Virginia Election-The Mother of States True to the Union-Law and Order Triumphant -The New Turiff Bill-Passage of New Loan Bill-The Seventh Star Lost-The Peace Conference,

Washington, Feb. 5th. Senator Seward authorized the announcement to day, by telegraphic correspondent of one of the New York Republican papers, that troops might be withdrawn from this metropolis, as there was unlonger any danger of disturbance. Now, if there has been danger, (as it is believed that the evidence before the Treason Committe will show), what assurrances are there that the danger has ceased? At any rate there can be no harm in secing that the laws can be enforced, and that order can be preserved. General Scott order the troops away yet.

THE NEW TARIFF. Senator Simmons, of Rhode Island, introduced a proposition into the Senate Commit-tee which has revised the House tariff bill, to cut down the duties on sugar about one-half, placing it on a schedule with tea and coffee. This was intended as a discontinuance of the liberal protection hitherto extended to the great staple of Louisiana. Senators Hunter and Gwin opposed this as "coercive," and Senator Bigler voted with them, thus defeating it in committee. It may be carried in the Sepate. The New York importers are here in large numbers, to defeat the new tariff, if possible; and they are lavish in their expenditures, "dining and wining" with profuse hospitality.

LEGISLATION. The passage of the House Loan Bill of twenty-five millions, with an amendment annulling an old unissued loan, by the Senate shows that the incoming Administration will not lack "ways and means." Wendell's printing office has been purchased, and Congress has now voted the money - a good investment although unpalatable to the lobby, who endeavored to bleed him.

LOUISIANA HAS NO RIGHT TO THE MIS-

SISSIPPI The so called "right of secession" is clearly a pretext put forward by men who were predetermined to establish a Southern Confederacy, regardless of all other considerations.— In the case of Louisiana, for metance, no fair minded man can for a moment believe that her Ordinance of Secession was the exercise of a moral and political "right." That ordinance declares as follows:

"That the ordinance passed by this State on the 224 of November, 1807, whereby the Constitution of the United States and the amendments of said Constitution were adopted, and all the laws and ordinances by which ouisiana became a member of the Federal Union, be and the same are hereby repealed and abrogated."

Now glance at the history of Louisiana. On the 20th of February, 1811, Congress passed an act enabling the people resident on the purchased territory of Orleans to organize a State. Sec. 3 of that act, after providing for a Convention of the people to frame a Constitution, adds :

"Said Convention shall proclaim by ordinance, irrevocable without the consent of the United States, that the people inhabiting the said Territory do agree and declare that the River Mississippi and the navigable rivers and waters leading into the same, or into the Gulf of Mexico, chall be common highways Ordinance of Secession to-day. CESTRAL AMERICA .- Murder of Mr. Jos-White, of New York .- The Panama Railroad's steamer Columbus, had arrived at l'anams from Sas Jose de Guatemala, on the 20th of January. Mr. Joseph L. White, of New York, had been killed by Jonathan Gavett, at a hotel in Realego.

The shooting took place on the 5th of January. The account says that Mr. White is widely known from his former connection with the Nicaragua Fransit, came for various negotiations with this Government, and among the rest, to secure a grant for a monopoly of the ladia rubber lands of the State. For the last few months there has been an individual here from New York for the same business, a Canadian Frenchman, calling bimself "Gavette," a through paced rowdy, noisy, drunken, and abusive, and has proved as black-hearted a miscreant as could be hired for a morder r. This wretch represents some one in New York, and very likely was sent here to accomplish what he has performed. The day before Mr. White came, this fellow declared at a public dinner table that he would kill him at sight, and as soon as he had landed he began to abuse Mr. White, and endeavored to commence a quarrel; and finding his victim unarmed, he drew a pistol and shot him dreadfully in the left leg. below the knee. The bones were so shattered that amputation had to be performed, but Mr. W. died at 7 o'clock on the evening of the 12th. The scoundrel Gavett was immediately arrested.

COLUMBAIDS .- Inquiries are made as to the nature of the camon called Columbaids. We find the following description of these formidable guns in an exchange :

A Columbaid is a heavy gun, capable of projecting a solid shot of shell, with a large charge of powder, and at an angle of protection from five degrees below to thirty above burg. the horrizon; it may be said therefore, to combine the essectial qualities of the gun, the howitzer, and the mortar, and may be used in the place of either one or the other of secret session to-day, to consider the bill these pieces in sea-const defence. It does appropriating one hundred thousand dollars not differ in its external shape from ordinary not differ in its external shape from ordinary sea coast cannon. At present there are two sizes of Columbaids in use in our service, viz: the eight inch and the ten inch. The former weighs about 9,000 lbs, the charge of powder 10 lbs, the solid shot 64 lbs, and the shell 48 lbs. The latter weighs about 15,000 lbs, the charge of powder 16 lbs, and the solid shot 128 lbs, and

It is understood that a certain number of ten inch Columbaids are mounted en barbeite, or upon the most elevated portion of Fort i Sumpter; as the extra range of these pieces is about three miles, an extent of country about six miles to diameter will be commanded by them; this, however, does not embrace the city of Charleston, for that is understood to be about 34 miles from the fort. Fort Moultrie being only about a mile distant, and being without casements to protect its garrason or armament, is subject to the direct fire of the Columbaids of Fort Sumpter.
