SUNBURY

H. B. MASSER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

AMERICAN.

OFFICE, MARKET STREET, OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE.

A Family Demspaper-Devoted to Politics, Alterature, Morality, Foreign and Domestic Dews, Science and the Arts, Agriculture, Markets, Amusements, &c

W SERIES VOL. 4, NO. 52.

SUNBURY, NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY, PA., SATURDAY, MARCH 20, 1852.

OLD SERIES VOL. 12, NO. 26.

ERMS OF THE AMERICAN.

AMERICAN is published every Seturday at pol.LARS per manum to be paid half yearly in No paper discontinued until ALL arrearages are r letters on business relating to tion, must be POST PAID. TO CLUBS.

terrar to one address, S500 by Do Do 1000 by Do Do 2000 by delians in advance will pay for three year's subpeste of 16 lines, 3 times, subsequent inscritors, on Cards of Five lines, per anaum, mass and others, advertising by the r, with the privilege of inserting and advertisements weekly. Larget Advertisements, as per agreement. E. B. MASSER, TTORNEY AT LAW SUNEURY, PA. siness attended to in the Counties of Norberland, Union, Lycoming and Columbia.

Refer to: P. & A. Recondt. Lower & Barron, Somers & Sundgrass, Reynolds, McFarland & Co., Philad.

Spering, Good & Co., AMES J. MAILLE. littorney and Connsellor at Law, SUNBURY, PA.

711.1. attend faithfully and promptly to all professional business, in Northumberland Union counties. He is familiar with the FFICE . Opposite the "Lawrence House," w doors from the Court House.

unbury, Aug. 16, 1851 .- Iya MING AND SUMMER CLOTHING. VERYBODY should embrace this opportumity to buy CLOTHING for Men. Youth Boys, at such prices as have never yet been an in this City, at GEORGE CULIN'S PIHING ESTABLISHMENT, South-East ner of Market and Second Streets. Philadelembracing a choice of the best, most desira-

DRESS AND FROCK COATS, at Cloth do., Linen Drilling do., Tweeds, , doe, together with a great variety of Boys' Clothing, sisting of Sack Coats, Polka Jac ... Is, Mon-Jackets, Vests and Round Jackets made of ed, Linen Drilling, Cloth, Alpacea, Kersa-Doeskin, &c., &c.

articular care has been taken to procure the ben sight for Men and Boys' Summer Coats, l'antaloons, Vests, Sc., to which he would invite Furnishing Goods. Consisting of Shirts, Stocks, Handkerchiefs, &c.; which are offered at the lowest Possible Prices, and as cheap as any other Clothing who desire Boys' Charming are earcited to examine the Stock. Storekeepers can be accommodated at GEORGE CULIN.

P. Corner of Second & Market Sts Phila. .pril 19, 1851.-- u. .

LIGHTNING RODS.

HE subscriber has constructed a LIGHT-NING ROD on true Philosophical princi-, by which buildings supplied with them are tered perfectly secure against destruction by The connection and insulation of the as well as the preparation of the ground rod, so. conductor than any heretofore in use. Jeasures have been taken to secure Letters cut for the improvement.

'ersons desirous of securing their lives and shall we try the experiment?' perty from destruction by lightning, can have ther personally or by letter, to the undersigned, For 40 ft, with a good silver plated point $10,00 as he answered modelly—

For 40 ft. with gold plated point, platina tip. 12,50 And twenty cents for every additional foot over forty. T. S. MACKEY. Milton, Sept. 6, 1851.—1y.

Alden's Condensed Reports of Penna. ume of Alden, containing Dallas' Reports, 4 volimes; and Yeates' Reports, volume 1, is also on and, and for sale. The above two volumes are complete within themselves, and contain all of Dallas' Reports, 4 volumes, and all of Yestes' Reports, 4 volumes, besides the two first volumes of Binney's Reports. The third volume is ready and will be put to press immediately.

H. B. MASSER, Agent. Sunbury, Aug. 16, 1851 .--NATIONAL HOTEL, SHAMOKIN,

Northumberland County, Pa. THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he has open-d a new Hotel in the town of Shamokin, Norhumberland county, on the corner of Shamokin and Commerce streets, nearly opposite to the Touse he formerly kept. He is well prepared to ecommodate his guests, and is also provided with good stabling. He trusts his experience. and strict attention to business, will induce perons visiting the coal region to continue the lib ral patronage he has heretofore received.
WHAIAAM WEAVER. okin, April 19, 1850 .-- tf.

JAMES H. MAGEE

AS removed from his old Stand, No. 118 Vine street, to No. 52 Dillwyn St., (bet'n Cal'hill & Willow.) where he has constantly on hand, BROWN STOUT, PORTER, Ale and Cider.

FOR HOME CONSUMPTION OR SHIPPING. N. B .- Coloring, Pottling, Wire and Bottles, Vinegar, &c. For sale as above. Philadelphia, April 12, 1851.—1y.

Lycoming Mutual Insurance Company. DR. J. B. MASSER is the local agent for the above Insurance Company, in Northumberand county, and is at all times ready to effect nsurances against fire on real or personal proerty, or renewing policies for the same. Sunbury, April 26, 1851.—tf.

NK-Boureau's celebrated ink, and also Congres ink for sole, wholesale and retail by December 28, 1850. H. B. MASSER.

SELECT POETRY.

TOO POOR TO PAY.

We were so poor when baby died, And mother stitched his shrond, The others in their hunger cried With sorrows wild and loud; We were so poor we could not pay The man to carry him away.

I see him still before my eyes; It lies upon my bed; And mother whispers through her sighs, "The little boy is dead." A little box of common pine

His coffin was -and may be mine! They laid our little brother out And wrapped his form in white, And as they turned his head about, We saw the solemn sight, And wept as little children weep,

And kissed the dead one in his sleep We looked our last open his face, And said our last good bye. While mother laid him in the place Where those are laid who die; The sexton shoved the box away, Because we were too poor to pay

We were too poor to hire a hearse, And confilled get a pall; And when we drove him to the grave, A wagon held us all:
Twas I who drove the horse, and I Who told my mother not to cry.

We rode along the crowded town, And felt so lone and drear, That oft our tears came trickling down, Because no friends were near, The folks were strangers-selfish men, Who hadn't lost a baby then.

We reached the grave and laid him there, With all the dead around-There was no priest to say a prayer, And bless the holy ground. Sa home we went in grief and pain, But home was never home again.

And there he sleeps without a stone To mack the sacred spot; But though to all the world unknown, By us 'tis ne'er forgot; We mean to raise a stone some day, But now we are too poor to pay.

A Sketch.

THE MECHANICS' WIFE. OR THE RESULTS OF PERSEVERANCE.

"Weil, Augustus," said Marianne, as the former entered a little room which, without carpet, curtain or ornament of any kind, served as kitchen, sitting room and nursery, "we are really settled down at house-keeping. Don't it seem comfortable, after so many privations !" "Yes," answered the young husband, handsome wife, and then at the neat little pine supper table, and then at the cradle, where slept a little charming boy of six months, "but mine is such a life of toil that I have no time to enjoy anything-not even to play with Fred." "But it seems to me," returned the wife, very thoughtfully, what it need not be just We are not in debt; we both have n an entirely new plan, making a more per- health, and I am willing to be very economical, in order that we may have time for enjoyment and improvement, too. Say,

She handed him a cop of tea as she spoke. actors put up to their buildings in the most and looked up into his face with a sweet feet and substantial manner, by applying ei- and hopeful smile; but his face was deadly pale, and an unbidden tear stood in his eye

"I don't know how that can be. Every moment taken from my labor, is so much taken from our scanty income. We caunot afford to attend places of public amusement; in our present low style of living, I will never consent to enter any other UST Published, and for sale by the subscri-ber-the Secund Volume of Alden's Con-than good society, if we live alone; and neglected in my childhood, that I have little taste for reading, and besides, we have nothing to read."

"O, yes," said the wife, "we have enough to begin with. Here is our beautiful new to teach her. gilt Bible, which we must read every mornwith good improving matter enough to last one or two evenings in a week, and you can easily have a share in a public library to fill up the rest."

"But how shall I find time, my good planning wife."

"Thank you, Augustus, for the compliment, and now I will plan on : We will rise early, and work diligently all day,-Then, if you think you need to work longer, you can bring your work into my room, or I will take Fred into the shop, and one of us will read and tend the baby while the other works. Won't that be a good plan ?" beginning to show a little more interest, Poor little Charley's feet were cold and bebut I'm thinking also, that my hesitating bleeding." and blundering manner of reading will not

"Well, suppose you do. I have a Webster's Dictionary, and we will have that open before us, and look out every word of which we do not understand the meaning. tion. The whole family joined in a fam- well as tock the cradle. If our progress is slow at first, we shall have nobody to laugh at us, and we shall soon find ourselves improving rapidly."

Augustus smiled incredulously, but seem- tul heart. ed disposed to encourage his wife to go on. You are indeed a noble planner; but what shall we do on the Sebbath! I suppose you ther, I think I have heard you say, that expect to advance fast in the 'march of mind,' when we have a whole day to our- once poor, illiterate, almost an infidel and selves. "Yes," said Marianne, "I think we may; tremely interesting to us to learn by what though our arrangements must be somewhat means the mayor of this good city, the modified. You know we have a seat in honored trustee of our college, the superin-Dr. C-'s Church. You must join the tendent of our Sabbath school, and the dea-young men's Bible Class, and prepare the con of our church, has arisen from so unlesson-in the morning, while I attend the promising beginnings, to his present sta. of a young lady, is to have in her countemeeting. Then I will stay in the after- tion."

accept your offer, if you will let me stay had led his thoughtless steps, amid all the attend our excellent Lyceum Lectures -- received in his lowly, admirable wife, of which the governor of the State was instruct- were the pleasures of hell; their choice on respondent of the Knickerbocker says: alone one evening in the week, while you dangers around him-of the blessing he had And now let us begin this very evening, the days of toil, and nights of hard study, ed to call for the use of this arm for the use earth was now their inevitable doom. In I feel that every moment is lost till we do, in which she had shared, and cheered him of the militia of Tennessee, instead of the horror this scene inspired, in wagons late in the afternoon, each acfor instance, and Elihu Burritt, and a host little pine tea table." of others."

The young wife became quite enthusiastic as she proceeded, and would have spent the whole evening in her disquisition upon self-education, had not Freddy, awaking from his nap, required some maternal at-

Augustus took up the Bible, and read a good chapter in Proverbs, on the practical flowers over our grave-in a brief period duties of life, and declared that he had nev- the little hillock will be smoothed down, er before read such a chapter. The plan was fairly begun. of nine and twenty. His education, as he buried there. Every vestige that we ever shoemaker in the country, and had unhap- brance-the lock of hair encased in gold, pily settled the question in his own mind, or the portrait that hung in our dwelling, that he was doomed to ignorance, and a will cease to have the slightest value to low and degrading employment for life .- any living being. He had imagined, also, that his relations were willing to lose sight of him, and his sensitive nature was stung to the quick .-After a few years of vexation and toil, he wandered far away from home and triends and familiar associations; and a wonder it was, that he was not hurried away by the awful whirlpool of error and vice, and dashed upon the rocks of utter destruction! He had, however, been favored with the instructions and prayers of a christian mother, and had seen examples in his own family, of high purpose and noble and successful effort. He had, therefore, preserv- sitting on the other side of the green table, had removed to a city of shoemakers,' where his occupation was honorable, and where his aspiration after respectability and independence might hope to be real-

But on the afternoon preceding his conversation, he had been unusually annoyed. place, which crimsoned his pale cheek and and almost determined never to make another effort.

He was, and supposed he ever must be a poor shoemaker of L.

Twenty years had elapsed, and a family group were arranged around a marble centre table, in the parlor of a magnificent house in the city of L-. A gentleman of some fifty years, had just divested himrich velvet gown and embroidered slippers, face beaming with intelligence, benevolence and gratified pride, as she gazed at her dignified and honored husband, and then at the lovely group of children around spend his college vacation at home; another was a tall, graceful girl of sixteen, who had finished a long recitation to her tures on her slate, and teazing every body

Presently the door bell announced a visiing and evening; and here is our newspaper, tor. A person entered and presented a subscription for religious charity.

"Put me down a hundred dollars," said the good man, and the collector departed blessing the giver.

When he was gone, the gentleman said and peaceful." -umy dear, did you think to send the coal and flour to the poor woman on the corner!" Yes, and Frederick and Mary have been to see that sick family, and carpapa, said little Kate, looking up from the ouse she was drawing, "they carried away my new stockings," "Shall I send and get them back again ?" said the father, "O "I rather think it will," said the husband, no, indeed," said the child, "I sent them.

The father now remarked that it was be very edifying to you. I shall make but time for family worship. In a moment all was silent-books, slates, papers and work iliar hymn, and the father led in prayer, and worshiped the Father of mercies in spirit and truth, from the fulness of a grate- papers announce the death of Nestor, a dog.

> After an interval of silence, the son looked up as if from a reverie and said-"Fayour youth was neglected, that you were entirely discouraged. It would be ex-noon, and let you go to the afternoon ser- The eyes of the good man filled with in her behaviour modesty.

with his handkerchief, and for some time

"Thank you, dear husband, I will gladly way in which a kind watchful Providence

He was the shoemaker of L----

IS NOT THIS TOO TRUE.

"The gay will loubg.
When thou art gone, the solenin broad of care. Plot on and each one as before will chose His favorite phantom "-Buyerr

A few friends will go and bury us-af-

O'CONNELL'S LAST APPEARANCE IN THE House or Commons.-D'Israeli describes this ly occupied by the leader of the opposition, ton Union. and spoke from the red box, convenient to him from the number of documents to which he had to refer. His appearance was of great debility and his voice was very still. His words indeed only reached those who were immediately around him, and the listeners ed an unsuffied reputation, had acquired a and listening with that interest and respectlittle property, had married an intelligent, ful attention which becomes the occasion cheerful, healthy girl of twenty summers, It was a strange and touching spectacle to those who remembered the form of colloseal energy, and the clear and thrilling tones that had once disturbed and controlled senates -Mr. O'Connell was on his legs for nearly two hours, assisted occasionally in the management of his documents by a faithful aid-de-camp. ting settled in his humble tenement-had of dumb shew, a feeble old muttering before med some losses, and heard a bitter a table; but respect for the great parlic sarcastic remark from an aristocrat of that tary personage kept all as orderly as if the fortunes of a party hung upon his rhetoric; sent him home through a cold rainstorm, and although not an accent reached the galwearied in body, depressed, vexed in spirit, lery, means were taken the next morning that the country should not loose the last, and not the least interesting speeches of one who had so long occupied and agitated the mind among others, at work on a house erecting ing, suddenly seized his horse's rein, saying tion. self of his outer garments, and dressed in a but a little way from my office, who always appeared to be in a merry humor, who sat reading the journals of the day. A la- had a kind word and a cheerful smile, for young man, with a volley of oaths, while he visited Sing Sing more than once. It Such habits are not formed in a day, nor will dy some years younger, sat by his side, her every one he met. Let the day be ever so he struggled to free himself. cold, gloomy or sunless, a happy smile dan- "That you will see by and by," returned ling features of the interior of that institution They are the result of continued effort. ced like a sunbeam on his cheerful counts. the other, in a tone that excited unaccounts and to notice their difference from the feaflow of spirits. "No secret, D." he replied, vain. However fast the animal flew, the age and sex, as well as of every color. He and hired himself out to a farmer. He was "I have got one of the best of wives, and stranger was beside him, till at length, in found represented there every grade of immediately set to plowing, with a voke of when I go to work, she always has a kind his desperate efforts to escape, the rider was character, calling and pursuit, with one ex- oxen and an old mare, called Jin. word of encouragement for me, and when thrown; but instead of being dashed to the ception. There were tradesmen, mechanbrother, and was preparing to cheer the cir- I go home, she meets me with a smile and a earth as he expected, he found himself still ics, doctors, ministers, all represented, but with the management of the tacks, sheets, densed Pennsylvania Reports, containing the last for improvement, my education was so last three volumes of Yeates' Reports, and two needested in my childhood, that I have litpiano. A bright boy of twelve was per- she has done so many little things through the bowels of the earth. forming a problem in mathematics, and a the day to please me, that I cannot find it At length a period being put to this mys- been known for a quarter of a century pre by turning the yoke, threw Jin and the oxlittle cherry-cheeked girl was drawing pic- in my heart to speak an unkind word to terious descent, he found breath to inquire vious. That was a very creditable fact, and en all down in a heap together. anybody." What an influence then hath of his companion, who was still beside he would conclude by proposingwoman over the heart of man, to soften it him, whither they were going. Where am I? "The memory of that honorable calling led out for help. The farmer asked, "What and make it the fountain of cheerful and Where are you taking me ?' he exclaimed, which was unrepresented in the State Pri- is the matter ?' pure emotions Speak gently, then; a hap- "To hell !" replied the stranger, and im- son."-Cheers. py smile and a kind word of greeting, after mediately interminable echnes repeated the toils of the day are over, cost nothing, the fearful sound 'to hell ! to hell ! to and go far toward making a home bappy hell !!

INDUSTRIOUS TRIO IN CALIFORNIA .- Near Forman's rauch, about ten miles south of this place, may be seen daily working in a ried the clothes and the medicines." "Yes gluch, with commendable perseverance and energy, a trio composed of two American ladies and a gentleman. While the gest picks and shovels, one of the ladies-whose costume is a silk dress covered with a man's coat, as near, we suppose, as she can imitate the Bloomer in the mines-carries the dirt to the tocker, where the other lady sits work. ing with all the assiduity of an old miner .-We wish California was well supplied with were all laid aside. A neat gilt bible, bear- such ladies as these, who, justead of harrassing the marks of constant usage, was ing their husbands about "woman's rights" brought. The son read an interesting por- and "Tarkish costumes," would wash as who has followed the fifth division of infantry, now in garrison at Maestrict, in all their marches since 1827. He was with the regiment in their last campaign, and at the siege of Antwerp lost a claw by a shot from a howitzer. Returned to Maestricht, he spent there the last twenty years of his life, and died in his twenty-fourth year. He was solemply interred under the wall of the fortress

Tue best dowry to advance the marriage

"I've no objection to that, but as a com- no whisper was heard from the astonished inspecting the self-loading rifle, recently in- she answered that there was no rest in hell; erbocker Magazine, has contributed a reminpensation for my Bible Class, you must join audience around him. He was thinking of vented and patented by Col. P. W. Porter, that they must ever toil at on those very iscence of by gone days, which shows that the Ladies' Sewing Circle, and I will take the poverty and ignorance of his early of Tennessee. Our attention had been drawn pleasures; and innumerable voices echoed the polka was not unknown among the early care of Fred one afternoon in the week, to days-of the religious errors which had to this subject some weeks since by observ- through the interminable vaults, "There is Dutch settlers of the Jerseys, although its conwell nigh caused his destruction—of the ing the proceedings of the Tennessee legisla- no rest in hell !" whilst throwing open comitants of dress, as well as the 'poetry of ture, in which this fire-arm was spoken of in their vests, each disclosed in his bosom an motion, have been somewhat etherialized the strongest terms of commendation, and in ever burning flame. These they said, since the days of 'Old Diedrich.' The cor-

We have much encouragement. Only on like an angel of light and love, and musket. After examining the gun for our- his conductor returned, and, at his earnest companied by an old Dutch negro, to take think of the many learned men who have honors which now surrounded him. At selves, we have arrived at the same conclu- entreaty, restored him again to earth; but, care of the horses and young missus.' The educated themselves, and risen to respecta- length he uncovered his face and amid sti- sion of the members of the Tennessee Legis- as he quitted him, he said, "Remember, in a boys arrived rather later, and found the girls bility and usefulness, wholly through their fled sobs said to his wife, "tell the children, lature and the prominent military men of year and a day we meet again." own exertions, even after they were some- dear, the conversation we had together, that State. We regard it as the most imporwhat advanced in life. Roger Sherman just twenty years ago to-night, around our tant improvement made in small arms for woke, feverish and ill; and, whether from Could chromatography have been known in from thirty to sixty times in succession, ac- panions altogether. fection will rear a stone, and plant a few cording to the size of the magazine used .-As a revolver, it can be discharged sixteen they flocked around him, bent on recovering boys were their hats with a new pipe in the times in half a minute; and as a self-loader, so valuable a member of their society; and hat-band, and nails in their shoes, which and the stone will fall, and neither friend from thirty to fifty times in a minute. It is having wrong from him a confession of the had a pyrotechnic effect when brought nor stranger will be concerned to ask which a beautiful gun, and is light, and easily han- cause of his defection, which, as may be in collision with the sand on the floor .-Augustus was a pale, spare young man of the forgotten millions of the earth was alled. The principle may be applied to the supposed, appeared to them eminently ridi- I really believe that some of these nails, shot gun and pistol, and we are informed by culous, they soon contrived to make him must have been made of steel, for they shot gun and pistol, and we are informed by culous, they soon contrived to make him must have been made of steel, for they should be in the supposed of his good resolutions. He joined made the fire fly the adousty, about the said, had been sadly neglected in his youth. He had been bound apprentice to a rough He had been bound apprentice to a rough All the little memorials of our remembers, which will be exhibited in a short time. Col Porter that he is having finished one of each, which will be exhibited in a short time. The rifle shoots with as much accuracy as of life; and when the annual saturnalia earnest. the ordinary rifle, and with greatly more came round, he found himself with his glass After the boys had gio slings all around, force; whilst it can be used with efficacy in in his hand at the table, when the president and offered the last gill in each glass, with any kind of weather.

scene in the "Life of Lord George Buntinek P, setts. Both these manufactories are exten-"He sat in his usual place -in that general- sively prepared for this business .- Washing- upon the young man's ear like a knell; but lected her by a wink; but such a wink !-

A SINGULAR DREAM. Some ninety years ago, there flourished from the extreme profligacy of its members, and the licentionsness of their orgies, was commonly called the Hell Club, Besides their nightly or weekly meetings, they held one grand annual saturnalia, in which each and blasphemy; and on these occasions ter. there was no star amongst them whose lurid light was more conspicuous than that of young Mr. Archibald B., who endowed with He had suffered some embarrassment in get- To the house generally it was a performance frustrated by his subsequent reckless dissi-nual festival, Mr. Archbald B., having re-

mance. Meeting him one morning, I asked ble terror in the youth, who plunged his tures of the exterior world. There were nim to tell me the secret of his constant happy spurs into his horse attempted to fly but in nine hundred prisoners there of every nation serted his ship and went into the country

At length a light appeared, which soon increased to a blaze! but instead of the cries, the groans, and lamentations which the terrified traveler expected, nothing met his ear but sounds of music, mirth and jolity and he found himself at the entrance of a superb building, far exceeding any he had seen constructed by human hands. Within, ment, or pursuit of man on earth but there was being carried on with a vehemence that excited his unutterable amazement. There the young and lovely still swarm through the maze of the giddy dance! There the panting steed still bore his brutal rider through the excitement of the goaded race ! There, over the midnight bowl, the intem. nity. perate still drawled out the wanton song or maudeling blasphemy! The gambler plied DEATH OF A MILITARY Dog .- The Dutch forever his endless game, and the slaves of mammon toiled through eternity their bitter task ; whilst all the magnificence of earth paled before that which now met his view.

He soon perceived that he was among old acquaintances, whom he knew to be dead, burgh Gazette. and each, he observed, was pursuing the object, whatever it was, that had formerly ennance mildness, in her speech wiedom, and introduce him to the pleasures of the place lime either taking up the nozious air or for- micely filled up as to render detection very which appeared to be very unlike what he cing it out of the well.

vice and the Bible Class. In the evening | tears, his lip quivered, he covered his face VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT IN FIRE ARMS. had expected, and indeed an extremely We had an opportunity on yesterday, of agreeable one. But, with the cry of agony, > years and one of which the government ought to avail itself.

>
> the effect of the dream or of his preceding orgies, he was so unwell as to be obliged to skirts, and green ribbons around the waist;
>
> The rifle is used either as a revolver or a keep his bed for several days; during artificial roses in their hair as large as the self loader. As a revolver, it fires eight which period he had time for many serious one that used to surmount the haggis at times in succession, and may be immediately reflections, which terminated in a resolution | Mistress Nicholson's on a Burn's festival, converted into a self-loader, when it fires to abandon the club and his licentious com- and cheeks as red almost as the boddice;

> Col. Porter is baving his rifles manufacture gan with saying, "Gentlemen, this being girl, the dancing began. The first boy that ed at Taunton and Worcester, in Massachu- leap year, it is a year and a day since our threw a sixpence in the fiddler's hat was in Glasgow a club of young men, which trusive thoughts, till, in the gloom of a win- degree of coyness, up rose the fair partner; ter's morning he mounted his horse to ride and her father's best negro, usually crouchwas found with his saddle and bridle on, sometimes call out : "Dat's my young misne tried to excel the other in drunkenness a few yards off lay the corpse of his mas- she and her partner seemed intent on tiring

> This is a true story and no fiction; the really fagged, off went the boy's coat, and circumstances happened as here related .- then the nails in his shoes were brought to An account of it was published at the time, bear on a fresh handful of white sand brilliant talents and a handsome person, had but the copies were brought up by the thrown on the floor for his especial benefit. held out great promise in his boyhood, and family. Two or three, however, were preraised hopes which had been completely served, and the narrative was printed.-

tired to bed he dreamed the following in the city of Boston, Mr. Bigelow, of the shape our habits to that object or we fail .-Evening Post, in responding to a toast, allu- What enabled Franklin to obtain the highest He fancied that he himself was mounted ded to the honesty and good character of honors of philosophic fame; to stand, as he on a favorite black horse that he always practical printers. He said he esteemed it expesses it, "before kings," and what is betrode, and he was proceeding towards his an honor at all times to appear as the repre- ter, to live in the memory of his countrymen? own house-then a country seat embow- sentative of the Press, but he felt it more The early formation of good habits. The ered with trees, and forming part of the highly when called to be its representative persual of his auto-bigraphy, which no young city-when a stranger whom the darkness among a company of Printers. He might "I noticed," said Franklin, "a mechanic of the night prevented his distinctly discern- state a reason why he made that distine" were. What made Grand the richest citizen

-we look abroad over it, and it seems im- the rigging, and they are all going to the nense-so does the sea. What ages had men lived -- and knew but a small portion .--They circumnavigate it now with a speed under which its vast bulk shrinks. But let two eggs to a high froth; then add a quarthe astronomer lift up his glass and he terof a pound of ground or powdered sugar; learns to believe in a total mass of matter, ompared with which this great globe itself with lemon or rose. This will frost the top pecomes an imponderable grain of dust .-And so to teach us walking along the road of life, a year, a day, or an hour shall seem ong. As we grow older the time shortens; but when we lift up our eyes to look beyond this earth, our seventy years, and the few thousands of years which have rolled over the human race, vanish into a point; for loaves are moulded, and before they are then we are measuring Time against Eter- set down to "rise," take a small portion of

THE amount of freight received from the east is now very large. The agents of the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company, Covode and Graham, yesterday received fifty wagon loads, one of which contained probably the greatest weight ever brought to Pittsburgh the existence of a God; he denies --- yea, in one wagon-viz: 11,871 pounds .- Pitts- while standing on the footstool of omnipo-

To CLEAR a well of foul air, put a quart or grossed him; when, finding himself relieved two of unslacked lime in a bucket and beof the presence of his unwelcome conductor fore lowering it into the well, pour a suffihe ventured to address his former friend, cient quantity of water on the lime to slack Mrs. D-, whom he saw sitting, as had it; then let it down to the water but not so a number of ten and twenty dollar gold piebeen her wont on earth, absorbed at loo- as to go into it. In a few minutes the well ces are in circulation at Pittsburg, having requested her to rest from the game, and will be cleared of foul air, the slacking holes first bored through them, and then so

DUTCH DANCING IN OLDEN TIMES.

An antiquarian correspondent of the Knick-

"All the girls in the neighborhood came seated close together on one side of the At this crisis of his dream, the sleeper at room, and each a blaze of gaudy colors !blood-red cornelian beads around the neck, He was no somer well, however, then and occasionally pea green gloves! The rising to make the accustomed speech, be- an extra dose of natmeg, to some favorite last auniversary." &c. The words struck entitled to the first partner. He usually seashamed to expose his weakness to the All the upper part of his body winked, hat jeers of his companions, he sat out the feast included; and after putting the end of her plying bimself with wine even more liber- finger into her mouth, and throwing her ally than usual, in order to drown his in | head a little on one side, to show a proper home. Some hours afterwards, his horse ed in the corner of the fire place, would quietly grazing by the road side, about half sus; can't she dance, dough?" And so way between the city and B's house, whilst she would; for with a shuffling step, both each other out. When the parties became

PORMATION OF HARITS.

Success in life depends in a great measure on the early formation of our habits. Whe ther our grand object be wealth or fame, or At the printer's Festival, given last week that nobler one, exalted virtue, we must man should omit, will show what those habits of our country, and the benefactor of his Some six or seven years ago he had the race! The formation of early habits of fru-"And who are you!" exclaimed the honor of being the inspector of Prisons, and gality, disinterestedness and self-denial .was part of his duty to observe the interest- they result from a few faint resolutions .--

A TAR growing sick of his business, de-

Jack, frightened with the confusion, baw-

"Matter! matter enough," by conscience, replied Jack, "The larboard ox has got on TIME AND ETERNITY .- We step the earth the starboard side-old Jin has got foul in bottom stern formost.11

ICING FOR CARES .- Beat the whites of beat it well till it will lie in a heap; flavor of a common sized cake. Place what will be sufficient on the top of the cake, then dip a broad-bladed knife in cold water and spread the ice evenly over the whole BREAD WITHOUT CRUST .-- When the clean laid, warm it and rud it lightly over the loaves. The result will be a crust beautifully soft and tender throughout; this is not guess work.

I PITY the unbeliever. He sees nothing above, around, or beneath him, that evinces tence, and while gazing upon the dazzling throne of the Eternal, he shuts his intellect to the light of reason, and DENIES THERE IS difficult.