CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE INDIANS.

The Expedition against the Indians of the Plains, which is understood to be in preparation for the ensuing season, attracts attention. According to the St. Louis Reexperience and ability admirably adapt him for such an enterprise. With such a head, the expedition must be a thorough and suc-cessful one, provided the War Department makes the requisite preparations. It is, how-ever, a serious and difficult affair. Of this all must feel satisfied who know the liabits of these Bedouins of the West. All or nearly all their warriors are excellent horsemen, and mounted upon their fleet-footed steeds, pursuit seems almost useless. Any force sent against them must be well provided with light cavalry to be effective. Some of the vaga-bond tribes of the plains have been gradually growing more and more insolent towards the whites, and committing depredations whenever occasion offered. The safety of our emigrant bands requires their prompt chastisement, and unless that be done thoroughly, the emigrant trail must be abandoned to savages who injest it. Now that our bardy pioneers are founding villages and cities, and erecting farms and wills all through Kansas and Nebraska, this protection is absolutely necessary to ensure the permanency of our settlements. The savage plunderers who have so long depredated upon the trading and emigrant caravans, must, and we have no

If these credits be allowed to him, he will have a balance of between twenty and thirty thousand dollars due to him. It is understood in Washington that he claims to have advanced for the Government's use something like the latter sum, as the most convenient way of getting it safely to the Atlantic side. They labored with commendable persaverence, drilling and blasting in the tough and pockety rock, until spring; but not the glitter of a particle of ore encouraged them to proceed. At length, tired of their fruitless toil, and disgusted with the place, they abandoned the work. One Sun-day in the April following, one of the partpers strolled from his cabin down to his old diggins, attracted by an idle curiosity to see the hole he had made. FATAL BRAVADO .- A man named Stedman cabinet maker, at Aurora, Portage county, Ohio, one day last week remarked to a la mosopathic physician there: "I could take any quantity of your pills without lajury."-The doctor replied.— If you were to take such a quantity of this," pointing to a special med-manufacturing portable cottages for Kansas and Nebraska in large numbers. They have generally two rooms. No nails are used, and aey can be put up or taken down in a few hours. The scarcity of timber on the pra-ries makes it an object for a settler to carry with him not only his furniture, but his house. It is stated that a cottage of two rooms requires about 3000 feet of timber.

KANSAS EMIGRATION .-- A party of substan tial Vermont farmers, with their families, started for Lawrence, Kansus, last Friday, via Springfield. A company of forty left Lawrence, Mass., for Kansas, on Wednesday. They were mostly members of the Methodist Church. A second meeting of Kansas emigrants was held in Springfield on Friday. About seventy-five have joined the colony, and the prospect is that the number a colored convict, died at the Penitentiary on Friday morning last, after serving a term of more than seven years. He was convicted at the October term of Dorchester county Court in 1847 of murder in the first degree, and sentunced to be hanged. The Governor interposed before the execution of the sentence, in consequence of his youth, being then only six-teen years old, and commuted his sentence to imprisonment for life. He had for some time suffered from consumption, which terminated
