Miscellaneous.

PASSAGE OF THE CORWIN RESOLUTION The following resolutions passed the Scoute during the last hours of its existence. They have already passed the House :-

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, (two thirds of both Houses concurring ) That the following article be proposed to the Legislature of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States which, when ratified by three-foorths of said Legisla-tures shall be valid, to all intents, and purposes, as part of said Constitution, viz :

Asr XII. No amendment of this Constitation, having for its object any interference within the States with the relation between their citizens and those described in section second of the first article of the Constitution as "all other persons" shall originate with any State that does not recognize that relation within its own limits, or shall be valid without the assent of every one of the States composing the Union.

Corwin's amendment :--

No mendment shall be made to the Constitution which will authorize or give to Congress the power to abolish or interfere within any State with the domestic institutions thereof, including that of persons held to labor or service by the laws of said State.

The vote is the Senate stood as follows : YEAS-Messrs. Anthony, Baker, Bigler, Bright, Crittenden, Dixon, Douglas, Foster, Grimes, Gwin, Harian, Hauter, Johnson, (Tennessee,) Kennedy, Latham, Mason, Morrall, Nicholson, Polk, Pagh, Rice, Sebastian, Ten, Eck and Thomson-24 NAVS-Messes Bingham, Chandler, Clark, the Feet.

Described, Durker, Foot King, Summer, Trumball, Wade, Wilkinson and Wilson-12 The President (Mr. Pelk in the Chair) decided that the resolution was carried-two thirds voting for it.

THE SOUTHERN CARINET The Montgomery correspondent of the

Charleston Mercury writes : The nomination of Mallory for the Secre tary of the Navy is strongly opposed by the Florida delegation. They openly say that Mr. Malloty was oposed to the cause of secession, and would not get more than one vote in the Legislature of Florida for any position, that he had been in concert with the Government at Washington to prevent Fort Pick ens being taken, and is distrusted by the

Why, the North, without our custom for its manufactures, and our produce for its commerce and its exchanges, is neither more nor less than the poorest portion of the cavilized world. To that it has come on an infidel and abstract idea."

AMERICAN NATIONAL AIRS.

We believe that not one of the three national airs of the United States is strictly an original American composition. Their history is not in every case fully ascertained, but is somewhat as follows: "Yankee Dondle," is said, by most critics, to have been the composition of an English physician, and to date back to the French wars, when it was compused in decision of the appearance of the volunteers from the colonies who assisted the British regulars. By others it is said to date as far back as the time of Cromwell. It was certainly known in England before the American Revolution, and was sung in deri sion of the Bostonians by the roldiers who garrisoned that city But the laugh turning to the other side at the retreat of Concord and Lexington, and the people thus inaugurating the revolt, made the troops dance their way back to the same tone their bands player as they marched. S nee that time the air has been a national one, and American hearts have exultingly responded to it in every age, and in all lands. The music of the "Star Spangled Banner" is an old English air, once bearing the title, we believe, of "Anacreon in Heaven,"-Robert Treat Paine adapted to this air one of his popular songs, "Adams and Liberty, during the life of Washington, one verse of which was in praise of the Father of his But it was not until 1811 that Francis Scott Key, then a young lawyer composed the present words in remembrance of the bombardment of Fort McHenry, when Bultimore was besieged by the British fleet ; the sight of the national banner proudly heating amid the carnage and destruction of the attack inspiring the refrain, which has given the title to the song.

The words of "Hail Columbia" were written in 1798, by Judge Joseph Hopkinson, one State of the Bank of Northumberland. of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, to what was called the "President's March," an air composed by a German named Poyles, on the occasion of a visit from the President to one of the New York theatres. - Nese York Musical Review

OUR SCHUYLKILL COUNTY LIBEL CASES .-The prosecutions for libel, instituted in the Real Estate, Court of Schuylkill county, against the pub lisher of the Reading Gazette and publisher of the Philadelphia Eerning Bulletin, growing out of the publication, in the latter part of Due other Banks.

December last, of a report, alleged to be "Commonwealth," December last, of a report, alleged to be founded upon the death of a man in Schuylkill county, who was said to have made a confession implicating Samuel Heilner in the murder of Adaline Bavor, were taken up for trial on Thursday. At the suggestion of couns I, the defendants put in a special plea to the indictment, admitting the publication of the matter charged as libellous, but disclaiming any malicious motive, or intention to defame the character of Heilner, and in emphort of such disclaimer, reciting the retraction they voluntarily made as soon as they ascertained that the report was unfounded and furthermore and asking that the plea he entered upon the records of the Court. Whereupon, the counsel for the prosecution entered a nolle prosequi in both cases, on the agreement of the defendants to pay the Court costs. This disposed of the whole matter, to the satisfaction of all the parties.

A gentleman from Mckinney, Texas, is reported by the St. Louis Democrat as asying that the recent crazy action of that State has already created quite a panic in many portions of the State. Thousands of amilies are anxious to sell-off their property and emigrate to California. Many of the most enterprising farmers, formerly from the porthern bistos, have determined to go back m. the rief & better.

THE BOURBONS. - Now that King Francis and his family have quitted Naples, there are in exile not fewer than fifty five members of the Bourbon family out of the seventy four who are the direct or collateral descendants of Louis XIV. The fifty five are these :-The Bourbons of Naples, consisting of King Francis, five brothers and four sisters; his Majesty's uncles-Prince de Capus and two for now is the time to get your Lumber cheap. children, Count d'Aquila and two children, Yes, Count de Trapani. and five ; his Majesty's aunts-Queen Marie Amelie, widow of King can be purchased at low rates at the STEAM Louis Philippe; the Duchess de Berry, the SAW-MII L of Duchess de Salerno; and lastly a cousing-rioun, the Duchess d'Aumale—total, twen-ty-six.
