The river steamers seized by Col. Anderson from the Costa Ricans were also taken possession of by the Susquehanna. He and his men will be taken to the United States. The Susquehanna is commanded by Captain Joshua R. Sands.

CALIFORNIA.

The news from California is not of special importance. Trade at San Francisco is dull.

No Isthmus papers are furnished by the Empire City. It was reported at San Francisco that Col Steptoe, at Fort Willo-Walla, Oregon, had received despatches, stating that 180 of Col. Johnston's command had been killed by the Mormons, and the Colonel forced to re-treat. This reported butchery has already been disproved by the despatches from the expedition Lieut. Beale will soon return to Texas .----

The U. S. steam frigate Wabash has sailed with Col. Anderson's command. Before surrendering, he destroyed all the buildings at Fort Castillo, and broke up the machinery of the Lake steamers.

The Republican has received later and cheering advices from the Utah expedition, dated December 1st. The troops had been concentrated in win ter quarters at Fort Bridger, with the exception of Col. Cooke's command, which was posted 40 miles distant, on Henry's Fork, where a scant supply of grass remained.

Fort Bridger was being rebuilt, for the purpose of protecting the provisions. The troops were comfortably stationed at present, in tents, with their stores. The weather had been very mild, and the health of the troops remained good. The provisions on hand was sufficient to last till June, with economical care and short allowance.

Capt. Marcy has been sent to Taos and Santa Fe to obtain further supplies. Nearly two thirds of all the animals belonging to the expedition have died.

Hon. Marcus J. Parrott, Congressional Legislative Record, similar to last session. delegate from Kansas, has, by request of the Adopted. writer, sent Dr. Stringfellow's letter that the Mr. Bu low's almost miraculous conversion to the Free State side. It is as follows : To the Editor of the Union :

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1858 .- In the New York Tribune, of 4th January, a correspondent from this place, in noticing my arrival, uses this language :- "Stringfellow, of Kan-sas notoriety, arrived here last night. fle denounces the Lecompton constitution as an mposition. It is too gross an outrage even for him."

I am not vain enough to presume that my opinions will have any effect in settling the vexed Kansas question. Still am I unwilling to have them misrepresented. I will state what I have said on this subject .--

When 1 arrived at Washington, on the 25th of November last, directly from Kansas, 1 found a division in the Democratic party here on that part of the President's message relative to Kansas matters. 1 stated then, that although there was no violation of principle in not referring the whole Constitution to the people for a direct vote, it would have been wiser to have submitted it, as there was an understanding amongst the people that such would be the case, and all parties would have been satisfied. That the South at best could only obtain a mere empty and temporary triumph, the question having already been settled against them by emigration, the only way in which that settlement could permanently be effected. In a few days after my arrival it was announced that Acting Governor Stanton had convened the Territorial Legislature in extra session, a course he had undoubted authority to parsue, however much the policy may be doubted. The representatives of the people, elected by 13,000 voters, 9,000 of whom voted for Mr. Parrott for Congress, as being opposed to any constitution from the Lecom ton Convention, passed a bill providing for the submission of the constitution to the people for a negative vote, thus affording them the only opportunity they could have of expressing their objection to that instrument, or of being admitted into the Union under it. have said that should the Democratic nembers from the free States, urged by the South, and for no practical good to the South, to lag Kansas into the Union against the re-monstrance of two-thirds of the people, that remonstrance expressed in the only legal way they could express it, namely, by a vote of the people under the Act of Legislature, with all the penalties for fraudulent voting that could be provided by law, that in such an event the Democratic party would of necessity be broken down at the North, the peace and interests of Missouri and Kansas, if not of the whole Union, seriously endangered, and by no sort of contingency could the interests of the South in Kansas be advanced. So believing, I have urged that if the people of Kansas, by their vote on Monday last did, by a large majority, decide against the Con-stitution, that Congress, and especially South-ern members, should, in answer to the petition of the people thus expressed, reject the application for admis ion, and at ouce pass an Act for the formation of a new Constitution, upon terms similar to those proposed by the "Toombs bill" of 1856.

H. B. MASSER, Esq., Dear Sir : In the proceedings of the Tone

ers Institute is published in the American of last week, I actived the following .- Mr. Up did not think rhetorical reading well adapted to the Common Schools; Professor McFarland in support of Mr. Ulp's position As there is no doubt that the worthy Secretary minunderstood the gentleman referred to, 1 thought it might be necessary an assignment, and transfer its charter to new parties. and a sthing but simple justice to them to make a public correction of the statement. Those gentlemen are not opposed to rhetorical reading which means nothing more or has than to read according to the sense of the subject ; they are only opposed to that mating, bombastic morkery of rhetorical reading which sometimes unfortunately i substituted for time thetorical reading. Regarding Mr. Up as a very good reader teacher, and knowing that both he and Prof. McFariand cannot profitly object to rhetorical reading, and as I feel certain that the statement of our worthy Secretary was simply a misunderstanding I thought it my duty as presiding officer of the Institute. to make what I believe a necessary correction according to my understanding of the remarks of Mr Bip and Prof.

EXETER ME, Sept. 30. This certifies that I have reccommended the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, for dis diseases of the lungs, for two years past, and many bottles, to my knowledge, have been used by patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases, where it was thought confirmed Sensomption had taken place, the Wild Cherry, effected a cure. E. BOYDEN.
