

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Feb. 2. Saturday was the day set apart for the interview of Senators and Representatives with the Secretary of War. The doorkeepers at the outside doors admitted none but those who said there were members of one of the two Houses. No cards were used, and once inside all persons to the Secretary's office were first in line to be received, and Representatives were not kept waiting in an ante-chamber, as they are at the White House, until the Senators are through. The halls were empty, the crowds that were wont to congregate there were no longer to be seen.

The Secretary seems to know nearly all the Senators and most of the Representatives; but few, however, called, there not being over half a dozen in his room at any one time. Most of the business transacted was quiet manner, and but few of the cases will do to repeat, the interviews being of a more private nature than those of the people, on Monday. Foremost in the room was the long-haired patriot of Kentucky, J. J. Crittenden. He was warmly greeted by the Secretary, and introduced to him a young man, whom he said, he would like to have appointed in the Army. Mr. Stanton took him by the hand and asked him his name, where born and raised, his occupation, and his family. He was the oldest boy, and his father died some years or two ago, while in the Navy, in the service of his country.

The following official notices were to-day promulgated by the Treasury Department:— "Holders of the bonds of the United States, payable in three years from date, the coupon of the semi-annual interest thereon being due on the 15th of March next, are notified that provision has been made for the payment in coin of all such coupons agreeably to their tenor, at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States, in the city of New York.

"All such coupons must be presented at that office, accompanied by a schedule showing the number and amount of each coupon, together with the aggregate sum of each paper. "Three full business days, for examination and verification before payment, will be required. "Notice is hereby given of the readiness of this Department to redeem the Treasury notes payable in one year from date, authorized by act of Congress, approved December 23, 1861, and the Treasury notes payable in six months from date, authorized by act of Congress, approved the 24th of March, 1861.

"The interest on the Treasury notes of the above issues will cease on the seventh day of April next, by the terms of these acts respectively. "To-day the last note of the fifty millions issued in Richmond, without proper endorsement, has been cancelled. The message it is said to have been from J. F. Davis to President Lincoln, announcing that, if the Federal Government would permit him to be hanged, he would be hanged under the order of Gen. Halleck, that the Federal prisoners—Col. Corcoran, Lew, Wilcox and others, held as hostages for the safety of the pirates, shall be immediately hanged in retaliation. A Cabinet meeting was held to-day, at which the subject was discussed, but I am requested not to announce the result. J. F. Davis will learn it soon enough. It is probably that the news of the recent order of the War Department directing the privateersmen to be regarded as prisoners of war, will be reported to-day, which last message came from Richmond. The sentiment expressed by those who know the report of the message is, that the officer who brought it, thereby disgracing the flag of truce, should have been retained and hung with the bridge.

The despatch published in the papers yesterday that Gen. Scott is about to proceed to Mexico as special agent for this government is only speculation. There is authority for saying that Mr. Corwin will continue in Mexico with a view to the rebellion, and that the government will send a special agent to act for the government. Gen. Scott's movements point to another direction.

Through a gentleman who arrived in the city last evening direct from Nashville, we learned some very interesting facts. He was in Nashville on the day that the battle of Logan's Old Field was fought, but left before the report reached that city. He was with the army, and he saw the rebels in the victory there, pursued and only, learned their mistake when they were attacked from both flanks as well as in front. When Zollicoffer fell, Crittenden, not being seen on the ground, a couple of Colonels whom he did not know took command until Colonel Cummings ordered a retreat. Some one cried that the day was lost, "every man for himself." Then they threw down everything that could impede their flight, and rushed for the entrenchments, and then for the river. The rebel boats were so great that hundreds were crowded into the river and drowned. The lowest estimate any of them put on the rebel loss was 1000—some saying 1500—but they stated that the majority of them were drowned.

They had no idea where General Crittenden was, and their estimate of the Union forces was the strongest evidence of the panic under which they fled.

This gentleman also learned that Parson's health is very poor. He stated that he doubted if his father would live to reach the Union lines; and if his health would permit, he did not believe the Rebel guard would let him go.

The gentleman on his way to see Andy Johnson, and reports that the Rebels have seized Johnson's house, turning it into a hospital, and confiscating all his property; that in order to save his mother from the most fiendish persecution, one of Johnson's sons has taken the oath to support the Rebel cause, or at least not to furnish aid, and comfort to the Unionists. Another son is hiding among the hills, and has been since last December.

Horses sometimes run for cups, but not half as often as men do. The little fellow, George Washington Nutt, who was exhibited in the place last winter, has been sold to Barnum for three years at the strong sum of $200,000.

From these sources, taken in connection with the tariff on imports, it is confidently expected, after the most careful investigation, that the Government will derive an annual revenue of at least one hundred and fifty millions of dollars. This tax bill will give to the United States bonds a sure specie-paying security. The Committee have also considered the subject of National Banking Law, which will require the deposit of United States stock as security for the bank notes that are circulated as currency.

The rumors which it is represented three New York into a panic yesterday, are regarded here as inventions of the sensationalists in London and Paris. The communications which have been received from Great Britain and France, as well as the other European States, by the two last steamers, are more frank and cordial than any since the insurrection began.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. It is intimated that General Scott will proceed to Mexico as a special envoy from the Government.

The sleep of war Richmond is now being fitted up for his accommodation at the Brooklyn navy yard, but destination being announced as Key West. From Key West to Vera Cruz, however, is but a brief journey.

Since the breaking out of Southern Confederacy have named Rebel Generals: Maj. Gen. David E. Twiggs, Brig. Gen. Henry B. Jackson, Brig. Gen. Robert S. Garnett, killed, Brig. Gen. W. H. Walker, resigned, Brig. Gen. Bernard E. Bee, killed, Brig. Gen. Gideon J. Pillow, resigned, Brig. Gen. Theobald T. T. Feigens, Brig. Gen. John B. Grayson, dead, Brig. Gen. Felix K. Zollicoffer, killed, Brig. Gen. Philip St. George Cooke, committed suicide.

All that some young men need to inflame their hearts is a spark.

THE CLIMATE. Is it delightful, the winters being sultry and open, with the summers not so warm as in the North. The location upon the line of latitude with northern Virginia, and the climate is not so hot as in the South, and is much more salubrious, and general health is improved, and a difference in a few days. Climate and general health is improved, and a difference in a few days.

CONVENIENCES AT HAND. Building materials plenty. Fish and Oysters plentiful and cheap. Durable material not used before. This question the reader naturally asks. It is because it is so near the sea, and the climate is so salubrious, and general health is improved, and a difference in a few days.
