ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER PEPSIN!

THETRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID,

GASTRIC JUICE! A GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURER, repared from RENNET, or the fourth Stomsch of the Ox, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D.,

No. 11, North Eighth Steet, Philadelphia, Pa. This is a truly wonderful remedy for INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSTIPATION and DEBILITY, Curing ofter Noture's own method, by Nature's own agent, the Gastrie

DIGESTION. DIGESTION.

In the stomach by the aid of a tinid which freely exades from the inner coal of that organ, when in a state of health, called the Gastrie Juice. Thus find is the Great Solvent of the Ford, the Partiying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the stomach and intestines. Without it there will be no digestion—no conversion of food into blood, and no mutition of the body; but rather a food, orgain, patriot, and destroctive condition of the whole digestive apparatus. A weak, half dead, or migred stomach produces no good Gastrie Juice, and hence the disease, distress and debility which circuit.

PEPSIN AND RENNET.

PEPSIN AND RENNET.

PEPSIN is the third element, or great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice, it is found in great abundance in the solid parts of the human stomach after death, and sometimes causes the stomach to digest itself, or eat itself up—it is also found in the stomach of animais, as the oz, calf, &c. It is the material used by farmers in making cheese, called Rennet, the effect of which has long been the special worker of thechiry. The curding of milk is the first process of digestion. Rennet prosecuses astonishing power.—The stomach of a calf will cardle nearly one thousand times its own weight of milk. Baron Liebig states that, "One part of Pepsin dissolved in sixty thousand parts of water, will digest meat and other food." Discoved stomachs produce no good Gastrie Juice, Rennet or Pepsin. To show that this want may be perfectly supplied, we quote the following.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

BARON LIEBIG, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid smingous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the macous membrane of the stormed of the calf, in which various articles of food, as ment and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Dr. PEREIRA, in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. COMBE, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observed that "a dimination of the due quantity of the Chatric June is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyapepasa;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in Lendau, who was severely afflicted with this complant, finding every thing else to fail, had recourse to the Gastrie June, obtained from the stormeth of living animals, which proved tompletely successful."

Dr. GRAHAM, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "it is a remarkable fast in physiology, that the stormeds of animals, unacerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process."

Dr. SiMON'B great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Phila, 1846, pp. 321-3) says: "The discovery of PEPSIN forms a row era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the mattrial Gastric Juice litself.," itself.,"

Professor DUNGLISON of the Jefferson College, Phila delphia, in his great work on Haman Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject—His experiments with Dr. Hesamont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and from animals are well known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion occurred as perfectly in the artificulas in the institution of the ANN ADVINE PRINT OF THE PROFESSOR."

ALBANT, N. Y. April 17, 1848.

Dr. Ayer, Lowell—Dear Sir.—I have for years been afflicted with Asthma in the worst form; so that I have been obliged to sleep in my chair for a larger part of the time, being unable to breather on my bed. I had tried a great many medicines, to no purpose, until my Physician prescribed, as an experiment, your CHERRY PECTORAL.

At first it seemed to make me worse, but in less than a week I began to experience the most gratifying relief from its use; and now, in four weeks, the disease is entirely removed. I can sleep on my bed with comfort, and enjoy a state
