A COLLOQUY WITH MYSELF.

BY BERNARD BARTON.

What are riches ? Hoarded treasures May, indeed, the coffers fill; Yet, like earth's most fleeting pleasures, - Leave thee poor and heartless still.

What are pleasures ? When afforded, But by gands which pass away, Read their fate in lines recorded On the sea-sands yesterday.

What is fashion ? Ask of folly, She her worth can best express, What is maping melancholy ? Go and learn of idleness.

What is truth ? Too stern a preacher For the prosperous and gay ; But a safe and wholesome teacher In adversity's dark day.

What is friendship ? If well founded, Like some beacon's heavenward glow If on false pretentions grounded, Like the treacherous sand below.

What is love ? If earthly only, Like a meteor of the night ; Shining but to leave more lonely Hearts that hailed its transient light

But when calm, refin'd and tender, Parified from passion's stain, Like the more, in gentle splendar, Ruling o'er the peaceful main

What are hopes, but gleams of brightness Glancing darkest waves between ? Of form-crested waves, whose whiteness Gladdens ocean's darksome green ?

What are fears? Grim phantoms, throwing Shadows o'er the pilgrim's way, Every moment darker growing, If we yield unto their sway.

What is mirth? A flash of lightning, Followed but by deeper gloom; Patience, more than sonshine, brightening Sorrows's path and labor's doom.

What is time ? A river, flowing To eternity's vast sea, Forward whither all are going, Ou its bosom bearing thee.

What is life ? A bubble, floating On that silent rapid stream ; Few, too few, its progress noting,

Till it bursts, and ends the dream. What is death ? Asunder rending Every tie we loved so well;

But the gate of life unending, Joy in heaven or woe in hell !

THERE has been another dispatch over Filberts Sweet Oil, the Spiritual Telegraph. Louis Philippe was keeping an oyster celler, and John Port Wine, Newland Maffit and Edmund Kean were Sherry tending bar for him ! Things were quiet, but an exciting time was expected before the elections came off.

HAPPINESS is the very light and sun of the whole animated universe ; and where she is not, it were better that nothing should be. Without her, wisdom is but a shadow, virtue a name ; she is their sovereign mistress ; for her alone they live ; to enjoy and to communicate her, is their effort, and the consummation of their toil.

A country physician went to see a patient, and took with him his gun, that he might wing any game he encountered in crossing the fields. A friend meeting him on the way asked him whither he was going. "To see a patient," was the answer.

"What, then," said his friend, "do you really fear you will miss him in the ordina- at the lowost prices. ry way, that you have to take your gun with you ?"

THE REASON WHY .- A gentleman, on hearing a lady praise the eyes of a certain minis ter, wrote the following:

> I cannot praise the doctor's even, I never suy his gimee divine : For when he prays he shuts me eyes,

And when he preaches, he shuts sites.

A TEACHER in a Sunday School was lecturing a class of little girls on the influence of pious instructions in the formation of youthful character. "Ah, Miss Caroline," said he to one of his class, "what do you think you would have been without your good father and plous mother ?" "I suppose, sir," answered Miss Caroline, "I should have been an orphan."

A bear rarely exceeds twenty years; a wolf twenty; a fox fourteen or sixteen ; lious are long lived-Pompey lived to the age of seventy years; a squirrel or hare seven or eight years; rabits seven. Elephants have been known to live to the age of 400 years. When Alexander the Great had conquered Phorus, King of India, he took a great elephant which had fought valiantly for the king, named him Ajex, dedicated him to the Sun, and let him go with this inscription "Alexander, the son of Jupiter, hath dedicated Ajax to the Sun." This elephant was found with this inscription 350 years afterward. Pigs have been known to live to the age of thirty years; the rhiaoceros to twenty. BRANDY, GIN, WNIE, and all kinds of A horse has been known to live to the age of sixty-two, but averages twenty to thirty. Camels sometimes live to the age of one hundred. Stags are long lived. Sheep seldom exceed the age of ten. Cows live about fifteen years. Cuvier considers it probable that whales sometimes live one thousand years. Mr. Mallerton has a skeleton of a swan that attained the age of two hundred years. Pelicans are long lived. A tortoise has been known to live to the age of one hundred and seven.
