OF TRINITY CHURCH, NEWARK. The Cincinnati Commercial contains an account of the recent discoveries at Newark, Ohio, which is banded to us by a gentleman of this city as a reliable document. The article consists of a letter from Rev. J. W. McCarty, D. D., Recter of Trinity Church, Newark, and one from the discoverer of the stone. Dr. McCarty's letter begins thus:
NEWARK. O., Nov. 2.—Eds. Com.: Our little city has produced another wender.— There has been discovered, by our indefati-gable, but little appreciated friend Wyrick, what may justly be denominated the Holy

Dr. McCarty, after fully stating his reasons for considering Mr. Wyrick honest, proceeds to describe the discoveries: A short time since Mr. Wyrick opened s mound on the farm of Mr. Pownsend J. Intry, about eight miles from Newark. He was attracted thither by its remarkable form and style of structure. The result of his investigation at the time, was a large wooden object—which he felt certain to have been an ancient sarcophagus -but which not a few of his very wise friends very confidently pronounced the remnant of an old herse-trough.

In spite of the jeers of the philosophers. Wyrick tried again.

Very close to where the sarcophagus, (as, notwithstanding the peripatetics' wise deci-sion, we shall still call it.) was found, and a little deeper, the New Holy Stone. Mr. Wyrick struck, as he thought, a stray stone, several times, with his spade. When got out, its appearance entitled it to some exemothed, nevaculite in kind-and when sha MAMMOTH STORE. ken, spauded like a child's rattle box. A small aperture was found in one end. of the men applied his mouth to this, and blew into it. The force of the air acting upon the cement caused it to open, and dislosed the contents.

This stone was really a box-well cut, and regularly shaped—in which lay the stone par excellence, of which, more presently. The box itself would remind one of similar ones seen in Egyptian museums-generally containing a small figure-and whose use was, to be carried round at their festivities for a collection, while the bearer reminded each indivisited thereby of the fact and certainty of death. In Abbott's collection, in New York, I have seen one or two, to which the one I now write of bears much general resemblance. and to their descriptive catalogue I must refer the reader for more extensive information on this point.

When the lid came off it was found the rattling sound was occasioned by a small piece of the enclosed stone, which was broken off from the base; very probably when the case was struck by the spade of the digger This is mainly noticeable from the fact that the corner stone fitted tightly into its place The enclosed stone was about seven inche long and three wide. One side of it is con cave, containing in bas relief the figure—us would appear—of a Jewish priest, with the letters over it, that had been read as both Moses and Messiah. All the rest of the stone, rim included, was found covered with inscriptions, which Dr. McCarty made out to be Hebrew, and to constitute an abridgement of the Ten Commandments. He gives both the original and his translation.

From the National Intelligencer MR JEFFERSON ON SECTIONALISM. The following is from a letter from Mr. Jefferson, addressed to Samuel Harrison riety, &c., &c. Smith, the founder and original proprietor of the National Intelligencer, with whom he was on terms of the warmest friendship:

MONTICELLO, April 12, 1821. My DEAR SIR: I received yesterday your favor of the 5th, and now incluse for Barton a letter of introduction to M. De favoite, the only personal acquaintance I have now living in France.

On politics I can say little to you, having withdrawn all attention to them from the day of my retirement. My confidence in both of to y successors has been so entire that it assaired me all was going on for the best under their care. I am surry to see our expenses greater than our income. Debt and revolution are inseparable as cause and effect. It is the point of peculiar sensibility in our country. Please call and examine them. people, and one which they will not long endure. Parties will be arranged on the principle of reformation, and there can be no foult which will be the strongest. It would to some good if it could obliterate the geographical division which threatened and still threatens our separation. This last is the most futal of all divisions. It has ever been my creed that the continuance of our Union | ment of depends entirely on Pennsylvania and Virginia. If they hold together, cothing North OVERCOATS, DRESS COATS. South will fly off.

I firmly believe all the Governments of Europe will become representative. The very troops sent to quell the spirit of reform at Naples will catch the lever, and carry it back to their own country. We owe to all mankind the sacrifice of those morbid passions which would break our Confederacy, the only anchor to which the hopes of the world are moored.

ABOUT CORNED BEEF .- Corned beef properly salted, and cooked as it should be, is a dish fit for the sovereign people; but to eat salt junk, such as to often exercises the musever before offered to our customers, consisting cles of the jaw, is a penance even for a malefactor. Most of the beef put up for winter ise, is spoiled by the use of too much salt, which destroys the flavor, and makes the meat stringy and tough. When beef is fresh, it contains considerable blood, which is drawn out by the brine. If the meat is left in this mixture, it will require a much larger quanti ty of sait to preserve it, particularly through warm weather. My plan is to make a brine is by using for one hundred pounds of beef, five pounds of sait, one-quarter ounce of saitpetre, and a pound of brown sugar. This is issolved in just enough water to cover the meat, and poured upon it. When it has been in this brine two weeks, I take out the ment et it drain, pour a fresh brine over it, and then it will be good, the sesson through.

The cook who uses corned beef, should not be so ignorant or so indolent as to delay putting it over the fire until an hour before dinner, A good sized piece requires three or four hours steady boiling to do it justice .-Insufficient boiling must be made up by extra chewing. Always have the water when the meat is dropped in ; otherwise the sweetness will be drawn out into the water. A boiling heat bardens the outer surface at once, and thus keeps in the juices which give richness, and which contain most of the nourishment. An excellent way of cooking corned beef is, to have a large boiler, with a wire or wooden rack on the bottom, for the meat to rest on, over the water. When the water boils place the meat upon the rack on and put on the cover of the boiler, with a cloth over it, to keep in the steam. The heat of the steam will rise above the boiling point, and penetrate the meat, and cook it more quickly and better, than could be done by boiling it in the water.

A WOMAN THROWS HER CHILD FROM A CAR WINDOW AND JUMPS OUT HERSELF .-- A WOman, supposed to be insone, threw her child from one of the car windows on the Dedham Branch Railroad, this afternoon, about a mile the other side of the Roxbury station, and then threw herself from the window. The train, which was running at the rate rate of our large stock to which constant additions will twenty miles an hour, was immediately stop- be made. ped, and the cars ran back to the spot where the incident occurred, but neither the woman or child was found to be seriously injured selling cheaper than eve apparently. They were brought on to Roxbury, where, it was said, the woman resides .--Loston Herald, 7th.

A NORLE MOTHER BURNER TO DEATH AT Prom - A correspondent of the Syracuse Journal thus speaks of the victim n the Skaneateles burning fluid case :

Mrs. Mitchell survived until nearly 2 o'clock in great agony, mitigated only by the use of chloroform; which was all that could be administeredfor ber benefit, the whole surface, nearly, being burned to a crisp.

The maternal instinct was beautifully illustrated in the case of Mrs. Mitchell, whose little boy, six years old, was asleep up stairs when the accident occurred. As soon as she found her clothing in flames that could not be extinguished, she ran immediately out of doors; fearing that the house would take fre and burn up her boy; and when her husband came into the room, upon reaching his bonse, her first exciamation, upon hearing his agonizing groans, was:

"Ob. Jim, I am dying for disobeying you;

but I have saved our boy"
And almost the last words the poor suffer. er ottered, were :

"Take good care of Charley."

Messes. Evases & Warana, Gentlemen:—The small size No. I Salamander Safe which I purchased from year agent, Mr. Adam R. Barr, in Lancaster City, of July 20th, 1838, has been subjected to a very severe test, which is withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This Safe, on-tuning all my books, together with valuable papers belonging to myrelf and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of ever Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill, which was destroyed on the night for the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the key orded amassathed. The Safe was on the second flow, and fall to the insement of the Mill, and was subjected for six must be an intense helitamong the runs, which was greatly increased by the conduction of a large quantity of grain cannied within the brick wabe. After the fire the Safe was opened and the books mad parers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discourse of the war, however, to many hystautiers, a better tecommendation of your Safes than estable expressed in any other wisches from me.
