Select Poetry,

OUR CHILDHOOD.

BY O. D. PRENTICE.

'Tis sad-yet sweet-to listen. To the soft wind's gentle swell, And think we hear the music Our children knew so well; To gaze out on the even. And the boundless fields of air, And feel again our boyhood wish

To roam like angel's there! There are many dreams of gladness

That cling around the past-And from the tomb of feeling Old thoughts come thronging fast-The forms we loved so dearly. In the happy days now gone,

The beautiful and lovely, So fair to look upon.

Those bright and lovely maidens Who seemed so formed for bliss. Too giorious and too heavenly For such a wold as this !

Whose soft dark eyes seemed swimming In a sea of liquid light, And whose locks of gold were streaming

O'er brows so sunny bright.

Whose smiles were like the sunshine In the spring-time of the year-Like the changeful gleams of April They followed every tear ! They have passed-like hope-away-All their loveliness has fled-Oh ! many a heart is mourning That they are with the dead.

Like the bright buds of Summer They have fallen from the stem-Yet ob--it is a lovely death To fade from earth like them t

And yet-the thought is saddening So muse on such as they-And feel that all the beautiful Are passing fast away ! That the fair ones whom we love, Grow to each loving breast, Like tendrils of the clinging vine ; Then perish where they rest.

And can we but think of these In the soft and gentle spring, When the trees are waving o'er us, And the flowers are blossoming ! For we know that winter's coming With his cold and stormy sky-And the glorious beauty round us Is blooming but to die !

Miscellany,

The Coal Mines of Turkey.

London Times, gives the following interesting account of the coal mines of Kosloo, in Turkey :

These mines have been now for eighteen months worked by the English Government, and, considering the shortness of the time and the difficulties which were encountered when the Turkish administration was superseded, the results are satisfactory.

On the 31st of October the shipping season ceased ; the returns extend, therefore, only up to that time. The whole quantity ex-tracted during the period of 14 months which has elupsed was 42,812 5-20 tens, of which 28,538 5.20 tons were shipped for the use of the English navy, 4,274 tons given to the French, and 15,000 tons remain ready for shipping carly in the spring.

The costs, including the expenses which the shipping of these remaining 15,000 tons will cause, amount to £32,198, so that the average cost per ton is 15s, exclusive of the royalty of 10 per cent, payable to the Tur-kish Government, and 10 per cent, which Messrs. Barkley think should be allowed for the inferior combustible powers of this coal, in order to establish an equitable comparison between its cost and that of the coal obtained from England. With these additions the ton of coal on board ship at Kosloo costs £2 7s 63d, while the cost of English coal in port at Constantinople was for the last year 55s. per ton. For the next twelve months it is hoped that 42,800 tons will be extracted. which, with the 15,000 not yet shipped will make 57,800 tons. But this is the quantity which may be extracted ; the quantity which can really be shipped depends on the number of mules and bullock carts which can be employed for the conveyance to the shipping staits at Zungelduk, and thence to our dopots at Kosloo. For the 57,800 tons, 300 mules and 100 bullock carts would be required, and they can easily be procured in the neighborhood. Twenty lighters, able to carry, in fine weather, from 400 to 500 tons a day, would be sufficient for their conveyance to the vessels. There has been a new layer of coal, of a superior quality, found in the neighborhood of Kosloo, at Qozelmaz. It is now proposed to construct a railway thence to Zungelduk. The cost would be £10,000, part of which would be, according to the convention, repaid by the Turkish Government when it shall again take the administration of the coal mines into its hands.

the arage themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process to a state of purity, and combined together is such a manarer as to insore the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Fills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hilterto been ob-tained by any process. The reason is perfectly ob-view. While its the slit mode of composition, ex-ery medicine as burdened with more or less of acti-monious and infinition qualities, by this each indi-tional victue and the that is desired for the curative effect in present. All the hart and obnoxious qual-ties of each substance employed are left behind, the curative victues culy being retained. Hence it is self-evalent the cherts should prove as they have proved more purely comedial, and the Fills a surer, more powerful atticible to discuss than any other medience known to the world. As it is frequently expedient that my medicing should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remody without knowing its composition. I have supplied the accurate Formulæ by which both my Pectoral and Fills are made to the woold body of Pravitioners in the United States and British Amer-ican Provinces. If however there should be any

Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries. The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many em-inent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Fills, and even the confidently, and are will-ing to certify that the anticipations were more than realized by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate if into healthy action — remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derange-ments as are the first origin of discase.

----EXPERIMENT IN CORN GROWING .-- Last spring, happening to run out of seed for the ground I had prepared for potatoes, I conclu-ded to finish it with corn planted in the same way, say 23 feet across and 8 inches in the row. The corn was worked nearly as the potatoes, and yielded well, and by a greater number of stocks than by the usual way of planting. I had at least one-third more corn and double the fodder. On a large scale I suppose corn planted so close would not ear for want of sun and air: but I have never tried it. I should like to hear from those having experience in this mode of culture .--Germantown Tel.
