Americanism.

THE PLATFORM OF THE AMERICAN PARTY.

The following are the "Platform and Prineiples of the Organization," as finally decided upon by the American National Conven-

PLATFORM AND PRINCIPLES.

-The auknowledgement of that Almighty Being, who rules over the Universe-who presides over the Councils of Nations-who conducts the affairs of men, and who, in every step by which we have advanced to the character of an independent nation, has distin-guished us by some token of Providential agency. II.-The cultivation and developement of a sentiment of profoundly intense American feeling; of passionate attachment to our country, its history and its institutions; of admiration for the purer days of our National existence; of veneration for the hero sm that precipitated our Revolution ; and of emulation of the virtue, wisdom and patriotism that framed our Constitution and first successfully applied its provisions. III.-The maintenance of the Union of these United States as the paramount politi-cal good ; or, to use the language of Washing-ton, "the primary objects of patriotic desire."

or subverit it.

2d. Uncompromising antagonisn to every principle of policy that endangers it. 3d. The advocacy of an equitable adjust-ment of all political differences which threatens its integrity or perpetuity. 4th. The suppression of all tendencies to political division, founded on "geographical discriminations, or on the belief that there is a real difference of interests and views" betweon the various sections of the Union.

5th. The full recognition of the rights of the several States, as expressed and reserved in the Constitution ; and a careful avoidance, by the general government, of all interference with their rights by legislative or executive

IV .--- Obedience to the Constitution of these United States, as the supreme law of the land, sacredly obligatory upon all its parts and members, and steadfast resistance to the spirit of innovation upon its principles, howover specious its pretexts. Avowing that in all doubted or disputed points it may only be legally ascertained and expounded by the judicial power of the United States.

Aud,as a corollary to the above :-I. A habit of reverential obedience to the laws, whether National, State, or Muncipal, notil they are either repealed or declared unconstitutional by the proper authority. 2. A tender and sacred regard for those acts of statesmanship, which are to be contradistinguished from acts of ordinary legisla-tion, by the fact of their being of the nature of compacts and agreements; and so, to be considered a fixed and settled national policy. V.-A radical revision and modification of the laws regulating immigration, and the settlement of immigrants. Offering to the honest immigrant, who from love of liberty or hatred of oppression, seeks an assylum in the United States, a friendly reception and protection. But unqualifiely condemning the inst. transmission to our shores of felons and paupers. VI.-The essential modification of the Naturalization Laws. The repeal by the Legislatures of the respective States, or all State laws allowing oseigners not naturalized to vote. .

The repeal, without retroactive operation. of all acts of Congress making grants of land to unnaturalized foreigners, and allowing them to vote in the Territories.

VII .- Hostility to the corrupt means by which the leaders of party have hitherto forced upon us our rulers and our political creeds.

placable enmity against the demoralizing system of rewards for political subserviency and of punishments for political independence. Disgust for the wild hunt after office which characterizes the age. These on the one hand. Or the other-Imitation of the practice of the purer days of the Republic; and admiration of the maxim that "office should seek the man, and not man the office," and of the rule that the just mode of ascertaining fitness for office is the capability, the faithfuln'ss, and the honesty of the incumbent or candidate. VIII.—Resistance to the aggressive policy and corrupting tendencies of the Roman Catholic Church in our country by the adarmy. vancement to all political stations-executive, legislative, judicial or diplomatic-of those only who do not hold civil allegiance, directly or indirectly, to any foreign power, whether civil or ecclesiastical, and who are Americans by birth, education and training - thus fulfilling the maxim "Americans only shall gorern America." The protection of all citizens in the legal and proper exercise of their civil and reli-gious rights and privileges; the maintenance of the right of every man to the full, unrestrained and peaceful enjoyment of his own religious opinions and worship, and a jealous resistance of all attemps, by any sect, denomination or church, to obtain an ascendancy over any other in the State, by means of any special privileges or exemption, by any polit-ical combination of its members, or a division of their civil allegiance with any foreign power, potentate or ecclesiastic. IX.-The reformation of the character of our National Legislature, by elevating to that dignified and responsible position men of higher qualifications, purer morals, and more unselfish patriotism

the Constitution, to legislate upon the subject of Slavery in the States where it does or may exist, or to exclude any State from admission into the Union because its Constitution does or does not recognize the institution of Sla-very as a part of its social system; and ex-pressly permitting any expression of opin-ion upon the power of Congress to establish or prohibit Slavery in any Territory, it is the sense of the National Council that Congress events not to lesislate upon the subject of ought not to legislate upon the subject of Slavery within the Territory of the United States, and that any interference by Congress states, and that any interference by Congress with Slavery as it exists in the District of Columbia, would be a violation of the spirit and intention of the compact by which the State of Maryland ceded the District to the United States, and a breach of the National faith

XIII.-The policy of the government of the United States, in its relation with foreign governments, is to exact justice from the strongest, and do justice to the weakest; re-straining, by all the power of the government, all its citizens from interference with the inera Pennsylvania. ternal concerns of nations with whom we are at peace. XIV.-This National Council declares that all the principles of the Order shall be henceforth everywhere openly avowed; and that each member shall be at liberty to make known the existence of the Order, and the fact that he himself is a member, and it re-commends that there be no concealment of the places of meeting of subordinate councils. E. B. BARTLETT, of Kentucky, President of National Council. C. D. DESULER, of New Jersey,

JAMES M. STEPHENS, of Maryland, Recording Secretary.

The London correspondent of the Suuday Courier has been to Paris, and writes thus of Mr. Greely: "Mr. Greely: presence in Paris is an inex-haustable fund of romance. He astounded the inmates of the hotel on his arrival, by throwing off his coat, putting a large green board over his head, and working away at an account of his travels for the Tribune.

Scarcely had the agitation at the Tuilleries subsided, when he threw the "Flower Market" into the w lest excitement. It appears that Mr. Greely appeared at the market at a most unusually early hour. The pert, sprightly flower girls were only just landing their sweet merchandise and unbundling their baskets, and the old women who carry on this poetic trade were all talking together with great volubility, while the daughters were arranging their fruits and flowers. The market was almost empty-here and there market was almost empty-here and there a manager of a restaurant slyly looking out for some choice vegetable, and grinning po-litely to the young ladies of the market. But the bustle of the day had not arrived, and quiet prevailed, when all of a sudden, if the story in the Sircle is not colored, in rolled, and tumbled a man whose "appearance threw all the men in the market into amazement. "En voila un prognard," said one, "Quet droic de corps," said the other. "Oh, la carotte d'homme," fell in the next ; so every one had his way, while all looked after him with "perfect wonder. But he, unaware of all this sturdily timbled on until he came face to face with a singularly sharp potato, which fas-cinated his attention, and led him to make inquiry about it of the old lady who occupied the stall "At this moment the excitement, which was intense as he entered the market, and which grew intenser the longer he lingered there, had risen to e dangerous pitch. Mr. Greely, little dreaming or caring for the storm, related to the lady how, on his last trip through Iowa, he had met a potato of exactly the same shape, and how his con-viction was that the seeds in Iowa were sown by a French emigrant who had brought them, very likely from the same stalk. While Mr. Greely was speaking, the old lady waxed in dignant, and conceiving from the pleasantness of his countenance that he was making to her some proposal of a doubtful character, in-formed him that her husband would be there in five minutes and dispose of him. Scarcely had she spoken, when the husband came u and asked Mr. Greely what he would buy On Saturday, the defendant appeared be-fore Hon John M. Wilson, in the Court of Common Pleas, and in obedience to the writ asked for "grey milk," Greely being taken by the French gardener for "gris lait." And as it went round that droll man wanted to buy "grey milk," the hilarity became uproarious, and Mr. Greely left the market full of plea-santness. Indeed, he is already well known, and a favorite with every one.

> FARMERS' HIGH SCHOOL. In pursuance of the law of the last session incorporating the Farmers' High School of Pennsylvania," the Board of Trustees met at Harrisburg on Thursday, the 14th inst., for the purpose of organization, and selection of a site for the location of the institution. The Board is composed of Governor Pollock and Secretary Curtin, who are ex-officio mem-bers, and Messrs. Frederick Watts of Cumberland, Dr. A. L. Elwyn and Algernon S. Roberts of Philadephia, H. N. McAllister of Centre, R. C. Walker of Allegheny, James Miles of Erie, John Strohm of Lancaster Wm. Jossup of Susquehanna, A. O. Heister of Dauphin, and James Gowen President of the State Agricultual Society, ex-officio .-

The members were all present out Wm. Jes-sup, James Gowen and Aldernon S. Roberts, many things too numerous to mention Sunbury, June 3, 1855 .- 3t. Communications to the Board informed it MOUNT CARMEL HOUSE, that Gen. James Irwin, of Centre county, offered gratuitously 250 acres of good limestone land in Harris township, upon condition that the school should be located there. Judge Miles offered 200 acres situate on the bank of Lake Eric, upon the line of the railroad, on the lake shore, if it should be located there and it was said the Commissioners of the county of Dauphin would probably farm owned by that county. Besides these, other persons proposed to sell, upon moderate terms, farms located in Delaware and Chester counties. All these communications were referred to a committee, composed of Gov. Pollock, Judge Watts and Dr. A. L. Elwin, with instructions to make an examination of the several properties offered, and report their determination to the next meeting of the Board, which will be held for that purpose early in July. The committee will meet at Harrisburg on Monday, the 25th inst., and rate. proceed by the Pennsylvania railroad to Spruce Creek, and thence to the land of Gen. Irwin, and by the way of the Elmira railroad. at Williamsport, to the New York and Eric road, and thence to Eric county, and return ing will examine the other proposed sites. The Board evinced at their meeting a de termined purpose to establish this school without delay, and to prosecute it with all the means and energy at their command; and we are pleased to hear that the means are probably quite ample to make a beginning. THE PUBLIC WORKS .- The public improve ments of this State during the month of May, yielded tolls to the State to the amount of $234,894, being an increase of $65,044 over the same month last year. The increase on the Delaware division is $20,000 over May of last year, and on the main line consisting o the Philadelphia and Columbia railroad, the Canal and Portage railroad, from Columbia to Pittsburg, the increase has been about $7000. This improvement is not calculated to diminish the value of the public works, which the Legislature has authorized to be sold SUNBURY AND ERIE RAILROAD .- At a meeting of the board of managers of this company, held on Saturday, Mr. John Lindsey was neid on Saturday, Mr. John Lindsey was elected Treasurer, in place of Mr. Philip M. WHY THERE IS NO BAIN IN PERU.

In Peru, South America, rain is unknown. The coast of Peru is within the region of per-petual south east trade winds. Though the petual south east trade winds. Though the Peruvian shores are on the verge of the great South Sea Boiler, yet it never rains there — The reason is plain. The south-east trade winds in the Atlantic occan first strike the water on the coast of Africa. Traveling to the north-west, they blow obliquely across the ocean until they reach the coast of Brazil.— By this time they are heavily laden with va-por, which they continue to bear along across the continent, depositing it as they go, and supplying with it the sources of the Rio de ha Plata and the southern tributaries of the Amazon. Finally they reach the snow-cap-ped Andes, and here is wrung from them the last particle of moisture that very low temped Andes, and here is wrung from them the last particle of moisture that very low tem-perature can extract. Reaching the summit of that range, they now tumble down as cool and dry winds on the Pacific slopes beyond. Meeting with no temperature colder than that which they were subjected to on the moun-tain tops, they reach the ocean before, they become charged with fresh vapor, and before, therefore, they have any which the Peruvian climate can extract. Thus we see how the top of the Andes becomes the reservoir from which are supplied the rivers of Chili and Pe-ru.—Lieut. Maury's Geography of the Sea.

Losses of the French Army in the Crimea. -The Paris correspondent of the London Times states, on authority of official informa, tion, that the number of French troops sent, out to the Crimea, from the commencement of the war, 182,000, of which number 120,000 are now effective, sous les armes. The loss onsequently is 62,000.
