

DINNER TO CAPT. R. B. MATHEWS.

The dinner, duly announced, given by the municipal authorities and citizens of Philadelphia, to Capt. R. B. Mathews, of the Liverpool steam propeller City of Glasgow, in honor of the arrival of that vessel at our port, took place at the Chinese Museum on Saturday evening. This hall is, we believe, the largest in America, being upwards of 230 feet long; and wide tables with ample elbow room and passages were laid in it for the accommodation of more than eight hundred guests. Great pains had been taken by the Committee of Arrangements to secure to every one a proper seat, giving of course to distinguished strangers places nearest the table, at which the President of the dinner, Mayor Gilpin officiated as the immediate host of Captain Mathews.

Grace having been said by Bishop Potter the company sat down to partake of the following bill of fare:

First Course—Fish: Baked Rock, a la Chambord; Boiled Cod, Oyster Sauce.

Second Course—Boiled: Turkeys, with Celery and Oyster Sauce; Chickens, with Oyster Sauce; Sirloin of Beef, Pickle Sauce; Beef Tongues; Leg of Mutton, Capon Sauce; Burlington Hams, Corned Beef.—Cold Dishes: Bouef a la Mode, Garnis de Jebeu; Galantines des Dinde, a la Gelee; Jambou Decoree, Galantine des Poulets, a la Gelee; Langues de Bouef, a la Gelee; Pate de Gibier, Edem de Pigeons, Mayonnaise de Volaille, a la Parisienne; Salade de Volaille, a la Mode Anglaise.—Entrees: Vol au vent, aux huîtres; Petits Pates, garnis, a la Rechauffe; Croquettes de Volaille, Ris de Veau, sauce tomate; Boudin, a la Richelieu; Filet de Bouef, sauce Maitre; Supreme de Volaille, aux champignons; Canards Braises, aux oives, Frican deau de Veau, piau, aux Epinards; Pigeons, braise, a la Financiere; Fricassee de Poulets, a la Chevalier; Cotelettes de Mouton, sauce piquante; Aronde de laille, garnie a la Jardiniere; Perdrix, un truffe, a la Perigord; Collettes de Veau, a la Bellevue; Salm de Canard, sauzee; I aperioux, a la Dauphine; Faisan, piau, sauce aux champignons; Epigramme d'Agneau, a la Macedoine; Poulets a la Romaine—Roux; Ribs of Beef, Saddle of Mutton, with entrain Jolly, Loin of Veal, Legs of Mutton, Hams, with Champagne, Sauce; Turkeys, with Cranberry sauce; Geese, with Apple Sauce; Pigs, Capons, Chickens, Ducks.—Pieces Montees: Steamer City of Glasgow, Yase Montee, Colonel Triumphant, Statuette of Justice, Scotch Thistle, Colonne de Commerce, Statuette of Liberty, Statuette of Commerce, Arbour Francaise, Swiss Basket, Chinese Pyramid, Mouri's Fontaine, Statuette of Britannia, Pavillon d'Ele, Florence Basket, Fancy Pyramid, Fruit Glaace, Indian Temple, Pyramid, a la Parisienne, Highland Laddie, Pyramid Napolitaine, Vegetables; Round Potatoes, Horse Radish, Parsnips, Hommony, Celery, Rice, Mashed Potatoes, Beets, Turnips.

Third Course—Game.—Canvass Back Ducks, Saddle of Solihull county Venison, Red Neck Ducks, Wild Geese, Pheasants, Blue Wing Duck, Wild Pigeons, Partridges, (Browned Potatoes), (Baked Potatoes), Fried Oysters, Trappins.

Fourth Course.—Pastry.—Apple Pie, Peach Pie, Mince Pie, Cranberry Tarts, Calves Foot Jelly, flavoured with Madeira, Vanilla and Strawberry Ice Cream, Lemon and Pine Apple Ices.

Fifth Course.—Fruit.—Apples, Oranges, Figs, Raisins, Grapes, Almonds, Walnuts, Filberts, Shellbacks, Pecan Nuts.

Wines.—Still Wines and Moselle—Rhenish, Hattenheim, 1841; Moselle, Bismberg, 1841. Sparkling Wines—Moet, extra Champagne, vintage 1846; Moselle, extra Schutzenberg, vintage 1846, and a host of other excellent wines too numerous to mention.

Numerous devices in confectionery, suitable to the occasion, decorated the tables, and that at which Capt. Mathews sat had a sugar model of the "City of Glasgow," made to a scale and in every part complete. Before the final courses had been laid, many of the subscribers at a distance from the president's table became impatient to obtain a convenient position for hearing the toasts and speaking. Various efforts were made to induce them to return to their places, but the feast of reason was more inviting to them than the good things of Mr. Parkinson. This there was an unpleasant breach in the arrangements, which, we are compelled to say, was not creditable to any concerned in it, and which greatly interfered with the reports of the press in the discharge of their duties, by the confusion attending the crowding and talking in the vicinity of the speakers.

Mr. Gilpin, about 7 o'clock, arose to offer the first toast, prefacing it by a short speech, alluding to the importance of the event celebrated in furthering the commercial prosperity of our city. He cordially welcomed Captain Mathews, and as a toast gave—"The health of Captain Mathews. May his voyage through life be as prosperous as the first voyage of the City of Glasgow to the City of Brotherly Love."

This was hailed with great applause, in the midst of which Captain Mathews arose, and said that this was the proudest day of his life. From his entrance into the Delaware, he had been met more like a prince than the humble commander of a steamer. He had innumerable friends in this country, and when away he almost felt as if he had left his heart behind. He had been employed on the ocean since 1812, and this was his fiftieth voyage across the Atlantic. He found none of the difficulties he apprehended in entering the Capes; and but for the desire of reaching the city in the daytime, he could have sailed during the night. He was agreeably disappointed at the ease with which the navigation of the bay and river could be effected, and it was a matter of surprise to him that a steam communication with Europe had not been established long since.

He was convinced that the merchants of Philadelphia had stood in their own light, but hoped that by the energy with which this enterprise would be carried out, that they would make up for lost time. The entire communication along the British coast was now carried on by steam propellers, and had also extended to the Mediterranean; for himself he was convinced that propellers were more economical and safe than side wheel steamers, and the performance of the City of Glasgow had convinced him of the fact. He concluded by giving, as a toast, "Prosperity to the Commerce of Philadelphia."

The health of Gov. Wm. F. Johnson being proposed, he answered in an eloquent speech, which embraced valuable statistics of the domestic commerce of Philadelphia, which he promised to furnish to the Press hereafter. Phila. Ledger.

OUR NORTHUMBERLAND PACKET.—Our package of last week's papers for Northumberland, was sent to one of the Hotel-keepers in this place, early last Friday evening at the request of one of our subscribers from Northumberland who wished to take it with him. To our surprise we found it on Tuesday last lying in the Hotel. We regret the circumstance exceedingly, as the papers contained two valuable documents, the Governor's Message and Mr. Webster's letter to the Austrian Minister. We shall be careful to avoid such an occurrence hereafter.

The weather of the present month, thus far, has been unusually mild. For some days the Sun beamed forth his rays with as much warmth as in some of the palmiest days of April. As for snow, we have had scarcely any during the winter, the whole stock not exceeding six inches.

MILITARY.—The Dewart Guards commanded by Capt. Zimmerman, and the Farmers and Mechanics Artillerists, commanded by Lieut. Mertz, were out on parade, on Saturday last. This was the first appearance of the Artillerists in Uniform. Both Companies looked extremely well and made a handsome and soldier like appearance.

REVENUE COMMISSIONER.—We understand that Gen. Wm. A. Pettrikin of Muncy has been appointed Revenue Commissioner for this district.

SALE OF THE DANVILLE AND POTTSVILLE RAIL ROAD.—On Thursday last Sheriff Court presented to the Court for confirmation, the deed for said Road. The deed was made to Moncure Robinson, Esq., and Geo. H. Thompson, in trust for the bond holders. The road has not, as has been stated, sold to the Trevorton Company.—Moncure Robinson, Esq., under whose auspices, as principal Engineer, the road had been located, was in town, and manifested a lively interest in its completion.

PRESIDENT JUDGE OF THIS DISTRICT.—Gov. Johnson appointed on Wednesday last the Hon. Jas. Pollock, President Judge of this District, in place of Hon. J. B. Anthony, deceased. The appointment was unanimously confirmed. The appointment is an excellent one, and will be well received, but we doubt, judging from opinions expressed to us by Mr. Pollock, whether he will accept of the appointment.

LOCK HAVEN.—A. J. Grier has retired from the Clinton Tribune and is succeeded by W. Rothrock of Bellefonte. The Clinton Democrat has put on a new dress. Mr. Crawford the editor has taken a partner, but not a fair one, for in that respect, the Tribune says he "appears rather incurable." Well there is some hope, so long as he is not incorrigible.

A new saw mill is going up at Lock Haven with a gang of 28 saws. The Susquehanna valley is bound to go ahead.

A correspondent of the Lycoming Gazette, from Trout Run Hotel, says the biggest hog of the season stopped at that Hotel some time since with a splendid horse and buggy, called for water for his horse and filled a tub, with something stronger for himself, for all of which he threw down a short tip and left.

The Philadelphia Weekly Sun, a double sheet, has made its appearance. It is a handsome sheet well filled and well printed, and of course, with Col. Wallace at its head, it must be well edited. The Weekly Sun has commenced the publication of Marshall's Life of Washington in its numbers, a most valuable Biography.

It is with deep regret that we are called upon to announce the death of the Hon. Jos. B. Anthony, President Judge of this (eighth) Judicial District, on Friday the 10th of January, inst. It was painfully evident to the friends of the Judge, for more than a year past, that he was in a rapid decline. Disease of the heart, a disease which is annually making the most fearful ravages, and which seems to be confined almost exclusively to our most distinguished men, and men of professional and sedentary habits, had, especially during the last six months, made fearful inroads upon his system. Judge Anthony has long been known in this community, and has always been esteemed for his many virtues, & his frank and generous qualities. Like his lamented predecessor, he had a host of friends, with few if any enemies. As a Judge he was upright and honorable, while the integrity of his conduct has never been questioned. As a parent, and in all the relations of private life, he was manly, generous and affectionate. We make room for the following extract from an obituary notice in the Lycoming Gazette:

Departed this life, at his residence, in the borough of Williamsport, on the Friday, 10th of January, inst., disease of the heart, JOSEPH B. ANTHONY, President Judge of the Eighth Judicial District of Pennsylvania, aged 55 years, 6 months, and 22 days.

JOSEPH B. ANTHONY was born in the city of Philadelphia, upon the 19th day of June, 1795. From thence he removed with his parents at an early period of his life to Merce county, in the state of New Jersey, where he received his early education. Whilst young, he journeyed to the valley of the West Branch, and in the year 1818 he was admitted in the bar of Lycoming county, and located himself at Williamsport, where he continued to reside until his death.

In the year 1830, he was elected by the democratic party to the Senate of Pennsylvania, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Hon. Col. ROBERT M. CLARK, in the year 1824. He was re-elected to Congress, and two years thereafter was re-elected to the same post by an unprecedented majority. During the early part of the administration of Gov. Porter, the subject of our notice was appointed Judge of the Nicholson court of Pennsylvania, and in March 1844, was appointed to the same office, by appointment of the eighth Judicial District, in the room of Judge DONNEL, then deceased; and like his upright predecessor, continued to discharge the duties of that office faithfully until the day of his lamented death. It is proper to state, that he held these various judicial stations, either by election, or by appointment, under a democratic Government, and performed the duties of these several offices, honestly, fearlessly and impartially.

At the meeting of the Court, held by the Hon. the Associate Judges of Northumberland county, in Sunbury, on the 16th inst., the Court was addressed by Hugh Bellas, Esq., in appropriate observations upon the sad and solemn dispensation of Providence, in the sudden death of the late President Judge of the Eighth Judicial District of Pennsylvania.

It was therefore moved that in testimony of regard for the memory of the deceased, the Court do now adjourn, and being adjourned accordingly.

The Judges and the members of the Bar convened, appointed the Hon. George C. Welker, Chairman, and Wm. J. Greenough Secretary. On motion the Chairman appointed H. Bellas, A. Jordan and John Porter, Esqs., a committee to prepare and report appropriate resolutions.

The following resolutions accordingly were submitted by H. Bellas, Chairman of the committee to the meeting, and on motion of Alexander Jordan, Esq., unanimously adopted. Resolved, That the members of the Courts and of the Bar, of Northumberland county, are deeply and sorrowfully penetrated by the deprivation sustained by the suitors, the bar and the community at large, in the sudden death of the Hon. Joseph B. Anthony, the President Judge of this Judicial District.

Resolved, That by this eventful visitation of "the Judge of all the living," we lose a President Judge of unimpeachable integrity and impartiality, possessed of uncommon experience of heart, and of temper, prompt in decision, honest in purpose, of much preference in practice, of industrious habits, of extensive legal knowledge, and in the discharge of his official duties, more free from arrogance, prejudices and predilections than is often experienced in the administration of justice.

Resolved, That the members of the Court, and of the Bar of this county, sympathize sincerely and profoundly with the family, and other relations of our late President Judge in this severe and afflicting dispensation; and that the usual badge of mourning be worn for 30 days in testimony of our regard for his memory, and for his private and public virtues.

Resolved, That a committee be appointed by the Chairman to transmit to the bereaved widow and family of the Hon. Joseph B. Anthony a copy of these proceedings; with an appropriate letter of condolence on behalf of this meeting.

Resolved, That the Editors of the Press in this judicial district be requested to publish these proceedings.

On motion of Henry Donnel, Esq., the meeting adjourned.

PANTHER SHOT. The well known hunter Mr. Charles Parmeter, of this town, who has been out in the woods the last two months deer-hunting, killed, a few days since in the town of Belmont, in Franklin County, a large panther or catamount, measuring nine feet in extreme length, and weighing 247 pounds Mr. Parmeter came upon the track while hunting, and the next day, with a dog, started with the determination to hunt him up. After a short distance he struck the trail and soon came to where, with a single bound, he had killed and split entirely upon a large buck, apparently carried the same about twenty rods and partly buried the carcass.

Following on in pursuit, Mr. P. soon came to a mountain ridge with huge shelving rocks, in a chasm under one of which he found the panther's den. His dog, with hair erect and exhibiting extreme fear, refused to enter, when Mr. P., tying a rope around the dog's neck, entered himself dragging his dog after him. The panther fled by another entrance and took to a very tall spruce tree near by. Mr. P. now climbed the lodge of rocks overhead and thus found himself on a level with the tree top and distant about fifty feet from the same. The panther was almost hid in the dense top, but catching a glimpse of him he fired in quick succession two balls into his body.

The Panther had now placed himself with eye fixed on Mr. P., in the attitude of springing, when Mr. P., having quickly reloaded both barrels of his gun, fired one into the back of his neck, and the other through his body, the fourth shot brought him to the ground. The dog having now regained courage, rushed in upon him, but one bite of the dying Panther sent him back howling with pain, when springing to his feet the ferocious animal ran some 20 rods and fell dead. Mr. P., to make sure, put two additional balls into him and then ventured to approach him. Mr. P. intends to bring him down in a few days and give our citizens a chance to see this rarely found animal, whose strength, agility, ferocity and tenacity of life render him monarch of the forest, and the dreaded foe of the most intrepid hunter.—Pottsville (N. Y.) Mercury.

JENNY LIND'S WEALTH.—A correspondent of the Home Journal, has written a short article which is going the rounds of the papers stating that Jenny Lind's wealth amounts to $1,000,000. Now we have the following facts from a reverend gentleman, who knew her when in Sweden, and to whom both in Europe and America, she has imparted with the most childlike confidence every particular in relation to her pecuniary affairs, as well as to her future prospects and intentions.

Jenny Lind has neither a sister or brother living. She lost a sister some years ago, but never had a brother, notwithstanding the numberless stories to the contrary which have been circulated. Her parents are both living in quiet and retirement at her native city, Stockholm, being supported by an adequate sum, part aside for that specific purpose by affectionate daughter. Jenny Lind's annual income from property which she has lost by is less than $6000, (not so much as she could make at a single concert,) and she is fully determined never to increase it, for every farthing of her income and earnings above what she expends for her own personal wants is devoted to charity. The whole of the funds received from her American engagements, are set aside for the establishment of Common Schools in Sweden; and it is her intention to devote her personal services to the supervision and inspection of these schools.

Her reverend and venerable friend once said to her, "Miss Lind, I think that you should have a large annual income secured to you, that you might be prepared in case you should lose your voice."

"In that event," she replied, "one sixth of my present income would support me well in Sweden, and at all events, it is as much as any person with proper feelings ought to expect in a year. So I am still left $3000 per annum for charitable purposes." A woman with such a heart, would indeed be wealthy if she possessed not a dollar in this world.—N. Y. Sun.

ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATOR. HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.

The members of both branches of the Legislature assembled at noon today, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, for the purpose of electing a United States Senator, in the place of Daniel Sturgeon, whose term expires on the 4th of March next.

The Convention having organized, Speaker Matthias, of the Senate, in the chair, proceeded to balloting with the following result:

Richard Benthall, 70
Alex. B. Brown, 42
A. W. Leonard, 12
George Chambers, 2
John Sturgeon, 2
James Bellas, 2
S. A. Percival, 2
T. McKeaney, 1
Samuel Collins, 1

Resolved, That the members of the Court, and of the Bar of this county, sympathize sincerely and profoundly with the family, and other relations of our late President Judge in this severe and afflicting dispensation; and that the usual badge of mourning be worn for 30 days in testimony of our regard for his memory, and for his private and public virtues.

DANIEL WEBSTER died in Baltimore on Monday—aged 5 months.

A HORSE STORY.—The Nashua Telegraph tells the story of a horse belonging to Joseph Baldwin, who on slippery day last week, had much difficulty in maintaining his standing in society, owing to the smoothness of his shoes, and came to some little bodily harm in consequence. When he was unharnessed, the teamster left him to his head, not doubting that he would go directly to the stable, as he always did. Instead of doing so, however, he passed by the stable, and went directly to the blacksmith shop of Vincent & Woodward, where he had been shod some months before. He was found there patiently "waiting his turn" to be "sharpened" with several horses.

Col. KENDERTON SMITH, a respectable member of the Philadelphia Bar, died at his residence near the Rising Sun Village, on the 11th inst., in the 50th year of his age.

VERY REMARKABLE.—An intelligent farmer in the town of Lewistown, related some time since a remarkable account of the cure of a fine horse which, in the act of plunging, caught his foot in a rut, and tore it partly off. He immediately cleaned out the dirt, and applied G. W. Merchants' celebrated Gargling Oil, replaced the hoof, bandaged it up tight, soaked it occasionally with the Oil, and in two weeks he was able to use the horse.
