ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER AMERICA. LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAN, Dec. 2 -The R. M. steamship America, from Liverpool on Saturday the 21st ult., arrived at this part this morning, bringing intelligence from Europe three days later than that by the Fulton and Kungaroo. The America brings about twenty-five thousand pounds sterling in specie.

Cotton dull and prices nominally one-half to three-fourths of a penny lower. Breadstuffs very dull and slightly lower. Provisions dull.

Money essentially unchanged. Consols advanced to 89 and.
The news by this arrival, financially and commercially speaking, is highly important and interesting.

The money pressure continued without sign of diminution, although a somewhat better feeling had sprung up.

Messrs, George Peabody & Co., one of the most eminent houses in London, became temporarily embarrassed, but received such prompt aid from the Bank, understood to be to the amount of nearly a million sterling, that all difficulties were removed. Their ability to go on, with the assistance extended them, was unquestioned.

Several heavy failures had occurred in England since the departure of the Fulton, besides a few of minor importance. In the Continental markets affairs were improving. Another unsuccessful attempt had been made to launch the "Leviathan," better known as the "Great Eastern." The political news is of but little imporso strikingly as in the case of the great Engditions of the accumulation of enormous wealth in a single generation that the possessor shall first disqualify himself from enjoying it, and in some cases even from appreciating the fact that he helds it. Mr. Morr son accumulated this almost fabulous amount himself and in the regular course of his business with out and exextract from a letter in the Boston Post shows how little benefit be permitted himself to receive from all his wealth. What a satize it is upon the exclusive devotion of all the faculties to the mere accumulation of property :

"Mr. Murrison retired from active business several years since without withdrawing his capital from the merchantile house and though managing his vast funds himself up to the time of his death with all the sagacity of earpossessed with the idea that he should come to want. More than two years ugo he commenced doing day labor upon a farm held by one of his tenants, for which he received twelve chillings a week, and this he continued up to the time of his illness. For the last eighteen months he has been a regular applicant for relief to the parish, assembled twice a week with the town paupers at the door of the Union,' and receiving with each one of them his two shillings and a quarter loof. His friends have indulged him in these faucies on the ground that it was the best choice of two evils. The trath is that money was his god have made a most judicious will and his investments up to the last are characterized by great good sense. The probate duty on his will exceeds £100,000."

THE DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN CALIFORNIA .-The discovery of gold in California, though it has enriched the nation, has been attended with disaster to the discoverers. Captain Satter, in whose mill flame the first gold was found, which gave rise to the California fever and peopled that region, has been entirely ruined by the turn that events have since taken. In an account which he gives of the effect upon himself, he says it broke up labors, stopped his tannery, left his milis desorted, and, from the prospect, of being the richest man on the Pacific, he is now hopelessly ruined. Marshall, the man who mad the discovery, is hardly any better off, this very moment, wronged of every dollar crease of 58,557 over and every foot of land in possessed, he would ried, of last year. not have, but for the dully charity of comparativo strangers, even a cabin in which to lay his hend to rest at night. Butter says, it was in a conversation with Murshall that Hargraves, the discoverer of gold in Australia, first obtained the idea of seeking for the pre-cious metal in that country. Mr. Hargraves for his discovery, received from the British government the sum of £5000 ($25,000), and from the Australian government £10,000 ($50,000)-making £75,000.

nterice of the Piesyune.] ON BOARD STRANSHIP TENNESSEE, Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1857.

Taesday, Nov. 24, 1857.

Dear Pic: As we were about weighing anchor in the harbor of Vera Cruz, on the 21st, the Extraordinary, from the city of Mexico, arrived, placing as in possession of information from that point up to the 19th—more than one day later than the news received through the ordinary channel:

The substance of this information is that the revolution is drawing to a head, and is beginning to assume a more definite form than at any previous period. The pronunciados were everywhere hovering about the city, and my informant had obtained their plan of operations, which had not yet on the 19th been made public. The new plan of the revolutionials provides for the calling of a Congress or council of the principal men of the different States, who shall name a provisional President. The person usined may or may not be in the country at the time of the sitting of the Congress. This provision, it is said, is proof positive that Santa Anna is the person designed to succeed Comenfort, in case the revolution should be successful.

When in the city of Mexico, I was satisfied that the revolutionists could concentrate their

When in the city of Mexico, I was satisfied that the revolutionists could concentrate their strength upon no one but Santa Anna, and since coming aboard this steamer I have learned, through a source worthy of the high-est consideration, that Santa Anna is the man. Negotiations have been pending between him and the revolutionists for some time past, and his arrival on the coast of Mexico at any moment would not be a matter of surprise. His coming will be the signal for the downfall of Comonfort, who is said for a month past to have had his trunk ready for leaving the country.

Since your last advices the revolutionists have made no headway in their detached, disconcerted, and predatory style of warfare. On the 8th, Meja, who had taken Queretara by assault, was forced to retire by the advance of a detachment of national troops from Guanajuato, after levying a contribution of about $19,000 upon the wealthy citizens, and the city is now in the hands of the government. At Guadalajara Gen. Blancarte, one of the chiefs of the revolution, was expected, although be did not make his appearance.

On the 8th, Gen. Portilla, on his return from Vera Cruz, whither he had gone with the specie train, was attacked by a band of pronunciados, under Trujeque. He concealed his battery until a favorable moment, when he opened on the enemy, completely routed them, killing and wounding quite a number. This event was followed at Puebla by an attempted rising on the 11th, which ted to enter the quarters of the soldiers

NEW York, Nov. 28.—Notwithstanding the large shipments of gold to Europe per Arabia, on Wednesday last, the specie sine of the Banks will, it is stated, show no curtailment on Monday, but on the contrary, a further increase, the round total reaching not far from $24,000,000. As to the prospect of a resumption of specie payments, it is reported in well informed quarters that such a proceeding will not certainly take place before the opening of the New Year, while others predict that there will be no resumption before Spring. The Philadelphia mail to Boston being missed, with others, the Railroad Superintendents on the New York and Boston route the Postmasters and Special Agent Hol-brook, have been on the alert for several weeks past, to catch the robber. The amount of the robberies is supposed to be large.

Mr. Tuckerman will be examined at New Haven to-morrow.

The President's Message.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 .- It is now probable that not only the President's Message, but the reports of the Heads of Departments will be supplied the press in the principal Atlantic cities and newspapers elsewhere, when the reading of the message shall have been commenced in Congress; the same to be previously sent to the Postmasters, who will be telegraphed at the proper time with that view. The propriety of such an arrangement is apparent, from the fact that it will avoid telegraphic blunders, and secure a correct publication in the newspapers distant from the Capitol, at the earliest practicable moment.

Although the utmost care has been taken to prevent recundant language, the message is unavoidably long, owing to the prominent subject-Kansas, Utah, Central America, and the currency.

Suspension of the Bank of England .- 10 the midst of the panic in England the Treasury issued an order suspending the charter of the Bank of England and authorizing the issue of small notes to any amount.
