Those of our readers who have not yet done so have still a rich treat to enjoy in a visit to the Photogra-street. Mr. Knipe is one of the rising young artists of the day, and in some departments of this branch of art is quietly working a desirable revolution. It is already admitted by competent critics that his large-sized pictures, unlouched, are quite as fine, and more life-like than most photographs that are expensively finished. In copying engravings he is also achieving an enviable reputation. IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR THE PUB-LIC.—It has recently been decided by high medical authority that one of the best preventatives of diseases incident to the heated term is the judicious use of pure confections. Persons leaving the city should bear this in mind, and at the same time, remember that by far the purest and richest, most palatable and in all respects most desirable confections made are those manufactured and sold by the great Pio-neer Confectioners of this city, Messrs. E. G. Whit-man & Co., at their popular establishment, No. 318 Chestnut street, next deor to Adams & Co.'s Express.

THE REBEL RAID INTO PENNSYLVANIA has thus far not amounted to much beyond the salu-tary effect of stirring up the patriotism of the peo-ple. It has taught us another lesson, and may result in marked benefit to our cause, but it is very certai that the raid has not interfered in the slightest de gree with the sale of coal at the celebrated yard . ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.-The West Philadelphia Ladies' Association for the relief of the families of soldiers who have failen in battle, ko., gratefully return thanks for the following donations: Fifty dollars from the readings of Mr. Murdoch, per James L. Olaghorn, Esq., through the Association's treasurer; twenty dollars from the Franklin Fire Insurance Company, per the treasurer of the Asso-siation; seven dollars and two cents, the entire proceeds of a fair held iniMantua, West Philadelphia, by very little children, commencing on the 12th inst., and chiefly conducted by Annie Imhoff, Frances Hedenburg, and Annie Brooks-the money transmitted through Mrs. Major Zulich.

SEWING MACHINES.- No article of household use is so much desired as a sewing machine. So rapidly has this invention grown into public favor, that it is now considered almost indispensable to every family. Over a hundred thousand families eady experience its benefits, and each week adds nearly another thousand to the list-and so the ratio of the demand increases in proportion as the ad-vantages of the invention become known. The sewing machine of the present day is not. however, the sewing machine of some years back. Though retaining the first principles, many and valuable inprove-ments have been added, and various modifications and alterations of machinery found necessary to increase the speed and efficiency, render it more simple and noiseless, and adapt it to all the different requirements" of the family and the workshop. parts readily from the berry; quality good: flesh firm. Although the largest of the three, it is also the earliest, intending at the same sine sine sine Jenny Lind and Early Scarlet, and is very productive. The original plant, eighteen months from the time the seeds were sown, produced over 200 perfect berries, averaging from 1 inch produced over 200 perfect berries, averaging from 1 inch to 1% inches in diameter. "The next ripening is called the Moxiron. It is very large, of g dark bright searlet color, approaching a crimison in the sun. Berry very solid and firm, of fine quality; plants very vigorons and productive. This sort will become a great market fruit, the color and shape being very attractive. "The third, from its color and origin, is called the BROOMLYN SCARLET. Although this variety is inferior BROOKINN SCALET. Although this variety is inferior in size to the other two, yet it possesses merits that will always make it a great favorite. Its shape is a regular oblong cone, color the most beautiful bright scalet. Flavor, the very best. We have the unanimous decision of the judges at the great strawberry show the past sea-son at No. 41 Park row. New York, on this point, as they awarded if the first premium over all its numerous competitors. The plax is a very strong and vigorous frower, making monstrous stools the first season, from which an enormous amount of fruit stalks are produced. Add to this its lateness, which assists so much in pro-longing the season of this delicious fruit, and we have in this strawberry something as near perfection as pos-sible, though not as large as the others. Yet this is not small, and among the sorts most cultivated, ranks me-dium to large." small, and should the sorts most childvaled, ranks mo-dium to large." The above descriptions by Mr. Fuller, in addition to all that we have already published, must be sufficient to satisfy all minds that we are offering no trifling prize to our subscribers, as an indication of our good will, and certainly with a hope of their continued good will to us. William S. Carpenter said, in the Farmers' Club, that the Wilson was extensively collivated in this vicinity as a market fruid; and proved very profilable. Of all the strawberries that he has growing, he must continue to give preference to the Col. Ellsworth, one of Mr. Fal-ler's new teedlings, sold to The TRIBURS. The other two are also very fine, and a great acquisition. The Col. Ellsworth and the Brooklyn Scarlet, exhibit-ed by Mr. Fuller, took the prize for the best two quarts at the Brooklyn Horticultural Society Exhibition, June 16 and 17.
