Serious Riot—The Military called out—The "Know Nothings" and Irish armed—Several persons dangerously wounded.
There was a terrible riot in Brooklyn yesterday, during which some forty or fifty persons, either witnesses or parties causing it, were very seriously injured. The particulars, as near as our reporters could learn, are

On the previous Subbath, one of the street preachers who have been the cause of many disturbances in New York, went to Brooklyn, necompanied by a body-guard, and preached in a vacant lot in Smith street .-During his discourse, he was several times interrupted by persons who had evidently spent the previous portion of the day, where spirituous liquors were easily obtained. Several arrests were the consequence of the disturbance, after which, the guard moved back to New York. On their way down Main street, they were attacked by a body of men-also under alcohalic excitement-and. as is stated, forced on board the ferry boat by superior numbers. During the week this occurrence was made known, and yesterday the same party, strengthened by some three hundred others, crossed the Wall street ferry and proceeded to the place where the street preaching had taken place when they were in Brooklyn before. Their great strength caused some apprehension-particularly as a report had been Canals, and to specify the legislation necescirculated that on Saturday afternoon those sympathizing with the steet preacher had telegraphed to their friends in Philadelphia to come and help them, and that fifteen hundred had arrived. The object of all being to the appointment of a committee. burn down St. James Church, situated in Jay street, and used by the Bishop.

Fearing there might be some truth in the story, the Mayor of Brooklyn ordered a section of the 14th Regiment to be in rediness at the armory should their services be required.

The gathering continued to increase in the vicinity of Smith street, but from the prompt and energetic action of Mayor Lambert, aided by the police, the streets were kept clear, and no fight occurred in that vicinity. As soon as the preaching exercises were over. those who were there from New York formed into procession, and accompanied by about two thousand of their Brooklyn friends, proceeded down Fulton street to Main, and down Main to the Catharine ferry. They were followed by perhaps five thousand spectators, and proceeded without much disturbance until the head of the line was crossing Front street in Main. At this point there was a party of men, nearly all of whom were intoxicated, and of course as ready for a fight as those in the procession.

One of them used an expression calculated procession. This, however, was not noticed, but soon after one of the parties on the corner cast a stone into the line of the procession, and an immediate return of bullets from severely injured. The police commenced work immediately and worked well. They silenced or arrested all within their reach who were engaged in the riot, taking many who were badly cut and bruised to the various station-houses.

The excitement was now intense. Over twenty thousand people had gathered, and fights were going on in several places. Vollevs of stones were thrown from the alleythose forming it answered invariably by a discharge of the revolvers. The Mayor seemed everywhere present, urging and encourageing the police to do their work, and at length something like order was restored.

A little after 8 o'clock the military came down-the riot act was read, and the rioters and spectators dispersed without additional bloodshed, and at 10 o'clock the streets were deserted.

. Although many of those who were injured -particularly the man who was shot through his head, and the boy who lost a portion of his face -are in a very dangerous condition, there are none dead, so far as our reporter could learn, up to a very late hour.

IMPORTANT SURGICAL FEAT .- The St. Louis papers of the 12th inst., state that Dr. N. McDowell, a distinguished surgeon of that city, has successfully performed the operation for the exterpation of a tumefied paroted gland; (this is the gland involved by the mumps.) It is said to have swollen to the size of a Turkey's egg, and to have extended its morbid connections some three inches or more, measuring from the lobe of the ear downward, involving many of the great ves. sels and nerves of the neck. The great point of success consisted in the fact that Dr. McDowell did not occasion the loss of six ounces of blood, and that he did not make the necessity of applying a ligature to a single artery.

The honor of the first performance of the heroic operation belongs to our own country and New York State. Dr. White, of Hudson. performed it in 1809. Dr. McClelland, of Philadelphia, repeated it in 1826, and it has been repeated elsewhere since. European surgeons doubted the practibility of so formidable an operation, until American surgery demonstrated its safety.

Mr. Colwell offered the following resolution, the passage of which was recommended by the committee :

Resolved, That a Committe of fourteen Stockholders be appointed, who shall be empowerered to take such measures as may be necessary, on behalf of this company, to complete its line of improvement from Philadelphia to Pittsburg, and they be authorized to parchase the Main Line of State Works, or such parts thereof as may be agreed upon, if the State will agree to sell the same on such terms as they may deem equitable.

A debate ensued upon the subject, during FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT which Mr. Kennedy submitted the following substitute :--

Resolved. That the Committee of twenty one be continued, with instructions to report to an adjourned meeting, a specific proposition to buy the Columbia Railroad, to take stock in a separate Company, to buy the sary and proper to best increase the ability of this Company to promote the public weal

Messrs. Baldwin and Merrick opposed the substitute, and Messrs. Magee and Jeanes The question was taken on the substitute, when it was negatived, receiving only one affirmative vote. Mr. Spangler opposed the appointment of committee or the purchase of the Columbia

Ruilroad under any circumstances. A new road could be built for $4,000,000 that would be much preferable to that road. Mr. Henry M. Phillips was opposed to the resolution. He thought it was an assumption to take for granted that no bid would be made for the main line unless the Pensylvania Railroad made an offer. If there was no bid made, the bill provided for the receiving | judgement. of offers subsequently, and there was plenty of time for the company to act in case it was deemed impedient. He moved to strike out all after the word Resolved, and insert, that the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. This motion prevailed, and the meeting adjourned.

EXTRAORDINARY AFFAIR IN THE GULF .-As Capt. Daniel Gorman, of the ship Jessy, from Limerick, was on his outward voyages and when about forty-five miles Southeast of to provoke to hostility those who formed the the Island of Anticoti, during a thick fog, and surrounded by field ice, he heard the report of a gun. Supposing it to be a signal from another vessel near at hand, he caused the fog bell to be rung, to avoid a collisionrevolvers was the consequence. They probably went out together on the field of ice to kill seals, and had drifted out to sea, when the first dying from the cold, second million of dollars was subscribed to ways and sidewalks upon the procession, and the other committed suicide to avoid a more lingering death .- Quebec Mercury, May 27.

> Another Scheme of Annexation.-Accor. ding to the New York Post the old scheme of Mr. Calhoun to get the Dominican Government under American control, with a view to annex the whole Island of Hayti, and put down the negro empire, established by Solouque, is revived under the present administration. A special commissioner or commission-ess, Mrs. Cazneau, formerly Miss storms, and known as a writer for the newspapers by the name of Cora Montgomery," has been appointed to undertake the task and inquire into its feasability. Her husband is ostensibly the commissioner, but the lady has left him in Texas, and gone on the mission herself. Under such auspices the scheme, if it be seriously intended, is likely to flourish better than some of the recent missions from the United States. Petticoat diplomacy has not yet been tried in this country, and "Young America" is the proper individual to initiate the experiment.

The country never looked more lovely and beautiful than at present, and there i no section of the state that can boast of scenery more beautiful and majestic than the views from our neighborhood. The beautiful pool or lake of water, over a balf mile wide, and two miles long, that skirts our shore on the east, and is bounded by the blue hill on the west, cannot be surpassed. Beautiful as the scenery of the Susquehanna is acknowledged to be, at no point is it more varied or picturesque than here, and almost every one who makes a trip between this place and Northumberland on the steamboat, is forcibly struck with the beauty of the surrounding landscape.-Although this steamboat was constructed for the accommodation of the coal trade, and the convenience of passengers and travellers, whose interest it may be to visit this place and the coal region, it will also add to the pleasure and enjoyment of those who may chose to visit us for the purpose of health and recreation. The principal object of the stockholder, was, no doubt, the accommodation of the coal trades but as the carrying of passengers will prove extracts :-no small item, and by proper management can be so managed as not to interfere with the towing of boats, it will not be now abandoned, even if another boat should have to be built, which is not improbable. It is by such conveniences and comforts that the enterprising towns of the west attract and induce strangers and others to visit and locate amongst them, and thus while they greatly add to their own pleasures and convenience, they also indirectly benefit themselves.

The election yesterday passed off generaly very quietly. There was but little exhibition of excitement at any of the polls, though the vote appears to be heavy, showing that the citizens took a lively interest in contained 50,000 inhabitants. We stopped the election. The result is a general sweep by the Whig, Native and Temperance union of the various wards upon the general ticket. The Ward Offices had not been counted at he hour we were compelled to go to press. The reported votes and majorities in the

The ward offices, such as Guardians of the Poor Board of Health, School Directors, have, probably, been carried by the same party in a large majority of the wards.

The result is astounding to the Democratic party, who are at a loss to explain the cause of the terrible defeat they have sustained.

As soon as the result was known, the exeitement among the Whigs and Natives was very great, and the rejoicing loud. The friends of Conrad, Hazethurst, and thee rest of the successful candidates, met at Shinn's hotel, and formed in procession for the purpose of visiting their favorite candidates, and congratulating them upon the result. The procession, which number from three to five thousand persons, was accompanied by a band of music. The body marched down Chestnut street to Tenth and up Tenth to the residence of Judge Conrad, on the corner of Morgan street. A number of his friends were there and apprised him of his election before the procession arrived. When the head of it reached the house, the parlor windows were thrown upon and the Judge appeared. He was greeted with nine harty cheers as the first Mayor of the Consolidated City of Philadelphia, by upwards of seven thousand majority." After quiet had been restored, the Judge commenced a speech. He said that the triumph belonged to the people, and not to him. It was a triumph of all that every true American citizen could justly be proud of, and over which the flag of our country can proudly wave, and to which every patriotic heart confidently gives allegiance.
