RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE. The Season of Lent-Its Observance rm Lent is from the Saxon lengt meaning to lengthen, and has reference to the lengthening of the days, or spring time. It indidenginening of the dealy spring fast preparatory to the rising of Christ from the grave. The blissful hopes of the Resurrection throws in a chastened light over the dark days of repentance and shame. WHEN LENT BEGINS. The time when Lent begins is determined by reckoning backwards forty days from Easter. excluding the Sundays, which are always feast days and not a part of the great fast. They are like the cases in the de-sert and give relief to the repentant and mournful time. Easter always falls on the Sunday after the first full moon which occurs after the vernal equinox, mencing with the Passover Feast. REASONS FOR LENT. The example and command of our blessed Lord, who, fulfilling all righteousness, "fasted forty days," the practice of His Holy Apostles,' the profitable preceptiand usage of Christs's Church from the beginning, and the adaptation of special seasons of religious discipline to the wants of human nature—these reasons all have peculiar force in these times of suffering by war, of social prodigality and self indulgence for the faithful elservance of the Ash Wednesday is the first day of Lent, and, with the exception of Good Friday and Passion Week, is the most solemn observance of the Christian year. Christ's people then watch and pray with him in the name from the Scriptural association of ashes and sackcloth with a penitant frame. One of the collects peculiarly expressive of the spirit of the season is used every day throughout Lent. In the lines of the two great Prophets, Moses and Elijah, whose experience, as well as their express words, anticipates the personal ministry of the Messiah, we find sanctions for the observance of this season. They fasted forty days. Thus the three great personages who met at the Mount of Transfiguration, in a sublime council on the august mystery of mediation, by which the everlasting redemption of our race was to be ac-complished (Luke ix., 8, &c.), were all our examples In this duty of bodily self-denial. It is one of many impressive evidences of the consistency of the Divine Plan and the unity of the whole Bible. The sacred history before the Great Pascal Lamb suffered was all a typical and moral preparation for that sacrifice. The history of the Church ever since, is a celebration of it. In the Prophets, in the Apostles, in the Church, in the Divine Head himself, the forty days of fasting prepare for the "Passover." The season is specially intended for elf-examination. Each is to find out and acknowledge the plague of his own heart, and must determine in his own heart the kind and measure of his abstinence. The Church of Christ has no law on that matter. The Kingdom does not stand on means and drinks; but on the faith in and obedience. to Christ. These are not perfect when we leave out what he has enjoined. The outward Lent alds the inward. There is no merit in fasting, but "it is good that the heart be established with grace," and one way of so establishing it is to "sanctify a fast." The duties of Lent are embraced in the following 1 A watchful and guarded every day life in reand guarded volumes, including justice, charitableness, kindness, patience, evenness of temper, modesty, and the government of the tongue.

2. Increased time devoted to relicious retirement and the study of God's Word, as well as to active hear evaluance. and the study of God's Word, as well as to active benevolence.

3. Fatthful dally self-examination with reference to personal, domestic, social, and national sin.

4. A strict abatement of all parties of entertainment and public amusements.

5. Self-denial in appetite, dress, and other worldly pleasures, or fasting—bringing under the body—to chasten the spirit and deepen the sense of dependence on God.

6. A frequent, punctual, and reverent attendance at the Sanctuary, seeking the special blessings promised to those who love the Lord's house, and a careful ordering of all arrangements in the family, in business and private affairs, to secure this benefit.

7. A scrupulous economy, with a systematic setting apart in charity of liberal sums, in addition to regular Tenth, which is not a gift, but belongs always to the Lord, for his own use.

Religion art Court—The Princess Louise, of RELIGION AT COURT.—The Princess Louise, of England, was confirmed on Saturday, Jan. 21st, at Whippingham Church, Isle of Wight, by the Archibishop of Canterbury. The services commenced with a hymn. The Archibishop then performed the ceremony, and another hymn was sung, after which the Archibishop delivered a charge. The hymns sung were first, "Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire," &c., and then Boddridge's well-known hymn, "O happy day that fixed my choice," &c. On Sunday morning the princess received the sacrament at the same church, in company with the Queen and Princess Helena. The Princes and Princess Helena. The Princes Helena, and Princess Louise attended the morning service. WESLEYANISM IN CEYLON.—In a letter to the Central, Bishop Thompson says: "The Wesleyan mission to Cevion has cost over $1,000,000. What are the fruits? We quote statistics of the South district only for 1862: Missionaries and assistants, 23; catechists, 6; unpaid teachers. 15; chapels, 43; other preaching places, 29; average congregations—adults, 2,277; children, 1,806; members, 1,986; sohools, 397; scholars, 2,123. There has been, since this report, a small increase. But the influence of the mission is not to be estimated by these figures. Its influence in social progress, in the awakening of mind, in the translation of Scripture, the infusion of a healthy element into the native literature, has been great. It is probably safe to say that 30,000 pupils have been educated at their schools.

The Messas. Hook, of Boston, have just closed THE MESSES. HOOK, of Boston, have just closed a contract to manufacture one of their best organs for the Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, at a cost of $20,000, to be completed January I, 1856. The instrument will rank as the largest but one in this country. $20,000, to be completed January I, 1868. The instrument will rank as the largest but one in this country.

United Prespectation.—Rev. E. Currie and wife, who were recently appointed missionaries to Egypt by the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Prespectation Church, will sail some time in May. It is expected Dr. Dankings in the Edward of Foreign Missions of the United Prespectation. At Mandard speaks of four points which are ready for immediate occupancy by Prespectation in the treaty for immediate occupancy by Prespectation church and parsonage are ready. At Savannah a whole city is accessible. Schools are in operation, and a field of missionary effects awaits some energetic laborer. At Hilton Head, S. C., a Solidiers Home, in a central part of the village, is being fitted up, and the chief of commissary desires that the dining room be used for religious worship. Near to this off of the village, is being fitted up, and the chief of commissary desires that the dining room be used for plantations, which there, also, is a minister of our Diffich in Government employ, who would afford great assistance to a missionary. At Beautort, S. C., a congregation is already gathered, which the good brother who has gathered it will gladly turn over to some Prespectar minister who would enter heartily into the work. Here are intelligent minister of our Church.

[Before Mr. Alderman Welding.] FELL INTO BAD COMPANY.

Three persons were arrested at an early hour yesterday morning, in the vicinity of Sixth street and Market street. They appeared to be drunk. The officer supposing they assumed this character for effect, took the party into custody, and conducted them to the Cherry-street Station-house. Upon searching the prisoners it was ascertained that one of them had a splendid gold watch and penell upon him; also, other articles of value. He gave the name of John D. Newman. The valuable articles found on him were engraved in another name. A letter of introduction from a well-known and highly respectable physician to the Sanitary Commission, recommending the person named as a suitable person in his pocket. This letter was in the same name as that engraved on the watch. Upon being questioned very closely in regard to the possession of the article, he declared he had received them from the gentleman whose name was engraved upon them. He was committed to await a further investigation. The physician who had written the letter of recommendation was sent for. He, stated that the right name of the prisoner was that engraved on the watch and the one given was ficticious. Upon this revelation he was liberated. He is said to be quite a prominent physician from the State of Indians. CAL COLLEGE.

The annual commencement of Jefferson Medical College was held yesterday afternoon, at Musical Fund Hall. Notwithstanding the bad weather the Hall was filled, and the greater portion of the audience were ladies. A fine orchestra was in attendance. Upon the platform were the trustees and faculty of the college.

The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. Jehn Chambers.

Hon. Edward King, president of the college, then conferred the degrees upon the following graduates:
