gaged. The Inquirer is independent in its discussion on all topics of public interest.

The great aim of the Inquirer is to become a Reliable Newspaper,—reporting promptly and fairly everything of public interest concerning all parties and all public men—incider distorting nor exaggerating facts. It will be the first dairy of the Inquirer, on all occasions, to advocate the protection of our domestic manufactures and of the greation and coal interests of Pennsylvania.

As a family paper, the linquire will aim to relain the position which it has long enjoyed, by continuing to gard and scrutinise with great care its news and advertising columns, and exclude all matters which it would be improper to adout within the family early.

The Philadephia Inquirer is published every morning, and served in the city, and all the districts in Briston with Wilmington, Del. Editon, Md., by esserble carriers, for Twelve Centa a week, payable to the carrier at the gold of the week.

Sent by mail at six dollars per amount, in advance. Sout by mail at six dollars per sunum, in advance.
