Miscellancous.

THE DRIFT OF THE CURRENT. The general drift of Southern sentiment, so ar as we can judge from the latest advices, is towards a convention of all the Slave-bolding States. South Carolina seems obstigately opposed to such a course, but every other Southern State apparently favors it. In Virginia, and other Border States, particularly, the feeling is very strong, that if any-thing is to be done in this matter, it must be done by the united action of all the aggrieved parties. The most ardent Disunionists in Virginia,-even the Richmond Examiner,denounce the scheme of allowing the Cotton States, or any one of them, to decide this isane for themselves. They claim a right to participate is all such counsels, and will not eadily consent to be excluded.

ludeed there is a strong feeling of jealousy growing up among the Slaveholding States themselves. Their interests as among themsolves are by no means identical,-although they have a common interest as against the North. This last leads them to unite in favor of secession .- but the former will render it impossible for them to agree upon the ways and means of effecting it. A Southern Convention will be indispensable to any action : Virginia and Kentucky will resist the separate secession of South Carolina as a direct blow aimed at them; and South Carolina will be compelled to go into a general Convention, whether she desires it or not. Indeed, as the question is one of common in-terest to all the Southern States, it is not not thus take counsel together as to the proper coarse to be pursued. Now we regard a Southern Convention as certain to increase the stability of the Union. In such a body the whole subject will be discussed on its merits; and such a discussion can have only one result. We are perfectly willing to intrust the fate of the Union to a Convention of intelligent delegates from all the Slavebolding States.

One point cannot have escaped attention in the action of the seceding iStates. Not a single instance of resistance to the laws of United States has yet been committed. Amidst all the excitement and turmoil which are said to pervade the South, the Federal law has been closely and fastidiously obeyed. Special pains are taken to disclaim all thought of violating the laws of the Union. What does this mean ? Is it prudence,-or deference to the distinction which Mr. Buchanan is understood to draw between secession and nallification ?

It will be noted, too, that nothing whatever has been done even by South Carolina to prepare for that eventual nullification which quality. alone can make secession a reality. The Legislature adjourned sine die without having taken a single step in this direction. No money was raised, no tax ordered, no loan authorized, no army provided. Nothing whatever was done but to call a Conception .--This commits the State to nothing-decides nothing, and prepares for nothing. The same thing is true of the other States. Governors' Messages, Legislative resolutions, and public speeches, make up the whole of the Secession thus far.

These are all negative indications ; but they are not without their value in forming an estimate of the tendency of events at the South .- New York Times.

The Columbia South Carolinian, while claiming for the South the right to secede, and asserting her intention to do so, says :-"Our Northern cotemporaries are very much mistaken when they suppose that the Southern States intend to resist the inauguration of Lincoln as President of such States as may choose to remain in the Northern Union. They intend no such thing. Lincoln has been elected in accordance with the forms of the Constitution, and, therefore, any State that remains in the Northern Union, under, bis administration, is obligated to command the submission of their citizens to his rule." The St. Louis Express believes that an address from Mr. Lincoln, intended to mollify the South, would be most inopportune and ineffective. The Express does not consider the secession movement genuine on the part of the people of South Carolina ; but looks upon the treats which come from that State as emanating chiefly from abitious politicians. The Natchez Courier gives the following "First-Because resistance is treason ; and Circuit, and District Courts of the United States-no voice in the appointment of postmasters and route agents, who will permeate every nouk and corner of the country, and may be Abolitionists-no voice in the impo "Third-Because resistance to the result sition of tariffs and taxes, which will be laid by Northern svarice to foster Northern industry by filching from the South her hardis no moral or justice in the principle of playing a game, "Heads I win ; tails you earned wealth-no voice in the foreign policy of the Government, which will be directed to extend and fortify the Northern States, and "Fourth-Because when we go out of the Union, we lose every one of the constituthe South. tional guarantees that the present Union take to govern States." His own clothing was burned entirely from his body, and he is severely burned, especially in the head, face and hands. He is at pre-

One of the horses was burned to death in the barness ; the other succeeded in freeing bimself, but is badly burned.

The dead are Mary Ann, the wife of Mr. Sweringen, aged 30 years; Sarah Jane, Re-becca Ellen, George Dalton and Sabrina, his children, aged respectively, eleven, nine, seven and two years.

The calamity occurred about seven miles northwest of this place, on the Fort Dodge road, in a small basin or commencement of a

The distance will be from two and a half to three miles, and will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. The completion of this link will make a through connection from Philadelphia, via Pottsville to Sunbury and Erie, for passengers and gen-eral traffic, as the Mine Ilill Railroad Company does not care about passenger trains running over the road between West Wood and Schuylkill Haven, owing to the heavy coal traffic below that point, which passes over the Road. It is unnecessary for us to point out to our citizens and business men, the great advantages of this connection, as they must be obvious to every one-and as the subscriptions to the Broad Mountain and Mahanoy Road are no longer binding, owing to the change of location, we would arge upon our citizens a liberal subscription to this Road as soon as it is located, and an estimate of its cost submitted. DOUGLAS' VOTE --- Mr. Douglas, although running against the prejudices and passions of both extremes of the Union, has received a greater number of votes than any other unsuccessful candidate ever received for that office. The Republicans four years ago were proud of the run which Fremont made, who got 1,300,000 votes. Mr. Doug. las, has received one million and a half, more than double that of Breckinridge or Bell, and within fifteen per cent. of that of Lincoln .--Breckinridge's votes are nearly all in the South ; Lincoln's in the North and West, but

Mr. Douglas has tens of thousands of votes only, was a national vote. We are informed that the stores and
