Miscellancous Matter.

[From the Public Ledger.] HEAR ON BOTH SIDES.

A writer in your paper, a few days since, expresses a wish that physicians would write their prescriptions in English, instead of Latin. I hope that may never happen, at least in this enlightened country. It is well known to you, and if not to you, to all the spothecaries who put up prescriptions, that among the many prescriptions sent them daily by physicians, the following are by no means unfrequent, and if they were expressed in English, who, pray, would send to an tleman entrust nearly all their business to apprentices) be troubled with the following specimen of mixed cabalistics:

R,—Pulveris Piperi Rubri.

Ryfor. Chloridi Sodii.

Acidi Acettic.

Melis despumati.

Aqua Fluviaiis.

Misie—Fiat Gargarisma.

Misie—Fiat Calculation of the United States, and Aqua Fluvialia.

Minie—Fiat Gargarisma.

Sigrie—Samautur, pro-re-nuta.

This prescription, which is so much used there in cases of scarlatina and in most of the ordinary sore throast, and which has effected so many cures in these diseases, as attested by Dr. Stephens in the West Indies in 1787, also by Dr. Fuller and Dr. Perkins in Connecticut, about half a century since, would be entirely deprived of all its virtues, if every housekeeper could walk into her kitchen, instead of the chemist, and direct Betsy, the cook, to put it up. Betsy would doubtless be thunderstruck at such a request; but if the physician would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her. On the stonach would remain to read it to her, or the stonach would remain to read it to her. On the stonach would remain to read it to her to the stonach would remain to read the a present of the stonach would remain to read the stonach would remain to reduce the stonach worth wor physician would remain to read it to her, or write (as your correspondent wants) it in English, what would the cook say then? See it in plain language.

Recipe-Red Pepper. Salt. Vinegar. Water. Mix-Make into a gargle, Directions-Use when necessary

Now could a physician maintain his dignity and write such a prescription in English? I, for one, think not; rather would I leave the profession than thus submit to be perhaps laughed at. Or, supposing a physician should prescribe the following for a patient, whose case was one of simple nervous excitement, and the following recipe is often used in such

I hope your innovator, or whoever he may be, will not thus urge his plan any longer, to the detriment and injury of the medical profession.

The Pupil's friend and Teacher's comfort. THE COLUMBIAN CALCULATOR.—This work is already introduced into some of the best Acadamies and a large number of Schools, where its use has given decided and universal satisfaction, both to teacher and pupil. It is purely American in its character, based upon our own beautiful decimal system of energies. It contains more, the arrangements are better, and it is the easiest and cheapest work of the kind now in ase; and it is so considered by hundreds of the most competent teachers and men of science in the Uni-on, who have recommended it, It is the book, particularly and expressly prepared for our American Scholars: By Almon Ticknor. THE YOUTH'S COLUMBIAN CALCULATOR .- This olume contains 91 pages, with about 900 examples for solution on the slate. It embraces the Fundamental Rules, Compound Rules, Simple and Compound Reduction, Single Rule of Three, Proportion, &c.

Ticknon's Anitumetical Tables, is destined for the use of younger classes in the Schools of the United States. A beautiful little book and pleas-ing to children, and the only one of the kind of any gle or double, for he convenience of teachers, in Stats. It is what it purports to be, a Spelli which the solutions of the questions are given with Book and not a Reading Book, and only requir Keys are the most complete works of the kind ever published, and contain, in addition about two much extra matter for the black board. These published, and contain, in addition, about two hundred examples in Mensuration, &c., for the use of the Teacher. All that is wanted is to have the above books examined, and no teacher who is acquainted with the science of Arithmetic, will hesitate to pronounce them the best works tha have over been published in this or any other

Although issued but a few months, they have already been introduced into the Night Public Schools of New York City-in all the Schools public and private, except two, in the City of Reading. Also, in about twenty Academies in the State of Pennsylvania-in a large portion of the State of Pennsylvania—in a large portion of the term.

ROSE CINTMENT, FOR TETTER READ the following certificate from Capt Devoe, the well known and popular Sham Boat Captain (of the Traveller.)

PHILADELPHIA, October 31, 1846.

PRILABELPHIA, October 31, 1816.

Several years since I was attacked with a breaking out on my neck in the form of Tetter, which I my convinced was contracted at the Barber's Stop. It grasslandly extended over my face until it reached the upper part of the cheeks. During the several months that it contained sprending, I used different applications, some of which had the effect, apprently at least, of increasing the discose, but from one of them that I perceive the least benefit until I applied the Rose Onymers. By the use of one far of it I was perfectly cured and have remained free of the affection.

I have since used the Ointment, lightly applied for rough ness of the face, blotches, chapped hands, &c. With per feet success. I have no hesistrion in recommending it in the strongest manner to the public. JAMES DEVOE. Agent-Henry Masser, Sunbury, July 28, 1849. LIQUORS, WINES, &C.
