THE DEATH OF ELLSWORTH.

PARTICULARS OF THE OCCURRENCE.
 Concoction of the body to New York.—The The Funeral Procession.—Scenes in Baltimore, Washington and New York.—The Assassination.

One of the associates of Col. Ellsworth thus details the particulars of the sad occurrence:—

"In passing up the street of Alexandria, he was accompanied by Mr. H. J. Winer, Military Secretary of the regiment, the Chaplain, the Rev. E. W. Dodge, and myself. At first he summoned a guard to follow him, but he afterwards turned and called forward a single squad, with a sergeant from the first company. We passed quickly through the streets, meeting a few bewildered travelers issuing from the principal hotel, which seemed to be coming slowly to its daily senses, and were about to turn to the telegraph office, when the Colonel, first of all, caught sight of the Secession flag, which had long swung innocently in full view of the President's House. He immediately sent back the sergeant, with an order for the advance of the entire first company, and leaving the matter of the telegraph office for a while, pushed on to the hotel which proved to be the Marshall House a second class inn."

On entering the open door, the Colonel met a man in his shirt and trousers, of whom he demanded what sort of a flag it was that hung above the door. The stranger who seemed greatly alarmed, declared that he knew nothing of it, and that he was only a boarder there. Without questioning him further, the Colonel rang up stairs, and we all followed to the topmost story, whence, by means of a ladder, he clambered to the roof, cut down the flag with Winer's knife, and brought it to his staff. There were two men in bed in the secret whom we had not observed at all when we entered, their position being somewhat concealed, but who now in great apparent amazement, although I observed that they were more than half dressed. We at once turned to descend, private Brownell leading the way, and Colonel Ellsworth immediately following him with the flag.

As Brownell reached the first landing place, or entry, after a descent of some dozen steps, a man jumped from a dark passage, and hardly noticing the private, leveled a double-barrelled gun square at the Colonel's breast. Brownell made a quick pass to turn the weapon aside, but the fellow's hand was firm, and he discharged one barrel straight into its aim, the slug or buckshot with which it was loaded entering the Colonel's heart, and killing him at the instant. I think my arm was resting on poor Ellsworth's shoulder at the moment. At any rate, he seemed to fall almost from my own grasp. He was on the second or third step from the landing, and he dropped forward with that heavy, headlong weight which always comes of sudden death inflicted in this manner.

His assailant had turned like a flash to give the contents of the other barrel to Brownell, but either he could not command his aim, or the Zouave was too quick for him, for the slug went over his head and passed through the panels and wainscot of a door which sheltered some sleeping lodgers. Simultaneously with this second shot, and sounding like the echo of the first, Brownell fired a third shot, and the assassin staggered backward. He was hit exactly in the middle of the face, and the wound, as I afterward saw it, he needed no answer.

THE REMAINS AT WASHINGTON.
 Early on Saturday morning, the remains of Col. E. M. Ellsworth were placed in an elegant rosewood coffin, at the navy yard, with glass cover and conveyed to a hearse by a detachment from the Seventy-first New York Regiment. The sword and cap of the deceased were placed on the coffin, which was covered with rich, new floral arrangements, and was a very large and beautiful wreath bearing on the inside of the circle, in velvet letters, the words, "Washington Zouaves," by whom it was presented and placed on the remains of one whom they honored and loved. The body was clothed in the uniform in which he was assassinated.

ECHECUMENICAL SERVICE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.
 The coffin was placed in the East Room of the Executive Mansion at 8 o'clock, where it was visited by a large number of citizens and soldiers, until 11 o'clock, when the solemn and appropriate burial service of the Episcopal Church was performed by Rev. J. S. Paine, Mr. Dodge, Chaplain of Zouave Regiment, Chaplain of the United States Army, Rev. C. Butler, Trinity Church, and Rev. J. L. Morse, Christ Church, Navy Yard. President Lincoln and lady, Secretary Cameron, General Scott and staff, with Assistant Secretary Smith and lady, were seated immediately at the foot of the coffin during the services.

THE GREAT REBELLION.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—To-day, one of the Zouaves (now stationed at Alexandria) named Buckley, assumed the superior office who instantly shot him dead.

Private Jackson, of the New York Seventy-first, was drowned to-day. The firing of guns from the Pocahontas, to raise his body, caused a false report to prevail that a fight was in progress.

The New York Seventy returned to city Sunday. They will leave for home on Tuesday morning.

Reliable despatches state that there was no truth in the report of another attack on Sewall's Point.

All the Pennsylvania regiments are in good health and spirits. They are being drilled in wonderful efficiency.

The commandant, Major Joseph A. Hahn, whose skill and bravery were tested at Chequamegon, where he lost an arm, is in command, and has thoroughly strengthened his position. The 32-pounders are all mounted—the batteries for heating shot are in application order, the machine guns, the hand grenades are ready for use at a moment's notice, the bombs are "lying around loose," and the artillerists sleep nightly beneath their guns. It is the intention of the Government to cast a battery on the hill, immediately behind the fort.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—The three hundred troops which had been stationed on the line of the Northern Central Railway passed on route for Washington to-day.

Gen. Cadwalader's troops encamped here are doing well. They are visited by large numbers of citizens.

has been obstructed by so mining an immense creek that it overflows the road, and is ready to be toppled over on the track at any moment.—The road is also guarded by the Virginia W.

The Virginia Troops at Manassas Gap.
 Washington, May 27.—A gentleman, who left Richmond yesterday, arrived here this morning, coming by the way of Manassas Gap. He says the train in which he traveled brought a thousand South Carolina troops to the Gap, and that the entire number there was estimated at five thousand. They were tolerably well armed and equipped, and were throwing up entrenchments in anticipation of an attack. The belief there was, that the Federal troops would move toward Harper's Ferry by that route.

On Saturday, May 27.—To-day, a small guard of men was ordered from Alexandria toward Fairfax Court House, on a reconnoitering expedition.

When some miles out they discovered at the latter place a company of rebel cavalry, drawn up in line. We satulidly through the streets, retracing their steps, capturing on their way two of the enemy's picket guard, who were brought to Washington. One of them confirms the report that on Saturday afternoon, about seven hundred rebels were seven miles south of Arlington, but prudently retired farther back, when they discovered the hurrying of the troops thitherward from Washington.

The War Department is satisfied of these facts from reliable quarters.

A rebel scout was to-day released from arrest on taking the oath of allegiance. He stated that several weeks ago he was accidentally prevented from subscribing to the oath of the Secessionists, and was now glad that he had escaped the severe hardship to which he had been subjected. He represents that many of his former military companions would rejoice to be similarly released.

BALTIMORE, Monday, May 27, 1861.

REBEL CAPTURED.
 Chief Justice Taney has issued a writ of habeas corpus, directed to General Cadwalader, directing him to produce the body of Mr. Merriman. The writ is made returnable to-day.

TWO PRIZES CAPTURED.
 The steamer Quaker City had arrived at Fort Monroe with two prizes, both very valuable. One is a large barque from Rio, owned in Richmond, loaded with coffee. The other is a schooner, with a full cargo. They will be taken either to Philadelphia or New York. Commodore Stringham with the steamer Minnesota, was to proceed to join the Gulf Squadron to-day.

BRIDGE BURNED.
 The burning of the bridge between Fort Monroe and Hampton is confirmed. It was done on Friday. This cuts off the communication with Hampton, but the bridge can be easily rebuilt. It is a mile and a quarter from the Fort. The report of an attack at Sewall's Point is incorrect. Neither Sewall's Point nor Norfolk will be attacked, until reinforcements arrive, but both will be well guarded and taken as soon as a sufficient force can be concentrated.

AFSAIRES AT HARPER'S FERRY.
 The passenger train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is as usual, with the Western mail. All reports of destruction or injury of the track at Harper's Ferry are unfounded. I learn from good authority that Gen. Johnson is greatly incensed at the attempt to fall almost from his own grasp. He was on the second or third step from the landing, and he dropped forward with that heavy, headlong weight which always comes of sudden death inflicted in this manner.

THE INVENTIONS OF SOUTHERN NEWSPAPERS.—IMAGINARY BATTLES AND VICTORIES.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 27.—A special dispatch to the Daily Gazette says that a fight took place at Harper's Ferry on Saturday, in which the enemy were repulsed, and that on Sunday there was a fight at Hampton, near Fortress Monroe, in which six hundred Lincoln's troops were killed and wounded, while the rebels were only fifty. Also, that partial returns from eighteen counties in Virginia show only thirteen victories against Secession.

THE 207TH NEW YORK REGIMENT IS ENCAPSULATED AT ALEXANDRIA, BUT IT BELIEVES IN THE POSSESSION OF AQUICIA CREEK TOMORROW.

CUTTING OFF THE VIRGINIANS.
 Efforts have been made to cut off immediately the retreat of the Division forces from Harper's Ferry. General McDowell will command the Department of Virginia, and will superintend the movement. His Department embraces all that portion of the State east of the Alleghenies (excepting Fort Monroe) and the District of Columbia. The one that a demonstration on Richmond will be made by land from this direction. The Guards thrown out into Virginia report that the people are all in arms on the border.

PENNSYLVANIA TROOPS.
 Owing to the various reports of the disaffected condition of the Pennsylvania regiments, Secretary Cameron will take the matter in his own hands.

IMPORTANT FROM FORTRESS MONROE.
 WASHINGTON, May 25.—Col. Butler and Hon. Messrs. Ashley, of Ohio, and Dunc., of Virginia, arrived to-day here from Fortress Monroe, on the Government transport City of Richmond. All was quiet at the Fort.

Five hundred troops, conveyed by the Harriet Lane, went up Hampton Roads toward the mouth of the James River, and took possession of Newport News Point, and there entrenched the troops. They are within the regular army supplies, and are fed by the Secessionists in that neighborhood.

On Saturday night, a deserter swam the Potomac and escaped into Pennsylvania.

SENATOR JORDAN'S DEPARTURE.
 ex-Senator Jordan will be tendered the post of Attorney General, and the Government sent in his resignation because the Governor pardoned Beyer over his written remonstrance.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Information has been received here that over 200 Ohio troops from Camp Dennison, yesterday took possession of the Northwestern Virginia railroad, from Parkersburg to Grafton, a distance of eighty miles intervening, and proceeded in the latter direction.

A large number also crossed below Ohio, to meet the Union troops at Wheeling, for the same destination. This is indicative of events at Harper's Ferry.

BALTIMORE, Tuesday, May 28, 1861.
 A gentleman who left Wheeling last night says that the Union feeling there is intense, and several prominent Secessionists have been driven from the city.

The Western Virginia are determined to support the Union to the last. From passengers who passed through Harper's Ferry to-day, I learn that all is quiet and passengers are daily transferred, the rail

Justice Taney, on hearing the reply of General Cadwalader (declining to produce the body of Mr. Merriman) ordered a writ of attachment for contempt of court to issue against that officer. The U. S. Marshal, Mr. Bonifant, took the writ and accompanied with it this morning to Fort McHenry. The sergeant went, delivered his message, and brought back to the astonished Marshal this laconic response:—

"General Cadwalader has received Marshal Bonifant's message, and has no reply to make thereto."

Whereupon Marshal Bonifant retraced his steps, and entering the court room where Chief Justice Taney was sitting, reported what had taken place.

The venerable Judge was evidently greatly affected and displeased. He remarked that it was useless to attempt to arrest General Cadwalader, (and I thought from the tone in which he said that, if it were possible he would arrest him); that he would write out his views of the case, and submit them to the President of the United States; and would urge him, at the same time, to discharge his constitutional duty in regard to the case, and see that the dignity of the laws of the land was upheld.

Thus stand the Merriman habeas corpus case at present. It will be a memorable one in the history of the jurisprudence of the country. One thing is clear, General Cadwalader will never bring the body of John Merriman before Judge Taney without the orders of President Lincoln; and Mr. Lincoln will give no such orders. In times like these, the personal liberty of the subject must give way before the safety of the State. Arma imperia leges solent; and in these times, the sword is more powerful than the pen or the gown, or both together.

IMPORTANT FROM MANASSAS GAP.
 A Baltimorean arrived here to-day, direct from Lynchburg, Va., which place he left on Sunday night. He says the number of Southern troops at that city has been greatly exaggerated, as there were certainly not over 10,000 there on Friday, and Saturday last. There were about 8,000 at Charlottesville, 5,000 at Gordonsville, and 3,000 at Culpeper Court House. On arriving at Manassas Gap the train was stopped, and not allowed to proceed any further East. He found a large force of Southern troops there, posted along the Orange and Alexandria Railroad towards Alexandria, and the Manassas Gap Railroad towards Strasburg. They were constructing earthworks, some of which were finished, defending the railroad junction. He estimates the number of troops there at fifteen thousand. He saw very heavy guns mounted, but was not allowed to approach expected every day. He is satisfied, from all that he saw and heard there, that the determination of the rebels to make a desperate stand at the point.

ALEXANDRIA TROOPS SHOT.
 WASHINGTON, May 29.—Two citizens of Alexandria, who on their word of honor declared that they were loyal to the United States, were recently granted passes, with permission to return to that city, after the train was stopped at the same place, got into the bushes, and fired upon the guards of the United States Artillery. They were immediately pursued and shot. The passes referred to were in their pockets.

BRIDGES BURNED.
 PITTSBURG, May 29.—On Sunday the secessionists burned two of the bridges between Farmington and Washington on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and later in the day the reports were received of the burning of the bridge at Leesport, and later in the day the reports were received of the burning of the bridge at Leesport, and later in the day the reports were received of the burning of the bridge at Leesport.

FROM ALEXANDRIA.
 ALEXANDRIA, May 28.—The Marshall House is the hotel in which General Washington stopped, and Col. Ellsworth was shot near the door of the chamber that Washington occupied. Sergeant Butterworth, of the New York Zouaves, was shot last night by Mike O'Neal, of the same corps, who was acting as sentry and recording no reply to his challenge, fired and instantly killed the former. Butterworth unfortunately was a stammerer, and his failing to answer was caused by the infirmity.
