

Correspondence.

Correspondence of the American. Portsmouth, Va., Nov. 11, 1850. My DEAR AMERICAN:—The elections of the different states with few exceptions being over, and the public mind having had time to feast on the different results, a few lines from an old acquaintance, may be of some interest to your numerous readers.

This section of our country, although within less than 30 hours' travel from Sunbury, is almost unknown to the people of that vicinity. I say almost unknown, because, to myself, it was so much so as to you, until quite recently. We are here on the very margin of the Atlantic Ocean, with but the Hampton Roads between us. Norfolk with a population of 17,000 is situated on the east bank of the Elizabeth river, but seven miles from Hampton Roads. Portsmouth, which is only separated by the river, has a population of over 9000, and within the last three years has been improving and increasing very rapidly. The harbor of this place and between here and the Ocean, is said to be equal to any in the world, and of capacity equal to half the commercial operations of the world. But with all these natural advantages, aided too, by a fine back country for agricultural purposes, I regret to say, the people here are but the customers of other more enterprising sections of the country. This state of things however, will not last long if the present feeling is kept up between the North and the South. People here, although reared in luxurious idleness, are already beginning to take seriously of 'rolling up their sleeves, and going to work.' If they do so, and of which I have not little doubt, the time is not far distant when this place will rank among the most important points of this country.

All that is necessary to make Norfolk and Portsmouth every thing that can be desired, a concentration of capital in the hands of men of business. This will be effected, if not by the 'old inhabitants,' others seeing the advantages of location will settle here, who have both the will and the means to do business. In politics, I presume Pennsylvania is disposed to take a rest of some months before entering on the great race that is to come off '51, and '52. Such too, is the case here. Little is said, but from that little, it is pretty easy to suppose who are the most prominent men of the country. Both General Cass and Mr. Buchanan, have many warm friends in Virginia, but I am inclined to think the choice of Pennsylvania will have considerable influence with the democracy of this state. It is believed here that Pennsylvania will again be the battle ground, and should Mr. Buchanan lose the delegate vote in his own state it would be madness to bring in name before a National Convention. But while Virginia will make no pretensions, at his time, for the Presidency, she has a favorite who is well known to the country as an eminent statesman, that may be brought forward for the second office. That man is ours Y. Mason, Secretary of the Navy; under his immortal Polk. Few men are better known than Judge Mason; no man has more warm friends, and his name would be a tower of strength to whoever may be nominated for the Presidency.

No place at this time offers greater inducements to farmers of either small or great means than this. Lands equal to your fine bottom, can be bought for from five to fifteen dollars per acre, within two or three miles from town! These lands are capable with proper cultivation, of producing abundant crops of every description, and with a market of each town, every day could not all be profitable. This may seem strange to the industrious farmers of Northumberland county, yet it is so. To explain this, it is only necessary to give you a single fact. Although there is no finer grass country to be found than this, yet nearly every pound of hay used here is shipped from Philadelphia, New York, or some other northern seaport! For the purpose of testing this fact, I last year indeed a gentleman to put out 15 acres of timothy and clover. It produced 25 tons per acre of as fine hay as I ever saw. Hay is always worth from 75 cents to one dollar per hundred net weight, with a demand for any reasonable amount. How easy would it be then for any of our farmers with small means, to become the owners of fine farms in this pleasant and delightful country? Five years good management would place them in possession of five farms.

I hope you will call the attention of your neighbors to this subject; those who do not like to work can live by catching fish and oysters!!

The Fowl Census, or World's Convention of Poultry class of feathered citizens was fairly represented, from the proud bird of the mountain to the creeper that scratches for waifs in the dunghill. The Chronotype says:

A large portion of the birds shown were of foreign breeds. Of turkeys there were two specimens of the "Vermont Wild," and many of the "Thanksgiving Tame," that made us sigh to think that on the 25th we shall be engaged in getting out a paper. Besides, there were specimens of Swans, Pigeons, Little Bantams, no bigger than man's fist. Ducks, in the quaint liveries of crimson and blue, Pheasants, Mackaws, Catterails. A nest of Turkish Partridges, beautiful little birds imported from Constantinople by Francis Blake, of Newton. A superb Eagle, with eyes like stars, sat upon a rail, rejoicing himself in the sound of "those hundred guns." And in another corner, drooping, dragged and woe-begone, we observed the Whig Eagle of Massachusetts ticketed for sale at $3, his party having no further use for him.

CONNECTICUT has voted for two amendments to the Constitution, the first providing for the election of Probate Judges, and the second providing for the election of Justices of the Peace, both by the people. Majority for first amendment, 10,715; for second do., 10,866. Only about 18,000 votes were polled upon the occasion.

The Old Thirteen.—The figures expressing the number of these United States, have at last changed, the old "13" is turned round into 31.

JENNY LIND IN CUBA.—The Tacon Theatre in Havana has been secured by Mr. Barnum's agents ten nights for Jenny Lind's Concerts, commencing early in January.

It is said that in Greenville, Miss., there is not a person over 18 years of age that does not belong to a Temperance Society, and that there is not a grog shop in the town.

FOURTEEN storekeepers in Bridgeport have entered complaints against a respectable married woman of that city, for shoplifting.

The Boston Courier says that Horace Mann was elected by Democratic votes. The Democratic candidate for Congress in the District received 1306 votes less than the candidate of the same party for Governor.

A DEPUTATION of ministers of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, is now in Pittsburg, Pa., soliciting contributions for the religious improvement of the colored population of those provinces.

ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER! — PEP-SIN, the True Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice! A great Dyspepsia Cure, prepared from Rennet, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiologist and Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., No. 11 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation, and Debility, curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice. See advertisement in another column.

MARRIED. On Tuesday the 12th inst., at Beach Haven, Luzerne county, by the Rev. Mr. Reese, of Berwick, Mr. JOHN E. SMICK, to Miss ANGELINA WEISER, all of this place.

On Milton, on the 12th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Milbrant, Mr. WM. MAXWELL to Mrs. MARIA MIDDLETON, both of this place.

At Selingsgrove, on the 13th inst., by Rev. Mr. Derr, Mr. WILLIAM F. ECKHART, of Milton, to Miss ANNE E. DAVIS, of Selingsgrove.

DIED. In this place, on the 13th inst., MARIA, infant daughter of Henry Hepp.

State Mutual Fire Insurance COMPANY, OF HARRISBURG, PA.

THIS COMPANY, chartered by the Legislature during the last session, is now prepared to take applications for Insurance against loss by fire upon Buildings, &c., upon terms more advantageous to the insured than any other Company doing business in the State.

This Company, in accordance with the provisions of its charter, divides property into two separate classes, viz.—Farmers' Property, called the "Farmers' Company," and the other property, including property in towns and villages, called "Merchants' Class"; the funds of each being kept entirely separate; consequently each class pays its own losses and no other. It will be the endeavor of the Company to arrange their business that no assessment will be necessary on their premium notes. Rates of Insurance will be very reasonable.

C. F. LITTLE, Agent, Northumberland.

N. B.—Persons wishing to make application for Insurance will be attended to by dropping a line through the Post Office, to C. F. Little, Northumberland, Oct. 19, 1850.—

THE GLOBE: Congressional, Agricultural, and Literary Newspaper.

The undersigned submits to the public his proposals for the Globe and its reports for the next session of Congress. Congress has now so liberally patronized the undertaking that it is established as a standard work worthy of its official imprimatur, unless the undersigned fails in his duty.

This will not be the case if careful effort can be made. The Globe is the only paper that furnishes full reports of the debates of the two Houses of Congress and having received their sanction as such, the best Reporters will be engaged to write out the debates of each day, will undergo the revision of the Members. The work, after passing through the Daily Globe and receiving correction, will be presented, as finished, in the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX.

The debates will probably increase in interest during the next session. The one subject which engaged the last, will doubtless give way to others of greater value, which, in this progressive country, the conflicts of party and the ambition for place and distinction, necessarily produce. Vast interests will be at stake upon the decisions of the next Congress; and there is great talent in both branches, which will be evoked in their discussion. All the honors of the Republic, depending on the success of the Presidency, as well as all the great and permanent interests which go to the advancement of the power of the country, will give impulse to the action of the next session of Congress.

The Daily Globe will be published daily during the session of Congress, and weekly the remainder of the year. It will contain full and faithful reports of the proceedings of both Houses of Congress, and miscellaneous articles on those general subjects to which it is devoted.

The price of the weekly Globe is reduced to one dollar, with a view to obtain a more general circulation.

The Congressional Globe will embody, as it has done for the last seventeen years, Congressional proceedings and debates exclusively.
