CORRESPONDENCE OF THE AMERICAN. New York, December 27, 1851.

DEAR MASSER :- Though you will have received full accounts of Kossuth's reception in Philadelphia long before this reaches you, I feel sure you would like to have the views of one, whose ideas of parade and pageantry have been cultivated in the same school as your own, to wit : the battalion fields of Mahonoy. These I have beheld under the most favorable circumstances, when flying horses, fiddle strings and gingercrackers, combined to add luxury and mirth to the brilliant display, yet am I compelled reluctantly to own. that henceforth Mahonoy is nowhere.

Had we not better abandon the notion of entertaining Gov Kossuth in Northumberland and Suppory! I fear we shall fall short of what he has already seen. I throw out the hint, that you may not incur, any further trouble or expense in the preparations.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE GLOBE.

The approach of Congress calls for the renewal of my proposals and preparations to spread its delates is-total the public. The success which has hitherto attended this undertaking it is looped will continue, and enable up to perpetuate the full history of the proceedings and discussions of the body on which the destiny or the Republic decembs.

depends.

The adoption of Congress has given the GLORE an official character has the reporter of all that is said and done in the body. This sometion has been voted at every successive session for many years, and by members of all parties. The press, too, of all parties has borne testimony to the fidelity with which the duty thus confided has been performed.

erformed.
The colority with which the letter-writers for the disperformed.

The colerity with which the letter-writers for the distant press circulate through the telegraph their horred secounts and views of the debates of Congress, renders more important than ever the full and exact official reports of the Congress superseds, for the most part, the exact reports in the Congress superseds, for the most part, the exact rejects taken down by reportiers, and which formedly, in a shape more of less abbreviated, went the rounds of the press.—Now the telegraph secunits, with all their imperfections and variety of colorings, take the rain of the emaity, and no press but the official of congress ever publishes the full delate with the proceedings of both Howes unautifated. Indeed, no newspaper can give them, and have room for advertisements and the miscelaneous matter essential to their existence. While, therefore, the telegraph administers to the coper appetite of the public for Congress news, and meets the necessities of the political press, by (praishing a rapidly written epitome third to the faste of its pairwas, perfect information of, what passes in Congress is greatly diministed. The circulation of the official reports has been, to some extent, cut off by the corde onion diversified accounts which, flying along the electric wifes, satisfica curiosity, and its aimost in vain that trath put on his books to follow. Still there are a great many men of leinure and thought who has to see what it notunity and and done in Congress, and to hidge for thomselves, rather than to receive impressions altogether from givanic batteries. There are others, to, who for the make of the future, willingly patronize a work which preserves a full record of the doings of the great moving and controlling powers of the Republic.

If there ever was a time when the action of Congress. ling powers of the Republic.
