

Bar readers had a telegraphic announce- ment yesterday that the investigating Com- mittee had made their report on "Congress- ional Corruptions." It is a very long and interesting document, and is full of facts and figures. It is a very interesting document, and is full of facts and figures.

THE AMERICAN. SUNBURY.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1857.

H. B. MASSER, Editor and Proprietor.

To ADVERTISERS.—The circulation of the Sunbury American among the different towns on the Susquehanna is not exceeded by any paper published in North or Pennsylvania.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Business Notices.

PROBATE AND FRUIT.—Mr. L. C. Ives, No. 15, North Wharves, Philadelphia, advertises a large assortment of various articles of produce and fruit, at his store, which is conveniently located for business and others to procure their supplies.

VALUABLE BROKEN PROPERTY.—Mr. Charles Gobin, for himself and the heirs of the late Edward Gobin, offers for sale the valuable property on Market street, in Sunbury, late the residence of Edward Gobin, dec'd.

LOOKING GLASSES, PICTURE FRAMES, &c.—Those of our readers who wish to purchase any of these articles at the lowest prices, will do well to give E. Newland & Co., a call at No. 120, Arch street, above 6th Philadelphia. His work is of the best style and quality and his prices reasonable.

MILITARY, &c.—Mills and others are referred to the advertisement of Samuel Meeker, No. 61, Queen st., Philadelphia.

BROOKS, &c.—John H. Allen, Co., No. 2 & 4, Chestnut street, Philadelphia, advertises an assortment of brooms, window shades, &c.

J. W. TENER & Co call on delinquents to come and settle.

The weather for ten days past has been unusually warm for February, not a vestige of snow is left and spring seems to have set in suddenly upon us, vegetation has taken a start and the buds of trees are gradually swelling. The frost is entirely out of the ground and the roads, though not perfectly smooth, are passable. The Schuylkill canal will be opened on the 1st of March. The Pennsylvania canal will be opened, perhaps, several weeks later.

THE NEW TAVERN BILL, which has passed the House of Representatives, and is now pending in the Senate, provides simply for an addition to the Free List, on and after the first of next July, without proposing any other changes.

The late freshet in the Susquehanna passed off without doing much injury. The ice was very heavy, and there were some apprehensions for the safety of our bridges.—The Juniata bridge was injured so as to render it unsafe to pass over it. The piers of the Northumberland bridge, next to the borough, have been somewhat shattered, but not so much as to impair the superstructure or render it unsafe. The damage will not exceed two or three hundred dollars.

The Directors of the Allentown Railroad, in this State—a work identified with the interests of New York City—are making an urgent appeal to the merchants of that city, for the means necessary to prosecute it to completion. Unless the road is commenced between this and the 13th of March next, the charter will be lost, as it then expires.

The Lewisburg Chronicle says, our Engineers on the western end of the L. C. & Spruce Creek Railroad have completed their re-survey, and find it considerably more favorable as to the distance and bridging than the first survey. The level of the eastern end is yet to be taken.

IRON ORE IN RUSH.—The Messrs. Groves, of the Montour Iron Company, at Danville, have, we understand, taken leases from a number of our Rush township farmers, with a view of searching for iron ore, of which there are strong indications. Some heavy boulders which have been lying on the top of the ground for many years, on the farm of Peter Haaghawout, have been found to contain a large percentage of iron.

Some of the indignant Democratic papers, who profess great love for law and order, speak approvingly of an assault with rotten eggs, which they say, was committed on Mr. Menear, a Democratic member from York county, who voted for Gen. Cameron for U. S. Senator, while passing on his road home. Mr. Menear is said to be a man of excellent character, and could better justify his vote for Gen. Cameron, than some of those political jugglers could their vote for Forney, against their own convictions of justice and right. No one but a blackguard would assault another for the exercise of a right, guaranteed to him by the constitution and laws.

A BALL in honor of the birthday of Washington was held in the Grand Jury room, on Monday evening, the 23d inst. The room was handsomely decorated. The music room was decorated with garlands, and the arrangements, under the management of Mr. Eckert, were well conducted and gave entire satisfaction. The refreshments were furnished by Mr. Covert, of the Washington House. The company was sufficiently large for four cotillions, all of whom appeared to enjoy themselves. Indeed we have seldom seen a more cheerful, happy, and we might add, an assemblage of more handsome and pretty faces, than were present on that occasion.

ASHLAND.
This young and enterprising town, scarcely six years old, has been incorporated into a Borough and contains about 2,500 inhabitants. It is the centre of one of the finest coal basins in the world. The Mine Hill railroad extends to this place, leaving a gap of four miles between Ashland and Mount Carmel without railroad. The heavy coal trade from Ashland has prevented the Company putting on passenger cars, but we were, recently informed by Mr. Wilder, the efficient Superintendent of the road, that the company intend to construct another road over the mountain, with high grades, to avoid places, which will be used for passenger travel and light tonnage. Mr. Wilder, who is an experienced engineer, apprehends no difficulty in making it a successful passenger road. It will also greatly subserve the interests of the Company who will require another track, as their transportation of coal over the planes last year, amounted to 296,000 tons.

The following was sent to us by a friend, a director of one of the public schools in township, as a specimen of original action, by one of the pupils. It is a creditable effort, and shows evidence that the labors of the school-master are not without reward.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF NEEDLE MANIA.
Three Hundred and Eighty-Three Needles Extracted from the Flesh of a Lady and She Still Survives.
The subject was a young lady, nineteen years of age, of nervous temperament, very healthy, and the daughter of a respectable farmer in Butterfords, Otsego county, N. Y. She first came to my office April 28th, 1853, when she had a needle extracted from her left arm, which she said "got in accidentally as she was moving a bundle of carpet rags." This, a medium sized sewing needle, was soon found and extracted from the anterior side of the forearm, about midway between the wrist and elbow. In less than a week she called again, saying she had another needle in her arm, and examined and found deep in the bend of the arm, a hard substance, which proved to be a needle similar to the first, and accounted for in a similar manner. One week after this the arm was very much swollen, painful and presented the appearance of malignant erysipelas, which continued about six days.

After the inflammation and swelling had subsided, six needles were found deep in the flesh, about three inches from the elbow.— May 20th, fourteen were taken out, higher and more in the posterior side of the arm. On the 30th, seventeen were taken from the arm and shoulders. Some of these were superficial, lying just under the skin, but most of them lay deep in the flesh, and a number entirely under the biceps muscle. One, of large size, lay with two-thirds its length imbedded in the muscle.

One very large, barbed-needle was found lying directly in the center of the arm, at the junction of the deltoid muscle; this caused some inflammation and suppuration, which led to its detection. June 4th, twelve were removed from the left arm, two from the right, eleven from the left, and one from the right breast.

The whole number extracted during the month of June, was eighty-seven; September, ten; October, twenty-eight; mostly from the left breast and left side of the abdomen.

About the last of November, 1853, she was attacked with violent spasms. These continued about three weeks, and subsequently a large number of needles were found in all parts of her left side, from the shoulder to the knee, and in the posterior side of the neck. When I saw her, she was apparently asleep, but the needles might be found, and when awake she could seldom be induced to speak of them. Also when in this sleeping or somnambulic state, she was entirely unconscious of pain. While cutting through deep muscle or in the most sensitive parts, we never could get a motion indicative of feeling, and she would converse with her mother, and tell where the needles might be found, but when awake she could seldom be induced to speak of them. Also when in this sleeping or somnambulic state, she was entirely unconscious of pain.

While cutting through deep muscle or in the most sensitive parts, we never could get a motion indicative of feeling, and she would converse with her mother, and tell where the needles might be found, but when awake she could seldom be induced to speak of them.

From January 1854, no needles were found until the middle of the following Summer, when she resorted to pins, cutting off the heads and thrusting them into the flesh. Subsequently she used hair pins, either straightened and put in whole or the broken halves. They were found deep in the large muscles of the thigh. Several pieces of wire, and parts of the largest size of knitting needles, nearly five inches in length, found lying directly on the bone of the thigh on the anterior side.

These were put in two or three inches above the knee, pushed upward under the flesh, and detected by the discharge of a little matter at the point of insertion. A few needles and pins were found at intervals till December 15th, 1855, when I extracted six needles and three pins—all of which had lain in the flesh long time; some of them more than a year. They did not smart, and she was not aware of their being there until it was pointed out to her friends that there would be no recurrence of so strong a mania.

The whole number extracted was of sewing needles, 297; and those of all sizes, 675; and wires, 23; and pins, 282. Great efforts were made on the part of the lady to detect her in the act of inserting the needles, but in vain. It was ascertained by observation, that some of them were taken from a box of needles which she had in the house for a long time. This was removed, but she contrived to use the same kind, evidently from a supply secreted about the premises. Almost every means has been resorted to, to find the reason for so strange a fancy; but nothing has yet developed it. She is firm in her denial of knowing how, how, or why she did it, and says she must be mad, that she is, for she knows no other reason. She perfectly sane on every other subject, although the effect upon her general health has been bad, yet during a great share of these years of suffering she has performed her accustomed portion of the household duties.

Her accounts these needles have been exhibited to the professors of several medical colleges with full details of the case, as well as to a large number of physicians in this State; yet suitable name has hardly been given for a disseminating such effects. And when some "doctors disagree," I shall go no farther than to term it a remarkable case of monomania. The whole case has been one of the most extraordinary and interesting that often occurs under the notice of the physician.

Telegraphic News.

Tele Outbreak in Kansas.—Gov. Geary has been notified by the St. Louis Democrat, by passengers from Kansas, to-night, that a riot had occurred between Geo. G. and his friends, growing out of the refusal of the former to appoint a sheriff to the office of sheriff, as directed by the Legislature, and which had a fatal result. Sheriff had avowed the purpose of killing Governor Geary, and meeting in the street, spat in his face.

Geary did not resent the insult, but heads got up an indignation meeting on the 15th. Sheriff Jones, who was present, attempted to interrupt the meeting in the affray. Sheriff's friend, Mr. Shepley, of Gov. Geary's friends, four times, sounded two others.

Jones, Gov. Geary's Secretary, thereupon shot Sheriff through the head, killing instantly. Great excitement prevailed in the county, and a general feeling was kindled that night. Gov. Geary's residence was guarded by United States troops.

Illinois, Feb.—The family of Dr. Kane accepted the offer of the Baltimore and Railroad Company, and will bring his home by the way Wheeling and Baltimore.

Maryland Institute held a meeting to-day and passed resolutions testifying their respect for Dr. Kane.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.
A letter from Judge Leconte, dated February 9th, and addressed to Attorney General, says he has too much self-respect to correspond to any intimation unless requested by the President to do so. The amazing information that he was removed disdressed him of the full confidence which he had reposed in him, and against the injustice of censure and suspension without a hearing, which he would not accept.

Never despair, for where God sends coal he sends also the iron to keep it company. The temptation to keep the peace will be an advantage, and the peace will be an advantage. The temptation to keep the peace will be an advantage, and the peace will be an advantage.

The Union County Star has been purchased at Sheriff's sale, and removed from Danburg to New Berlin. The name is changed to the "Union County Sun," and is published by F. Smith, who has our good wishes for his success.

The Report of the Corruption Investigation Committee.—There was great rattling among the dry bones in Congress, yesterday, caused by the reception of the report of the Corruption Committee. The report of the Corruption Committee, and contested elections in our courts, the politicians are kept in a ferment, but the mass of the people make themselves comfortable as they can, and get their garments at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall, Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 205 and 207 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

The Patriotic Daughters of America,
Who are ever "at their posts,"
Flags and emblems, and whistles,
Corps, and staffs, and banners,
Mantillas, braces, ropes, and pulleys—
All their tappings and their rappings—
Far too numerous to mention!"

On motion, Resolved, That the proceedings published in the "Sunbury American," and "Star of Youth."
On motion, the meeting adjourned.
Signed by the Officers.

Perfumed Breath.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet but leave the teeth white as alabaster! Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate that friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of "Balm" on your tooth brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year. A beautiful complexion may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft rosy hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.
Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only fifty cents. For sale by all Druggists. Beware of counterfeits. None genuine unless signed by

NO FAMILY.
Can afford to be without Mustang Liment in their house. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.) "In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person very severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful sight." The Mustang Liment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. Chas. Foster, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia. It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure all cases of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founder. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the United States.
