entire force now engaged in the different departments, from the surgeon in charge to the minor offices performed, is due to all, as each has earned high Prise. The appearance of the camp partakes much of that of a busy town, for there are hundreds of kind administrants who give, temporarily, aid in soothing the fevered pillows of the various wards. We says a fund of nurses, male, and female, who are untiring in their efforts to baffle the presage of typhoid fever cases. I have been thoroughly cogof little attention on the part of surgeons. This comes from want of experience in this particular branch of the service; because, forsooth, a powder or pill is prescribed to an invalid in an early stage of his disease, with a repetition there will be, in a majority of cases, a disposition manifested to use judgment against the surgeon, by his patient. I mention this fact that, should it be patieshed, the friends and relatives of soldiers in hospitals may feel confident that letters from hospital are written with a desire to magnify; and as there are many invalids here from the 90th and as there are many invalids here from the 90th P. V., of Philadelphia, they are hereby assured that I have witnessed the most kindly attentions disseminated, not only to those of the 90th Regiment, P. V., but to every sick soldier within the pale of 't Hammond Hospital Encampment,' no matter from what part of the Union.

Being a convalescent in this hospital, I speak not from any but proper motives. That I have reaped the benefit of mast generous attentions is evened. the benefit of most generous attentions is evinced in the fast that, but a few days ago, I was on the list of dangerous cases. This is a lengthy epistle in regard to a hospital, but for the reason that many of the sick and convalescing come from the "Quaker City,"
I have felt it but just to award "honor to whom honor is due." I have not time to mention, only at a glance, the surrounding prominent spots of this

Let the friends of the sick be assured that the attentions to all under medical treatment are munificent. Good Samaritans, from various States, have been true to their trusts, and have disseminated the stores of sanitary commissions in their charge, showing that the kindness of friends at home was bounteous. Boxes, bales, caps, jars, &c., have been distributed to the sick, and the delicacies highly appreciated by the recipients of the luxuries. J. T. H. by the recipients of the luxuries.

A Letter from the Hospitals at Calpeper. WASHINGTON, August 21, 1862. To the Editor of The Press: SIR: Although the subjoined letter was not written for publication, I have secured permission to so dispose of it. I was anxious to lay it before your readers for the reason that it alludes to the distribution of goods, and the expenditure of money, put in the hands of Mrs. Senator Harlan, by the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Relief Association, in which you have taken great interest, to which the generous people of our State have liberally given, and which I hope they will continue to endow. Following is the letter: CULPEPER, VIRGINIA, August 18, 1862. Mr. D. L. Eaton, Charman of Finance Committee Pennsylvania Soldiers' Relief As-sociation — DRAR SIR: About midnight, on Wednesday night, after we left Alexandria, Mrs. Fales and I arrived at this place with our stores. We received your boxes and a keg of choice butter.

The boxes were filled with the very things most needed. In addition to the stores sent me from other societies and individuals, I bought in Washington and Alexandria a large amount of supplies, which I took with me, and have since sent down for more, by a register of the stores are the supplier. for more, by a special messenger to Alexandria. I have thus made the best investment possible of the money placed in my hands by your society and others, adding all I had with me from my private others, adding all I had with me from my private purse, after seeing what was most needed for the sick and wounded. Mrs. Fales brought with her a large quantity of stores, received from her friends East, and purchased by her husband in the city. Nothing could have been more timely than the arrival of these goods. There is, doubtless, always great confusion after a great battle. It was certainly so here. There seemed to be great difficulty in getting supplies in time through regular chanin getting supplies in time through regular channeis.

The room assigned us for our headquaters was in an old carriage-shop. Another room, in the same building, was used as the principal amputation room; and still others were filled with patients. None of these sick rooms had any surgeon or office to provide for them. There was a great scarcity of the most common articles for us. These hospi-tais, when we arrived, were destitute of buckets, brooms, pans, &c., and food for the sick and wounded men to eat. I made requisitions, on the strength of the papers furnished me by the Government, which the proper officers promptly honored. This timely assistance, with the stores we had under our personal control, enabled us to furnish partial relief to about fourteen hundred in and around these hospitals. But our best goods are nearly all exhausted; while I write, however, we hear that exhausted; while I write, however, we near that the good people have sent us more, which are now at the depot. I do not yet know who to thank for this timely aid. We also expect a shipment to-day from Alexandria, purchased there by our day from Alexandria, purchased there by our messenger.

When we first arrived we were not provided with a guard. We did not make a requisition for one, because we feared if we attracted the attention of the superior officers from their immediate duties, we might be the cause of more damage than we could do good. As soon as the poor hungry officers and men (for they seemed all to fare about allke) saw our stores, the rush was so great as to overwhelm us. They thought we were some kind of sutlers or eating-house keepers. I pitted them from the bottom of my heart. But we could do nothing in such a jam of hungry men. So we picked up a gun that happened to be in our rooms, handed it to a soldier and ordered him to stand guard, and keep the crowd away, which he did as promptly as if he had been ordered to do so by Gen. Halleck himself, the officers and men respecting him in this position as deferentially as if he had been placed on this duty-by the regular officer of the day.

ment we had prepared for him, he said to Mrs. Fales and me, speaking with the greatest difficulty, "I will be the friend of your husbands as long as I live, and you, Cap," turning to Captain Hodge, "may God bless you; I will never forget you." As we were bending over another, a private who had been mortally wounded in the head, trying to stop the flow of blood from the wound, he looked up at us and said in a plaintive voice, "How good it looks to see women; it makes me think of my mother and home." He inquired; "What are your names?" When we told him he remarked, "I am done with this, but I will remember you in another world." He was bleeding to death, and expired in fifteen minutes afterwards.

Although it seems to do the sick men good to see ladies—and doubless women can do many things for the sick better than men can—yet, I am sorry to say; many who are admitted to the hospitals are perfectly worthless. They have not sense enough to take care of themselves at home, much less to take care of the sick in the army. They require more waiting on ten times over than all they do is worth. They try the patience of the officers beyond measure, and I am not surprised that they should feel annoyed often on that account, to see women coming within the lines. We had a sample of them quired if they had come as nurses. "Ne" was their answer. Well, we continued, what is the object of your visit? They replied, "To look after the sick and superintend." I need hardly add that such women are werse than useless. In the place of helping others the men are worn out waiting on them. A large number of the women, officers' wives, surgeons' wives, sanitary women, and so-called nurses, whom I have seen within the lines, I are compalled to believe go to be waited on and called nurses, whom I have seen within the lines, I am compelled to believe go to be waited on and not to help the suffering. We want workers; women who, like Mrs. Fales, have sense enough to take care of themselves, and the strongh and nobleness of heart to wait on the sick. It is wonderful to see how much Mrs. Fales performs. Commencing with the beginning of the war, she has been going constantly day and night, and still holds out as vigorously as ever. You cannot entrust your goods to safer hands than hers. goods to safer hands than hers.

Please pardon me for writing five times as much Please pardon me for writing are times as much as I intended when I commenced, and allow me to thank you and the society for the valuable donations of money and goods, admirably selected, which you placed in my hands for the sick soldiers. I have, as far as possible, carried out your instructions in their distribution.

Yours truly, MRS. JAMES HARLAN. THE CITY.

ENN MEETING OF THE BRECKINRIDGE DE-MOCRACY.—A meeting of the Breckinridge Democracy was held on Saturday evening in Independence Square. Owing to the fact that a rumor had gone abread that the authorities intended to suppress the meeting, and that a "row" was anticipated, numbers were attracted to the place through curiosity-and, altogether, the attendance was fair. The original call for the meeting was to maintain the national Constitution, and to declare "hostility to the policy and measures of all who seek to prostitute the country to the purposes of Abelitionism, and to express the intention of the Democratic party to do as it has always hitherto done-support the Federal Government in the exercise of its constitutional power, and to defend it, at whatever peril, against the insidious and treasonable teachings of Abolitionism." Within a few days since, owing to serious objections being made by a majority of the different wards to the above call, the following additional sentence was added, "As well as to aid it with all our physical resources in suppressing the existing rebellion now waged by the

Notwithstanding that the call had been altered, enly seven wards out of the twenty-five participated in the neeting. But one stand was erected, and was decorated with the American colors. Those of the ward associations that made their appearance were accompanied by bands of music and carried transparencies. Shortly after 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by F. W. Hughes, Esq., Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, who, after reading from a printed slip a carefully written speech, proposed as officers of the meeting, for President, Hon. Peter McCall; for Vice Presidents, Alderman William McMullen, Folyard E. Degan, Henry A. Gildes, Thomas O'Rourke, Charles E. Helfricht, Josiah Bandall, and about a hun-The speaking then commenced. The "nigger" and abolitionism" were well discussed, and occasionally the subject of "secessionism" would be touched upon. The following are the resolutions adopted by the meeting: A period of unparalleled calamity now afflicts the Nation. The patriotism of the whole land is evoked for its removal, and for the preservation of the Government. Opuses, wide-spread and deep, must be removed from the body politic before a state of former healthfulness can be restored. Sectional parties, North and South, culminating in civil war, lay at the foundation of our troubles. nating in civil war, lay at the foundation of our troubles. The existence of the Nation depends upon their extermination. These sectional parties are known as Abolitionists and Secessionists, and, together, they constitute the enemies of the Republic. The loyal, patriotic men of the Nation are those who oppose both these sectional parties, and who seek to uphold the National Constitution and the Union of these States. The Secsadonists, by armed rebellion, seek to overthrow the Constitution, the Union, and the whole sovereignty of the Government. These should be resisted, and put down by force of arms, wently bridge and undreds of thousands of our best citideavor, by the to the battle-field. The Abolitionists ento destroy our CD- Queeptive; and treacherous means, overthrowing, in detailly—and thereby the Union, by Constitution, and without white-tal provisions in that exist. These enemies should be put the Government can box. We, therefore, the loyal men of Philadelphis, in meeting assembled, announce the following propositions as the basis of future political action:

1. That the American Constitution and the American Union are tione and inseparable," and the enemies of either are the enemies of both.

2. That it is the first duty of all good citizens to uphold

2. That it is the first duty of all good citizens to uphold the Government and obey the laws, and that all efforts to these ends will receive an enthusiastic support; and that we will he das enemies of the Republic all who, by word or deed, encourage or sympathize with either Abolitonists or Secasionist, and that we will cheerfully render to the officers of the Government, acting within their constitutional powers, all the resources at our command to extinguish these two elements of destruction to the existence of our free institutions.

3. That we regard all efforts at the suppression of the freedom of speech and of the press, to prevent the people from peaceably assembling, all arrests and imprisonment of citizens where the courts are open and the civil power in full vigor, without warrant, without cannell, without a trial in the State or District where any alleged offence has been committed, as in derogation of the great fundamental principles of civil liberty and a plain violation of the terms and provisions of the Constitution of the United States. mental principles of civil fiberty and a plain violation of the terms and provisions of the Constitution of the United States.

4. That we agree with the Congressmen from the Border slave States, that "the lever of the power" of the rebellion, and the cau-es of the terrible earnestness of those in arms against the Government, is to be found in the doctrines subversive of the principles of the Constitution, and the measure after measure founded in substance on those doctrines proposed and carried through "by the present Congress," which can have no other effect than to disturb and divide loyal men, and exasperate and drive still farther from us and their duty the propose of "the recellious States;" and that all efforts to prostitute this war for the mere purpose of negro emancipation is in the highest degree treasonable and subversive of the Constitution and the Union.

5. That we hold that the greatest calemity that can possibly befall the people of this country to be the dissolution of the American-Bnion. The mutual interchange of commodities and products of the North, South, Eastand West, give employment to our people and afford the best of markets for our products. Our great lakes and rivers are so located and have such outlets and dependencies that no geographical partition of our territory is practicable. The national glories of the past, the greatness of the present, the hopes and prospects in the future, are all destroyed by disunion, while the want of hemogenity of interests in a mere fraction of: this Union, the sectional rivairy that would be likely to grow up to give preference to great commercial centres and distributing points at the cost of others, to control or to have even and equal rivairy in markets for our manufactures and products of our mines and our soil, our exposure to border wars, the cost of maintenauce of large standing armies, the weight of public indebtedness, would constitute causes of irritation and enriles to the preservation of the Union as the only possible event to which the p any law relative to our military organization and equip-ment should be wholly discountenanced. ment should be wholly discountenanced.

7. That we approve of the platform of principles declared by the Democratic State Convention, which assembled at Harrieburg on the Fourth of July last.

8. That we approve of the address of the Democratic State Central Committee iesued upon the 29th of July last, as a faithful and co-rect exposition of the causes that have led to our present difficulties, and as designating the only feasible mode of relief therefrom; and that we further approve of and enderse the sentiments contained in the address of the Chairman of that Committee issued on the fourteenth of August, instant, and we heartly unite with him in recommending that the people of Penn sylvania set apart the seventeenth of September next to commemorate the adoption of the Constitution of the

9. That the Democratic party is pledged, as it always has been, to the support of the Federal Government in the energetic prosecution of the war for the suppression of the rebellion in the Seuthern States, in order that the Constitution may be preserved and the Union restored.

10. That our Democratic brethren, McClellan, Halleck, Buller, Dix, McClermand, Geary, Logan, Hancock, Corcoran, Meagher, McCliermand, Geary, Logan, Hancock, and Burneide, as well as the tens of theusands in the ranks who are members of our party, and the soldiers of the Union army generally, of whatever political faith, deserve our warmest thanks for the sacrifices by which they have illustrated their devotion to the cause of the Speeches were also made by Messrs: McCa'l, William H. We have kept our little stove, which we brought with us, constantly hot cooking little things for the slock, for many of the hospitals have nothing to cook in, and Gen. Pope's order has been content manded. No one is allowed to send and get a thing from the rebels. I do not wish to stated any about to Dr. Rauch, the medical director here. He has just been appointed; is young, but has had large experience, and infusing his own spirit and humanity into all around him. The medical prover to scource the necessary supplies.

Some of the surgeons here worked in the amprivation rooms forty-eight hours, day and night, with nothing to eat but a hard cracker and a cup of coffee. Their self-searificing devotion to the wounded men deserves the highest praise. We see many includes here which are painful in the extreme; but I suppose these things must be expected in war.

We had notes, late last night, from the medical director, requesting us to prepare something for special cases. We had been occupied till a late hour removing our stores, etc., from the ampritating hospital to a tent kindly prepared for us by General Green, near his own headquarters, he and the officers of his staff learning that we had all become sick from the stench arising from the ammutation room, captain Hodge, the chief quartermaster, and an lonest and humane regular army officer, accompanied Mrs. Fales and myself on our mission. It was truly affecting to see how grateful they all were for the smallest attention. ENTIRELY NEGLECTED.—The United States military hospital at Hestonville, Twenty-fourth ward, seems to be entirely neglected by our patriotic ladies. The institution contains over two hundred patients, and is under the charge of a skilful surgeon, but is in want of many articles such as are now supplied to the other hospitals by our patriotic ladies. The Hestonville hospital, on account of its distant location, has no doubt been everlooked. It is a fine place, and well worth a visit.

John Walker Jackson for the benefit of the Catherine-street Hospital, being the proceeds of a fair held by the Missey Mary and Sallie Mekcal, aged respectively eight and nine years, at the residence of their parents, No. 602 Pine street.

OUR MILITARY ARTICLE. Saturday was the last day allowed for volunteers for new regiments who could receive the Government bounty, and it was generally expected that there would be a grand rush made to the different reconsiting rendezvous, but such was not the case. During the early part of the week enlistments were very brisk, and the mustering officers were quite busy, as on an average 300 men were mustered in daily. daily.

As the despatch from Harrisburg on Saturday announced there would be no modification of the order which required all incomplete regiments to be consolidated after the 23d of August, and superfluous officers mustered out of the service, the absorbing question among soldiers is in relation to the fate of the new organizations.

It is not known which regiments will be, the fortunate ones, but it is supposed those nearest full will retain their organization. The Corn Exchange seems to take the lead, and now has nearly its full complement. The Scatt Legion comes next in order in the number of men, while the regiments of Cols Collis, Heenan, Biddle, and Ellander or filling un rapidly.

lead, and now has nearly its full complement. The Scatt Legion comes next in order in the number of wen, while the regiments of Cols Collis, Heenan, Biddle, and Ell-maker are filling up rapidly.

The total number of men already mustered into service is between five and six thousand, and, judging from the slim rate of enlistments in the past few days, the prospects of filling the quota from Philadelphia without a resort to a draft are unfavorable.

Oredit is given for all the volunteers, under all the calls, in excess of the quota, and as Philadelphia largely exceeded her share under the first call for 500,000 troops, we shall not have as many men to furnish under the recent calls. The recruits for old regiments will continue to receive the full bounty, until the first of September. In consequence of a mustering officer being stationed at Philadelphia no more delays will now take place, and the recruits joining a regiment in the field may rely upon-receiving the entire amount of bounty immediately upon being inspected and mustered into service. A Recruits Barracka has been established in a large building on ewanson street, above Washington. The humber of recruits quartered there, on Saturday, was upwards of a hundred. As fest as uniformed they will be sent off to the different regiments in the field. While at the rendezvous, the men will be provided, with good rations by W. H. Dennie, who has been long attached to one of the Refreshment Saloons. The building is well situated for ventilation. It is 147 feet long, and 37 feet wide. The officers' quarters, for the transaction of business, are on the second floor. The third story has been fitted up with double bunks, sufficient in number to lodge two hundred and fifty men. Bathing tubs are also placed in a thed in the yard adjoining, for the convenience of the recruits.

He gave his full consent to the enlistment. Judge Ludlow said this was a question between the Government and the father, who had the legal control over the boy.

The Judge then explained to the lad that as he was under 18 years of age, he could be released if he desided it.

The boy in response said he wished to go, and the Judge remanded him to the custody of his captain.

A CASE OF NEGLECT.—An interesting fact has just been developed, which is calculated to wound the feelings of all who sympathize with the brave soldiers who have battled for the Union in this terrible rebellion. A habeas corpus case was heard before Judge Ludiow, on Saturday afternoon, where the statement that some of our soldiers have not been properly treated at the Fifth and Buttonwood-streets. Hospital seemed to be very well authenticated by Dr. Bournonville, the surgeon in charge of the place. The case came up as follows: Mrs. Hoover made application for the discharge of her son, Harry, from his emistment. He entered the ranks of the 23d Pennsylvania Regiment about a year ago, and was then only sixteen years of age. He was at the battles of Williamsburg, Fair Osks, and also in all the beattles of Williamsburg, Fair Osks, and also in all the beattles of Williamsburg, Fair Osks, and lass in all the beattles of Williamsburg, Fair Osks, and lass in all the beattles of Williamsburg, Fair Osks, and lass in all the beattles of Williamsburg, Fair Osks, and lass in all the bournowille, the surgeon in charge of the hospital, was called to the stand. What is the character of his disease? Answer, General debility. Q. Is he very much so? A. Well, he has a pass to go out of the hospital daily. Q. Do you hink he will regain his health? A. I do; it will take some little time to regain it. Q. What is the matter with his leg? A. I do not know; I was not aware that there was anything the matter with it till this morning.

Judge Ludiow, upon his hearing the statement, at once made an order of court discharging the youth from his enlistment, and rectored him to the care of his mother. A CASE OF NEGLECT.—An interesting

The old copper roof has been removed and replaced by one of tin. The copper covered about 155,000 square feet, and was valued at $31,500. A large number of fire plugs have been placed around the outside of the buildings for their better protection. We noticed also that several additional gas lamps had been placed on the avenue.

The clinic lecture room has been removed from the insane department, and a new one erected in the yard behind the drug store. It is shout fifty feet square, and is said to be one of the most commodious in the United States. The room formerly occupied by the clinic in the insane department has been floored over, and an additional ward for 100 immstes constructed there. The second eftery is used for physicians' offices and for a lecture room and church purposes. The wharf on the premises has been put in thorough repair, and it is expected that large numbers of wounded soldiers will be landed there. New flooring has been put down in the out-wards and kitchens, and the fences around the property have been repaired. The work on the Unitdren's Asylum is progressing slowly. The average weekly, cost of maintenance has, until lately, been $1.07 for each individual in the house. The farm and garden appear to be in splendlid order at present.

Of shade trees there are nearly 500 on the premises. The superintendent of the gardens of the insane department serves in the double capacity of nurse and gardens. His men, all of them insane, are employed more with the view of giving them heathful exercise and engaging their minds in rational thought than with the hope of turning their labor to profitable account.

Two hundred gallons of wine were made from grapes grown on the premises last year, and this year it is thought the yield will be much larger.

It is 15 cmarkable fact that the population in the outwards has decreased of late years, believed to be from the fact that many of the idle, victous, and disorderly vagrants who have been accustomed to make the Almshouse their home during the winter season, now avoid it, knowing that if admitted they will be compelled to labor for their own support.

worth. They try the patience of the officers beyond measure, and I am not surprised that they should feel annoyed often on that account, to see women coming within the lines. We had a sample of them yesterday morning. An officer came to our door at an early hour with a couple of ladies, and requested us to provide for them; as they had been riding in the cars for some hours, without anything to eat. We had but one plate, one knife, one tin cup left, having given everything else to the [hospitals. We, however, prepared food and fed them. We then asked the ladies if they had brought hospital goods to distribute. They said "No." We interest that the died shortly afterwards.

MEDICINAL. WONDERFUL SCIENTIFIC DIS-

WALNUT STEERT, PHILAD ELPHIA.

RRAD THE FULLOWING CARREVILLY.

The difference between fact and faction, of permanently ouring the sick and suffering of their diseases, or savertising to cure, and showing but little or no evidence of cures, can be well appreciated by the auxious inquirars after health, upon attentively reading the following synopsis of certificates from some of the most reliable gentiemen in Philadelphia, who were permanently cured by Prof. BOLLES, 1220 WALNUT street, and after they had been given up as incurable by the most eminent medical men of this city:

The following is a statement of facts in reference to my condition and astonishing cure of Epilepsy:

For five years previous to my knowledge of Prof. C. M. Bolles' discovery of the therapeutic administration of Galvanism, Magnetism, and other modifications of Electricity for the cure of all acute and chronic diseases, I had been severely affliced with Epilepic Fits of the most obstinate character, and had abandoned all hopes of ever being cured, as I had for years tried the treatment and received the counsel of the most eminent Medical Men of the State, with a view of obtaining relief if any ceuld be found among the Old Schools; but all my efforts were unavalling, and, therefore, all hopes were abandoned, as I then knew of no greater skill for the cure of obstinate cases than in the Old Schools. About six months ago my mind was turned to investigate the new discovery of Prof. C. H. Bolles, 1220 Walnut stroot, and, after noticing several sertificates of cures which were published, and some from persons with whom I was acquainted and knew them to be reliable men, I was induced to give me a written warrantee of a complete cure, and, in case of a failure, to charge me nothing. This at first seemed an impossibility; but the frankuess and earnestness of the Professor convinced me of his scientific accursoy in the disgnosis of my case. He disclosed all my sufferings and symptoms for five years past as well as I knew them myself. I will here state mere than four months have elapsed since my cure, and I have had no symptoms, and, therefore, feel confident that I sm cured. I shall take pleasure in being referred ot at any time by any one suffering as I was, and any information of my condition previous to my cure will be freely given to any one at 1642 North Thirteenth street, Philadelphia.

The repugnance of most patients to COD-LIVER OIL, and the inability of many to take it at all, has induced various forms of disguise for its administration that are familiar to the Medical Profession. Some of that are familiar to the Medical Profession. Some of them answer in special cases, but more often the vehicle neutralizes the usual effect of the Oil, proving quite as unpalatable and of less therapentic value. The repugnance, nausea, &c., to invalids, induced by disgust of the Oil, is entirely obviated by the use of our CAPSULES. OOD-LIVER OIL CAPSULES have been much used lately in Europe, the experience there of the good results from their use in both hospital and private practice, aside from the naturally suggested advantages, are sufficient to warrant our claiming the virtues we do for them, feeling assured their new will result in benefit and

M. B.—It will be well for the diseased to recollect that Prof. B. has given a word of caution in his pamphlet, to guard them against trusting their health in the hands of those in this city claiming to treat diseases according to his discovery. This caution may seem severe on those using Electricity at hazard, but it is the severity of truth, and designed for the good of humanity. See advertisement in another column.

TNITED STATES, EASTERN DIS-TRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA, SCI.
THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, TO THE MARSHAL OF THE EASTERN DISTRICT

TO THE MARSHAL OF THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA, GREETING:

WHEREAS, The District Court of the United States in and for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, rightly and duly proceeding on a Libel, filed in the name of the United States of America, hath decreed all persons in general who have, or pretend to have, any right, title, or interest in the schooner AQUILUA, whereof William H. Ward is master, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, and the goods, wares, and merchandiss laden thereon, captured as a prize of war by the United States gunboat HUEON, under command of Lient. John Downs, to be monished, cited, and called to judgment, at the time and place underwritten, and to the effect hereafter expressed, justice so requiring.) You are, therefore, charged, and strictly enjoined and commanded, that you omit not, but that, by publishing these presents in at least two of the daily newspapers printed and published in the city of Philadelphia, and in the Legal Intelligencer, you do monish and cite, or cause to be monished and cited, peremptorily, all persons in general who have, or pretend to have, any right, title, or interest in the said schooner AQUILLA, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, and the said goods, wares, and merchandise laden on said schooner, to appear before the Hon. John OADWALADER, the Judge of the said court, at the District Court room, in the city of Philadelphia, on the TWENTIETH day after publication of these presents, if it be a courf day, or else on the next court day following, between the usual hours of hearing causes, then and there to show, or allege, in due form of law, a reasonable and lawful excuse, if any they have, why the said schooner AQUILLA, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, and the said goods, wares, and merchandise laden thereon, should not be pronounced to belong, at the time of the capture of the same, to the enemies of the United States, and as goods of their enemies, or otherwise, liable and subject to condemnation, to be adjudged and condemned as goods of their e gether with these presents.
