Upon receiving a copy of my first poem, put lished in the village newspoper. Ah! here it is! I'm famous now-An author and a poet!
It really is in print! Ye gods!
How proud I'll be to show it!
And gentle Anna! What a thrill Will animate her breast, To read these ardent lines and know

To whom they are addressed. Why, bless my soul-here's something strange! What can the paper mean, By talking of the 'braceful brooks That gander o'er the green?'

And here a 't' instead of 't, Which makes it 'tippling rill;, We'll seek the shad' instead of 'shade,' And 'hell' instead of 'hill.'

They look so'-what? I recollect 'Twas 'sweet' and then 'twas 'kind,' And now, to think, the stupid fool For 'bland' has printed 'blind,' Was ever such provoking work—
Tis curious by the bye,
How anything is rendered blind By giving it an 'i.'

'Bast thou no tears,' the 't,s' left out, 'Hast thou no ears,' instead; I hope that thou art dear,' is put I hope that thou are dead.' Who ever saw in such a space So many blunders crammed! 'Those gentle eyes bedimmed,' is spelt 'Those gentle eyes bedammed.

'The color of the rose,' is 'nose,' 'Affection' is 'affliction;'
I wonder if the likeness hold, In fact as well as fiction? Who ever should have deemed That such a triffing thing could change A 'friend' into a 'fiend!'

'Thou art the same,' is rendered 'lame, It really is too bad, And here because an "i' is out, My 'lovely maid' is 'mad ;, They drove her blind by poking in An 'i'—a process new; And now they've gonged it out again, And made her crazy, too.

'Where are the muses fled, that theu Should'st live so long unsung! Thus read my version; here it is-'Should'st live so long unhung!' 'The fate of woman's love is thine, An 'h' commences 'fate ;' How small a circumstance will turn

A woman,s love to hate! I'll read no more! What shall I do ! I'll never dare to send it; The paper's scattered tar and wide, 'Tis now too late to mend it.

Oh Fame! thou cheat of human bliss! Why did I ever write?
I wish my poem had been burnt
Before it saw the light. Let's stop and recapitulate;

I've damned her eyes, that's plain— I've told her she's a lunatic, And blind, and deaf, and lame. Was ever such a horrid hash In poetry or prose?
I've said she was a fiend, and praised The color of her nose.

1 wish I had that editor About a half a minute, I'd 'bang' him to his heart's content, And with an 'h' begin it. I'd 'jam' his body, eyes, and bones; And spell it with a 'd,'

He spells it with an 'e.'

Miscellaneous Matter

COMMON SCHOOLS .- In an oration at Williams' College, Massachusetts, Hon. Edward Everett once said : "I would rather occupy the bleakest nook of the mountain that towers above us, with the wild wolf and the rattlesnake for my nearest neighbors, with a village school, well kept, at the bottom of the hill, than to dwell in a paradise of fertility, if I must bring up my children in a lazy, pampered, self sufficient ignorance.

GREAT HARVEST .- The entire crop of Genesee county this season is estimated at 1,000, 000 bushels. The millers however, it is said, feel the present drought. The waters of the Genesee are very low, and they flow for the most part through the insatiable "mill races," leaving the bed of the river in the city, and the famous Falls are an unmoistened mass of bare rocks.
