the support of the Doctoring a Pig.

Mr. Michael Fegan is a very worthy repre-sentative from "Green Erin," residing in a small dwelling in a small village near Boston. Michael is industrious and strives hard to turn an honest penny to account, whenever, and however, there may be the slightest prospect of profit. Michael has a little patch of ground behind his house, where he supports a few ducks and chickens; and the freshest eggs in the neighborhood can always be found on his premises, for he never allows himself to be posessed of more than a single dozen at any time before disposing of them. In addition to his stock of poultry, Michael purchased a young pig, which after four months petting and nursing, he prided bioself upon exhibiting to his friends and acquatetances, as one of the "swatest and kindest craythurs in the world."

But Michael's p'g took sick, and from his coughing and sneezing symptons, it was certainly evident that he had contracted a very badeold, Close by the residence of this honest Hibernian, there dwells the village physician, a kind heartet man, and very skillful, whose practice is none of the largest. As he came from his house, a short time since, Michael stood at his gate, ruminating upon the chances in favor of his favorite porker, and observing the doctor, he hailed him with : "The top av the mornin' to ye ducthur ?" "Ab, Michael, how are you ?"

"It's very well I am meself docthur-but perhaps ye'll be tellin' a poor man what he'd be afther, doin' for his pig; ahone; ahone; he's very, sick, docthur." "Pig." exclaimed the doctor with a smile.

"what pig, Michael, and what's the matter with him ? "Share he's very bad indade so he is. A

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attack, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, dis-ordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits the demension vices and and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation ;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulccrous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, emptions or scree. This foul cor-ruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitu-tions not only suffer from scrofulous com-plaints, but they have far less power to with-stand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which de-cimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination ; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause. One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking in-time the parker was invested in a strong mustard plaster from his tail to his ears." Not withstanding his struggles, and his wheezings and torture from the action of the unvielding plaster, a tub of almost boiling water was prepared, and into it poor piggy was soused above his knees. The result may be casily conceived.

Next morning, bright and early, Michael stood at the gate once more, awaiting the coming of the doctor, who soon made his appearance.

"Good, morning, Mike, how does the pig come on ?"

"O, be gorrah, docthur ! it was mighty on civil in ye to be traiting a neighbor in that WIV. So it was."

Why, what is the matter, what has happened. Michael ?" "Happen'd is it. I put the powltice on the pig, so I did, an' he squealed murther, an' be had it's no wonder, for the wull roll'd off his back from head to tail."

"What !" "Didn't I put the pig's feet in hot wather as ye tolwd me, an, be jabers the hoofs tumbled off up him entirely !" Poor Mike spoke truely. Through his ignorance he had blistered off the bristles, and with the hot water he scalded off poor grunter's feet. He died under this double dose, and though Michael has never since orked the doctor upon similar matters, he still insists that it was "a mane thrick so it was."

........ "When we're married, Julia, you'll see how They are the best Calicoes yet offered to the public I'll drive you to the Castle' in a carriage."---But, Dennis, where is the money to come from ?'--- "Oh, we don't want any money; people do things now-a-days on quite a new principal, I assure you "-"Indeed !" said Julia -- "Yes," replied Dennis, "and often they do them without any principal at all." -----

Ingenius defence .- A man who was taken up for stealing a shirt made the following ingenious defence :- "I did not steal the shirt. I was passing by a shop, and I saw the shirt hanging up, and then I took hold of it, it dropped down into my hands, and I knew that if I stood there with it, any one who saw me ma would think that I meant to steal it ; so 1 ran off to prevent suspicion."

----SPRING DISEASE .- A very large amount of the discomfort lassitude, depression and actual sickness which prevails in the spring can adified or wholly avoided by the exercise of a little reflection and self denial

One of the main objects of eating in winter time is to keep us warm, and to that end, provident nature gives a vigorous appetite in cold weather, but if as warm weather approaches we cut with the appetite of winter the system not having time to adapt the sppetite to the temperature, mischief will follow as inevitably as if a locomotive is diminished in speed one-half while the fires are kept burning as flercely as when it was moving at the utmost allowed rapidity. A prompt di-minution at each meal of one-third of the amount enten in winter, beginning before sold. April in the lattitude of New York, and ear- ing 4 to 6 months notice, can have their orders lier farther south, would dominish spring dis-ease to su incalculable extent. WM. H. KEPNER,

SHOCKING DEATH OF & YOUNG LADY WHILE MARING HE WEDDING DEESS. - A young lady named Mathilda Sawyer, residing at Port Glavis, met with a shocking death a day or two since. She was sitting up making her wedding dress by the light of a fleid lump, and fluding that the fluid was nearly all consumed, she attempted to fill the lamp from a campliene can, leaving one of the wicks burn-ing, but no somer dol the fluid came in contact with the light than it communicated to JUST RECEIVED a general assortment of the can, which excluded the a mittal set of New Good at the Store of the Store the can, which exploded like a pistol, scattering the contents around, and setting fire to quest was held upon the body-verdict acti-dental death. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so nu-So wide is the field of its usefulness and so nu-mercous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons pub-licly known, who have been restored from alarining and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonery organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have fulled and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits community have failed and been discatice, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and pro-duced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
