

From the Journal of Commerce, Oct. 27.

MR. WEBSTER AND MR. CALHOUN. In the notices of Mr. Webster the remark is made that neither of the weighty trio who so long occupied the attention and attracted the admiration of the country, reached the Presidency. As long ago as the second term of Mr. Monroe, the last of the revolutionary line of Presidents, the cynical John Randolph predicted that no great man would ever again be elected President.

THE ORIENTAL TRADE—ALARM OF ENGLAND. A writer in the London Daily News is disturbed by the apprehension of American competition in the India trade. He thinks that after all the battles fought to establish English commercial supremacy in India and the East, the danger is imminent to their continued possession of that trade, on account of the enterprise of the Americans in that quarter. After alluding to the growth of the Russian Commerce in India, the writer urges some instant action of the East India Company to retain its ground, adding: "Our commerce cannot be forced like a cucumber, but must be reared like an infant. And this the Court neglects, to strangle it in its birth. America's incipient trade with the opposite coast, on which they hold no harbor, and where they have fought no battles, nor acquired large kingdoms, is already becoming more valuable than our own, and will grow into an extensive commerce. Any mail may tell us that an American Consul is appointed to the Gulf. Time, indeed, it was that the Court should awaken from its nightmare. An American ship master will land a cargo on the Mekran coast at a less expense than a cargo of British goods can be landed in Bombay; and the only way to defy such dangerous competition is to make the most of the great advantages afforded by the India sea as the highway to Central Asia."

It is America, not Russia, we fear. All the world over taxes are being reduced; but in India we, three or four years ago, imposed an additional ad valorem duty of 5 per cent on importations of English goods, because our customs were falling.

LOUIS NAPOLEON AND THE POPE.—Although reports are assiduously propagated of the complete success of General Gemen's mission to Rome, the correspondent of the London News says, that the Pope will not come to Paris if he can help it, and although his Holiness is now a sort of state prisoner of France in his own palace, he is not so helpless in this matter as he might be imagined. He knows that the French army was not sent to Rome to serve him, but to further the ambitious designs of the French President; and he could afford to disregard as idle any threat to withdraw that army, because the effect of such a measure would be either to place him under the protection of Austria or to produce a republican rising in Rome—alternatives more distasteful to Louis Napoleon than to himself.

The latest story current in official circles is that the Pope and the elderly cardinals whose duty it would be to accompany him, are afraid of travelling in cold weather, and that the coronation will be put off till May, to suit the convenience of the head of the church. But there is strong reason to think that the negotiations are in a state far less favorable to the darling object of Louis Napoleon than even this dilatory plea to the pressing instances of Gen. Gemen would imply.

HUMAN FAT, CANDLES AND SOAP.—When the Cemetery of the Innocents at Paris was removed outside of the barriers, the buried corpses which had accumulated to the depth of six feet, were found, to a great extent apparently converted into fat. The substance of the skin, cellular tissue, and tendons, all the soft parts, and even the bones, had completely disappeared, leaving only the fat, which, resisting longest the influence of decay, (oxygen) remained in the form of margaric acid. This human fat was employed to the extent of many tons by the soap boilers and tallow chandlers of Paris, for the manufacture of soap and candles.—The French are a people of fine sentiment, and they certainly carried the quality to a charming point of reflection in receiving light from candles made out of the bodies of their fathers.

ANOTHER FIRE IN TOWN.—We are informed that another fire occurred in Townsend last Monday night, by which a greater amount of property was destroyed than was occasioned by any of the many fires which have occurred in that ill-fated town since the great conflagration of 1846. It commenced (according to somewhat conflicting accounts) at or opposite Montague's store, on the corner of the Public Square, and destroyed, in its progress southward, the entire block of brick buildings from that point to Bridge street, embracing the best built and most compact portion of the town. The loss of property must be immense. It is said to be the work of an incendiary.—Montrose Democrat, 28th ult.

DANIEL WEBSTER WAS BORN on the 13th of January, 1782, and was consequently, at the time of his death in the 71st year of his age. We would call your attention to the advertisement of Swaim's Panacea, for the Cure of Scrofula—in another column.

POISONING.—Thousands of parents who use Vermifuge composed of Castor oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware, that while they appear to benefit the patient, they are actually laying the foundations for a series of diseases, such as salivation, loss of sight, weakness of limbs, &c. In another column will be found the advertisement of Hobensack's Medicines, to which we ask the attention of all directly interested in their own as well as their children's health. In Liver Complaints and all disorders arising from those of a bilious type, should make use of the only genuine medicine, Hobensack's Liver Pills.

"Be not deceived," but ask for Hobensack's Worm Syrup and Liver Pills, and observe that each has the signature of the Proprietor, J. N. HOBENSACK, as none else are genuine.

MARRIED.—On the 31st ult., by the Rev. T. M. Good-fellow, Lewis Chamberlin, to Mrs. Susan Smith, all of Shamokin, Northumberland county.

In Pottsville, on the 26th ult., by the Rev. J. McCool, Mr. Edward C. Hanna, to Miss Margaret Haas, all of the above place.

DIED.—In Lower Augusta on the 23d ult., Mr. ABRAHAM BROUSOUS, aged 59 years.
