THE REMENI AND A BALLOON. We find the following in a Fort Monroe letter: "A negro, who escaped from Sewall's Point, gave an amusing account of things there at the recent balloon ascension by La. Mountain, when he hung in air directly over the rebel batteries and camps. They looked up to it with a profane use of profanity, if I may be believed, and their rage amounted to a perfect frenzy. They thought seriously for a time of trying some of their longest range rifles upon it, but finally concluded that the altitude was so great that the attempt would only result in a failure. Nothing else has occurred during the whole campaign which has so much enraged them. The balloon was let up, attached to a long rope from a steam tug on the river."

SECESSIONIST KILLED BY A LADY. A Union man by the name of Glover, residing in one of the counties west of this city, owning a number of valuable horses, and having a fine farm, was invited to the residence of a lady, who had several inquiries to which she gave no very satisfactory answers. He then insisted on being informed where Glover was, and with revolver in hand, threatened instant death if not told. He also at the same time demanded of her to deliver up a valuable sword owned by Glover. The lady started for the house through the cornfield, and on the way Mrs. Glover succeeded, without being observed, in getting possession of a large corn knife that had been left in the field, and watching her opportunity, took a favorable moment for striking a blow which did most effectually the knife severing the skull and killing the rebel instantly. Mrs. Glover had a small child with her in the garden, which she left when starting for the house, intending to return for it immediately. Having dispatched the rebel, she returned to the garden, and discovered several other rebels in ambush a short distance from her. She took her child, and being yet unperceived by them, sought a place for concealment until they should retire. They soon emerged from their hiding place, and, searching for their companion, they found a lady in the garden, who had been shot down, and bore it off, greatly to the relief of Mrs. Glover. Mr. Glover immediately made arrangements to leave Missouri, and arrived in Stone's Prairie, in the southeast part of this county, where Mrs. G. has an uncle living by the name of John W. Larrison, a respectable and reliable citizen.—Quincy Herald.

TRIAL OF THE UNION GUARD AT FORTRESS MONROE. At two o'clock this afternoon the twelve-inch Union gun was tried under the supervision of Lieut. Baylor, of the ordnance department, and the firing was witnessed by Generals Wool and Butler, Capt. Reynolds, and a number of other army officers. It had never been fired before, the best results could not be obtained, but enough was ascertained to satisfy all that the gun was capable of performing what its inventor expected of it. With forty-five pounds of powder the gun, at its greatest elevation, twenty-eight feet, threw a solid shot about four hundred and a half, which was the greatest range attained to-day. James' projectiles were used, but were hardly such as are best suited for the gun. However, future experiments may be more successful. With a little larger charge of powder, a ball weighing three hundred and fifty pounds, or a solid shot weighing four hundred and twenty pounds, can be easily thrown into the enemy's camp or battery in the right place, it would take but one or two of them to utterly destroy their batteries. In a little while we shall test the Union's range towards that point.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.

BELL REX.—The New York Tribune, in speaking of the silence of the B-bell commanders in regard to their loss at the late battle, says:—"The Confederate chiefs, though they have had General McDowell's report in their hands for more than a fortnight, have not yet ventured to tell their story. In vain do the Charleston Mercury and other prominent rebel journals exclaim, 'Give us the truth—we can bear it'—they do not venture to comply. They dare not set forth, in plain words, the strength of their army nor the extent of their losses. They dare not say why they did not pursue our panic-stricken troops in their helter-skelter race to the Potomac. They dare not say why, even after being informed by their Washington spies of the utter demoralization of the fugitive, they did not venture to pursue them in Washington. They dare not say why they did not realize that the truth would not serve them as well as the falsehoods wherewith they have concealed it?"

THE DEBARRERS' ROLL.—Governor Curtin, in a General Order, publishes the names, occupation and residences of one Lieutenant and three hundred and eighty nine non-commissioned officers and privates of the Second Infantry Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, who refused to take the oath preparatory to entering the service of the United States. The order dismisses them from the service of the State, and brands them with the charge of perjury, her bounty, and the moment of her part deserting her. Muster officers are cautioned against reinstating them. The deserters are from W. B. Mann's Regiment, and are nearly all residents of Philadelphia.

J. A. GRANDALL'S PATENT SPRING HORSES 478 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. Should be in every family. School, Gymnasium, Asylum, and Hospital in the land. At no DANGEROUS, like the common Rocking Horse. Stands firm on its Pedestal, will never CARPET, and has no Rockers to injure the Feet. Health and happiness in the same saddle.—N. P. W.

FROM THE "HOME JOURNAL." "Of all the child-furniture we have ever seen no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Spring Saddle Horse, invented by Jesse A. Grandall. It is not dangerous, like a common rocking-horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, stands firm on its base, and its action is so lifelike the gait of a live horse that the child never tires of it. This latest of child-furniture is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design; and adjustable, substantial, and durable, that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made large and strong enough to sustain grown persons. As a pedes for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution which children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side-saddles when required."

DIRECTIONS FOR ADJUSTING.—On the other part of the base, immediately to the left, is a screw, the turning of which will raise or lower the horse to suit you. Screw the bolts in the very tight. These Horses are WARRANTED a year. March 10, 1861.—1f

DO YOU WANT WHISKERS? DO YOU WANT A MUSTACHE? Bellingham's Celebrated STIMULATING ONGUEN For the Whiskers and Hair. The Bellingham Ointment is the only one of the kind in the United States, that they have obtained Agency for, and are now enabled to offer to the American public, the best and most successful world-wide article.

The Stimulating Ointment. Is prepared by Dr. P. Bellingham, an eminent physician of London, and is warranted to bring out thickets of Whiskers or Mustaches. It is the only one of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use. It is a permanent, soothing, yet stimulant compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, and will cause the hair to grow, and cause it to spring up in place. The hair grows in growth of hair. Applied several times a day, it will turn the hair from its natural color to a rich, lustrous color, leaving it soft, smooth, and flexible. The Ointment is a valuable article for the hair, and will, after one week's use, it would not for any consideration be without it.
