

LETTER FROM PROF. WEBSTER'S DAUGHTER.

The following letter is published in the Manchester Messenger. It will be read with painful interest.

CAMBRIDGE, April 8th, 1850.

Daniel Marsh, Esq.—Sir,—I this morning received the very kind letter you addressed to me, and which I hasten to answer, to thank you, in the name of my mother, my sisters, and myself, for the true sentiments you entertain respecting my beloved father. You believe him innocent, and you believe what is true. He is the victim of circumstances, a deeply injured man. That he is innocent, we his family know, and nothing on earth will ever take from us this conviction. We have never, from the moment he was snatched from his home, had a shadow of doubt on our minds; and whatever the world may say or do, we shall ever have that feeling to support us. The knowledge of his innocence supported my father during the hours of suffering in the court-room; and it is that gives him and us calmness now, amid the many sources of sorrow that have overwhelmed us.

Far different from what we anticipated, was the result of the trial; for we had been assured throughout the winter that our father could not but be restored to us, and that at the trial he must receive justice for the many wrongs that had been heaped upon him. But justice took from the court-room, and prejudice took her place.

Yet hope still lingers with us, for we trust that the public voice will be raised against gross injustice that has been committed, and will not allow our country to bear such a stigma on her name, such an everlasting stain, as will be that of the sacrifice of one so truly innocent as my father. And if one word from us, sir, can add a feather's weight to the efforts that are being made, oh, may we give you the deep assurance of our hearts, that we feel grateful for the interest that you express and feel, and for what you are doing in our behalf. May God, in his infinite mercy, look down upon you, and bless the efforts that are being made; and if it is not his will to bring the truth to light, and to allow this awful mystery to be explained, may he enlighten the minds of those into whose hands the case will pass.

I must again thank you, sir, for the kind feeling you express towards my dear father. Nothing that the world can do now gives us greater consolation than the knowledge that others believe him innocent. Sympathy has flowed abundantly from many hearts towards us, his family; but how much more prized by us, is that sympathy, when expressed for him! That our beloved father may be restored to us, is the fervent prayer of our hearts; and we wait tremblingly in the hope, that those who are now to decide in this case may see the terrible injustice that has been committed, and has inflicted so much suffering on so many.

Believe me, sir, gratefully yours, HARRIET W. WEBSTER.

SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.

We are indebted to James Sinclair, Esq., for the following extract from a letter to him from A. McDermot, dated Selkirk's Colony, Feb. 13, 1850.

"A packet has just arrived from McKenzie's River, which brings news that the ship that went in search of Captain Franklin is wintering in McKenzie's River. This packet is sent post haste by the States. It is thought the Captain is still alive.

"Sir John Richardson and Mr. Bell are to leave this in a few days, taking with them all the men except eight, two of whom are to remain here during the summer, whilst the other six are to accompany me down the Coppermine to the Polar Sea; when, I hope, if the season proves favorable, to add a little to the chart of these regions.

"Mr. Sinclair has also kindly favored us with an extract from a letter from John Rae, dated at Fort Confidence, 20th April, 1849. The writer is attached to the expedition of Sir John Richardson, and his account of the very favorable weather during the winter of 1848-9, leaves reason to hope that the search for Sir John Franklin was prosecuted under the most favorable circumstances, and as we have reason to hope, with success.

"Mr. Rae says:

"The weather here has been very fine compared with the experience of Dease and Sinclair; there have not been eight days during the last six months so stormy as to prevent travelling. We have had an excellent house to live in, with an abundance of wood and venison, and very fine fish, as much as we could consume, with a large stock on hand, in the store at present.

"When the packet arrived here I was absent, at the Kondia River, with the first portion of stores and provisions for the summer's consumption, but returned two days after. A great number of deer were seen, all migrating northward."—St. Louis Intelligencer, April 5.

THE AMERICAN. SUNBURY. SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1850. H. B. MASSER, Editor and Proprietor.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The circulation of the Sunbury American among the different towns on the Susquehanna, is not exceeded if equalled by any paper published in North-east Pennsylvania.

THE LIST OF LETTERS is published in this paper, in accordance with the law requiring them to be published in the paper having the largest circulation.

An apprentice to the Printing business wanted at this office. A good boy of about 14 or 15 years would find a good situation.

PRESS FOR SALE.—As we have enlarged our paper we offer for sale a good second handed Washington Iron Press, the same on which the American was formerly printed. The plate measures 21 by 30 inches full. It will be sold simply because we have no further use for it.

FRUIT TREES.—Persons in want of a few good peach, apricot and apple trees, can be supplied by calling soon on the editor of this paper, who has received a small lot, part of which will be sold at reasonable prices.

THE WEATHER.—This is an everlasting theme in conversation as well as in newspapers, but it is one in which we all feel an interest. Thus far we have had a cold Spring. April has been less pleasant than February, and unless we soon have a change, vegetation will be, in some degree, affected. Grain already, in some places, assumes a yellowish hue. We trust, however, that a change will soon take place and that we shall have no occasion to exclaim in the language of one of our poets, that

Winter lingers like the lap of May."

ADJOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.—We inadvertently stated last week that the Legislature had resolved to adjourn, on the 16th inst. We intended to say the Senate. The House has taken no action on the motion yet, and will not, we presume, until the apportionment bill is passed.

JUDGES OF THE SUPREME COURT.—We see a number of gentlemen of high legal attainments named as candidates for Judges of the Supreme Court. The Philadelphia Times contains a list with the name of the Hon. John M. Reed, at the head.

THE SUNBURY FERRY ON THIS SIDE HAS PASSED INTO THE HANDS OF MR. HENRY BUCHER, who has taken the lease of Mr. Speese. Mr. Lenthart still continues on the other side. They are both careful and attentive men, and well provided with excellent crafts. The ferrage on two horse teams has been reduced 12 cents.

THE POST OFFICE ADVERTISING.—The following editorial curiosity we extract from the Sunbury Gazette of last week:

"It is necessary for him to prove by oath, in compliance with the statute, that his paper has the largest number of subscribers, before he can enjoy the much desired privilege of publishing the list of letters. He has taken no oath whatever, as far as we know; therefore the folly of his asserting 'that American' on account of his having the largest circulation. If it is published there, it will be done gratuitously, as it was done last week, for the purpose of deluding the public into the belief that his paper exceeds ours in circulation."

Our readers probably may be surprised, (if any thing coming from the Gazette can surprise them) to learn that there is not a word of truth in the above. If the sapient youth, who occasionally figures as editor, had, as he ought to have done, informed himself, before he undertook to refute what he calls "unsubstantiated assertion," he might have learned from our worthy P. M., that two affidavits, sworn to by hands in our office, were presented to her, certifying the number of copies of the "American," issued from our office, with a request to furnish us with the list of letters, which we demanded according to law, unless the Gazette would satisfy her that their circulation was equal to the "American." A few days after, the list was handed to us for publication. If the Gazette is anxious to know why they also received the list, we will explain the mystery. We repeat that the list will hereafter appear in our paper unless the Gazette will prove their circulation equal to ours, of which we have not the slightest apprehension. Let the Gazette make the necessary affidavits and thus settle the matter, if they have the courage to do so.

In regard to the Democracy of our papers, we will leave the local advertising of our columns decide which is best appreciated. We are perfectly satisfied with the cream, and with the kindest wishes for our neighbors of the Gazette, hope they may grow fat on the skim milk.

Francis H. Elmore, Esq., has been appointed by the Governor of South Carolina, U. S. Senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Calhoun.—Mr. Elmore has accepted the appointment.

UNION TIMES.—The partnership of Baum & Winters has been dissolved. The Times will be hereafter conducted by Mr. Baum alone. Friend Baum has our best wishes for his success.

Senator Rus has introduced a bill to reduce the rates of postage to two cents on all letters not exceeding a half ounce. In the House, we believe, the Committee has reported a bill to reduce the rates to five cents on all letters. Neither of these bills makes any provision for the free circulation of newspapers for a limited distance, and without this provision the country cares but little for the bill. To them the newspaper postage is of much more importance.

Mr. Dodge, of Wisconsin, thought a Committee of Investigation ought to be appointed. He stated that he had known Mr. Benton thirty-five years, and never knew him to carry arms.

Mr. Benton, (in his seat, still much agitated,) never! never!

Mr. Dodge moved that a committee of seven be appointed to investigate the subject. It was a duty to the Senate and the country.

Mr. Clay expressed the hope that Mr. Benton and Mr. Foote would go before a magistrate, or else in the presence of the Senate, pledge themselves not to commit a breach of the peace, in the further prosecution of this affair.

Mr. Benton—I have done nothing to authorize a charge of intention to commit a breach of the peace, and I will not in jail before I give a promise by which I admit such a thing—even by implication.) I carry no arms, sir, and its lying and cowardly to insinuate any thing of the kind against me.

Mr. Clay said his suggestion had no reference to the past, but to the future.

Mr. Foote said he was a constitution loving and law-abiding man. He only wore arms when he had reason to believe he was in danger of being attacked. He preferred another method of settling difficulties, and had always left the door inside, open, in order to avoid the necessity for any other mode of settlement then referred to. He declared that he had no design of proceeding further in the immediate controversy which had occurred, but intimated that as a man of honor, he felt bound to take the proceedings elsewhere.

Mr. Benton greeted the last remark with a contemptuous laugh—loud enough to be heard throughout the chamber.

After some further debate, a motion to appoint a committee, was agreed to, and before any further action was had, the Senate adjourned.

Death of the Clerk of the House of Representatives. WASHINGTON, April 14.

The remains of Mr. Campbell, late Clerk of the House of Representatives, were this morning put on board of the Southern boat, and will be taken to Knoxville, Tenn., for interment. Hon. Josiah M. Anderson, of Tenn., and a son of the deceased have the body in charge.

Mr. Campbell's death will be announced in the House to-morrow, and on Tuesday an election will take place to fill the vacancy.—Prominent among the candidates is James C. Walker, the present reading Clerk; Col. John W. Forney, Albert Smith of Maine, St. Clair Clark, and Gen. Woolbridge.

THE LEGISLATURE. HARRISBURG, April 16. SENATE.

On motion of Mr. Streeter, the bill annulling the marriage contract between Edwin Forrest, and Catharine his wife, was taken up. Mr. Brooke opposed the bill, in the course of which he paid the very equivocal compliment to members of the Legislature.

He was followed by Mr. Walker, who produced copies of the Police Gazette, to substantiate charges which he made in reference to the friends of Mr. Forrest.

Mr. Mullenberg continued the defence of Mr. Forrest in a concise and masterly argument, when the yeas and nays were called, and resulted as follows: Yeas—15; Nays 18.

The following bills passed finally.—The bill relative to a uniform police system in Philadelphia city and county; the bill incorporating the Mahony and Wisconsin Railroad Company; the bill supplementary to an act revising the militia system.

HOUSE. Bills acted on and passed finally.—A bill supplementary to the act for the continuance and better regulation of the system of education of Common Schools, in which is repealed several important sections of the present school laws.

Mr. Foote expressed his assent to the proposition for investigation, but solemnly protested that he had only armed himself in view of a premeditated attack, against which he had been warned.

Mr. Dodge, of Wisconsin, thought a Committee of Investigation ought to be appointed. He stated that he had known Mr. Benton thirty-five years, and never knew him to carry arms.

LATE FROM ST. LOUIS. Snow Storm at St. Louis.—The trial of Young Montequion—Distress among California Emigrants. St. Louis, April 15, 1850.

We were yesterday visited with a severe snow storm. It commenced about half past eight in the morning, and continued, without interruption, until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The snow was from seven to eight inches deep on a level. To-day the weather is cold, foggy and disagreeable.

The trial of young Montequion is drawing to a close. Mr. Bates commenced his argument for the defence on Saturday. The court room was densely crowded during the day—the seats being occupied by ladies.

Accounts have reached this city from St. Joseph, where several companies of California emigrants are concentrated. Much sickness prevails among them—principally diarrhoea—which has carried off great numbers. The backwardness of the season adds much to their sufferings. Several of the emigrants are returning home.

There are now 117 paupers in the Dauphin county poor house—the youngest three months, the eldest 103 years old.

NEW COUNTERFEITS. Bank of Rondout, New York.—10's altered from 1's and 2's. The genuine 10's have a Vignette figures presenting Liberty and Plenty—the altered are different.

Marine Bank, Baltimore, Md.—10's appearing, vignette figure of a man, one arm resting on a spade, and the other on a jar, from which water is running. Engraved by Durand & Co., New York.

Farmers & Merchants' Bank, Baltimore, Md.—1's spurious. Vignette, Sampson and the Lion; on right end, three large figures in a circle, and on the left a winged boy, floating in the air. Rawdon, Wright & Hatch, New York engravers.

Notes of the Bank of Delaware County, Pa.—altered from 2's to 5's, and circulation. Biennial note describes them:—Vignette of the 2's and altered notes is a female holding in one hand a sickle and in the other a bunch of wheat, at her side a sheaf, plough, &c. On the right end a steamboat and on left, head of John Q. Adams. The true 5's are wholly unlike these.

Counterfeit $5, $10 and $20 notes on the Lancaster (Pa.) County Bank are now in circulation. The cashier of the Lancaster Bank offers a reward of 200 for the detection of the villain or villains who have been mutilating the notes of that institution for the purpose of making additional notes out of the mutilated parts.

THE OLD PINE TREE AT FORT AUGUSTA. 'Tis gone, that old familiar tree, Upon which we loved to gaze, And in our fancy picture o'er, The scenes of former days, No more, sweet suggestions of the wood, Shall find protection there; In vain, the loving herds may search, For their old accustomed lair.

The stately trunk, the spreading boughs, The huge, yet graceful form, Hath bowed to many an angry blast, And many a pelting storm. We loved it, for its memories, A great grandeur placed it there, Near the spot, where dear departed friends, Were laid with tender care.

Like a mighty sentinel it stood, Scared by each gentle blast, 'Twould chant a solemn requiem, As if mourning for the past; The red mans' relics strew the ground, 'Nenth, where its shadow lay, Sad mementos of a powerful race, All, all have passed away.

'Tis gone, that old familiar tree, Beneath whose ample shade, The weary oft have sought repose, And the sportive flocks have played. A pleasing melancholy reigns, Around that sacred spot, Hallowed by kindred ties removed, Beyond the range of thought. I. Sunbury, April 9, 1850.

"THEY CAN'T KEEP HOUSE WITHOUT IT!"—A farmer said to us the other day. "I don't think much of quack medicines but there is a medicine that we can't keep house without—and that is Merchant's Gargling Oil. It not only cures all the horres and out door 'critters' but it cures all the indoor 'varmints' too—if any get hurt in any way, or have any pain coming on them, they run for the Gargling Oil, which makes them forget all their trouble."

Much valuable information respecting this wonderful Oil may be obtained by consulting a pamphlet which you may get free of charge of the agent. Sold by H. Masser, Sunbury, and other Druggists in the U. States.

MARRIED. In this place, on Sunday last, by C. Bower, Esq., Mr. GEORGE OLPHANT, to Miss MARGARET MILLER, both of this place.

DIED. In Milton, on the 12th inst., Mr. DANIEL ECKBERT, aged 45 years.
