Hon. Thos. A. Scott, Assistant Secretary of War, has been re-elected Vice President of the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company. He leaves the War Department to attend exclusively to his Rail Road duties.

The Regus Band, of Williamsport, was in Banks' column at the time of its late disaster, and it is said lost most of their instruments.

General Banks has received the official thanks of the President and Secretary of War for his masterly retreat to the Potomac.

General Dix has gone to Fortress Monroe to take command there, vice General Wool who takes command in Baltimore. This change was probably mutually desired.

A general order has been issued in Missouri by which all guerrillas and marauders caught in arms and engaged in their unlawful warfare will be shot down on the spot, and any one aiding the outlaws or failing to assist the military authorities of the State in detecting and bringing them to punishment, will be treated as aiders and abettors of the rebellion.

JEFF DAVIS and his Cabinet, it is said, are opposed to going back to Montgomery, Ala., the first capital of the bogus Confederacy, when they are driven from Richmond, because the Alabama river, on which it is situated, is navigable for gunboats.

Hon. Wm. H. ARMSTRONG is announced in the West Branch Bulletin as a candidate for Congress in the Lyeinging district. He is among the ablest men in the State, and would distinguish himself in Congress.

Beauregard has spoken from Shiloh; his official report has at last come to hand. His effort is to show his defeat in the light of a victory, but he makes a bad job of it. Among his heaviest losses he admits that the Commander-in-Chief, General A. Sidney Johnston, the Hon. George M. Johnston (rebel Provisional Governor of Kentucky), Brig. Gen. Gladden, and Brig. Gen. Hindman, were killed or died from wounds; Major-General Cleburn, Brig. Gen. Clark, Brig. Gen. Johnston and Brig. Gen. Bowen were wounded; 1728 men were killed on the field, 8012 were wounded, and 959 are missing—total loss, 10699.

IMPORTANT TO THE COAL TRADE.—The Committee on Finance, of the Senate, have agreed that the House bill shall be amended so as to fix the tax on all coals at three and a half cents a ton. This is a reduction of eleven and a half cents a ton on anthracite, thus relieving it of a very material burden. Senator Cowan, of Pennsylvania, who is a member of this committee, worked very zealously and ably to bring about this result. It is believed that the House will concur in the modification of the Senate.

The Mahony and Broad Mountain Railroad has been completed to Ashland. The first car of coal was shipped over it on Thursday, the 29th ult., consigned to the President of the Reading Railroad Company.

The Mayor of New Orleans, who feared "a high-spirited people would not bear the presence of our Union soldiers," sent the freedom of the city to the officers of a French frigate lying in the river, and invited them to his hospitalities. Governor General Butler sent word to the Mayor that any manifestations of the kind intended will come from the United States authorities, and not from the municipal officers of a captured city. "The Freedom of a captured city by the captives would," he says, "merit letters patent for its novelty, were there not doubts of its usefulness as an invention, and the tender of hospitalities by a government to which police duties and sanguinary regulations only are entrusted, is simply an invitation to the calaboose or the hospital." The rebel authorities have been looking for relief from the yellow fever and been neglecting the streets to invite it, but Butler made them go to work and clean the city thoroughly, both for their own benefit and that of the Union visitors. It will be a good thing for New Orleans if Butler should be installed there for a few months.

THE NATIONAL HOTEL POISONING.—THE MYSTERY SOLVED.—It seems to be pretty well established now that the poisoning affair which occurred at the National Hotel at Washington, was a part of the rebel conspiracy. The object was to destroy James Buchanan, who was stopping at that house before the inauguration, so as to make the traitor Breckinridge President, in order to carry out their plans successfully. This Buchanan knew, for he was informed of it, and placed on his guard. The effect was that the miserable old imbecile, threw himself into the hands of the conspirators, and when implored to exert the power of the Government against the rebels, by a friend, he confessed that he dare not do it, because his life was in danger. But few persons can realize the hellish character of the rebel conspiracy.

ANOTHER OLD REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER GONE.—Died, on Friday, May 30, 1862, at the residence of his son, Solomon Pike, in Jefferson township, Dauphin county, Pa., John Pike, at the advanced age of one hundred and twelve years. He was interested in the cemetery at Bowman's church, in the township that he never was known to make use of glasses either to read or write, and that until within two weeks of his death he was still able to read. He was a German by birth, American born, and for many years past had resided in Dauphin county.

FROM GENERAL HALLECK'S ARMY. CORINTH EVACUATED. Advance of the Army. Our Flight Waving Over Corinth! The Evacuation Officially Confirmed.

WAR DEPARTMENT, May 30.—A despatch just received fully corroborates the former message, that Corinth is evacuated by the rebels and occupied by our troops. Prisoners say that the enemy left last night for Okolona, Mississippi, a point sixty-seven miles south of Corinth, on the Mobile and Ohio railroad.

THE PARTICULARS. GENERAL HALLECK'S HEADQUARTERS, May 30, 1862. During nearly all last night the moving of cars and the suppressed sound of steam whistles betokened that some movement was going on in the enemy's camp; but, this not being an extraordinary occurrence, it was not considered worthy of more than passing notice. About five o'clock this morning, several explosions were distinctly heard. Immediately afterwards skirmishes were thrown out, and a general advance of the United States army commenced, when it was found that the enemy had left his western stronghold and fled.

A very large amount of railroad iron was left untouched. There being some twelve or fifteen tracks of railroad running from the depot to the entrenchments, with side tracks and switches, the enemy was enabled to move off with great rapidity. From all information that can be gleaned from the prisoners taken, it is thought that the evacuation was commenced at sundown, last night, the enemy retreating in three columns west and south of Memphis.

Beauregard stated to the citizens of Corinth, last night that he intended to throw himself on both our flanks. At this hour, Corinth is held by our army as an outpost. Our cavalry are seeking for the enemy. The General's army, General Pope's command came upon, and dispersed, the enemy, eight miles below Corinth, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad while in the act of burning the bridge at that point. Forty prisoners were captured.

The enemy's rear guard destroyed the railroad depot at Corinth and a church, and intended to destroy the entire village, but the inhabitants saved some fifty of the houses. A few bales of cotton were consumed. They also broke open many of the stores and burned the contents. A large force of United States cavalry, under Colonel Elliott, was sent out on Wednesday morning by a circuitous route to destroy a bridge on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad south of Corinth. Though the expedition has not yet returned, we learn from the prisoners that it was known in Corinth last night that a large bridge had been destroyed, forty miles south, by a body of our cavalry.

of the retreating enemy scattering in all directions. JOHN POPE, Maj. Gen'l H. W. HALLECK, Major General Commanding. [SECOND DISPATCH.] HALLECK'S HEADQUARTERS, May 31.—Our cavalry found all the tents of the enemy standing, took hundreds of barrels of beef, seven thousand stand of arms in a large encampment on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, said to have belonged to Price and Van Dorn's forces, and deserted them on Thursday night.

The rebels are being brought in in squads of forty or fifty. Our cavalry found the rebels on several roads in strong force with artillery, supported by infantry. The rebels commenced moving their sick last night. Beauregard and Bragg were at Corinth on Tuesday afternoon.

[THIRD DISPATCH.] June 1.—The residents here say that the rebel guard burned the Cypress creek railroad bridge by a misapprehension, causing the destruction of seven locomotives, perhaps as many trains laden with commissary and quartermaster stores. This accounts for the smoke seen by the signal corps from the tree top.

Col. Elliott has returned with his cavalry command, and has been congratulated by Gen. Pope for the brilliant success of his expedition. Besides destroying the railroad and a large amount of stores and arms, he captured thirty mounted prisoners and six hundred infantry, with little loss.

He found 2,500 sick and wounded rebels at Booneville. Reports from Memphis report that all the newspapers have been removed from there to Grenada, Mississippi.

Somebody asked Gen. Cass, the other day, in Detroit—"General, what may we do to save the Union?" "Anything," he replied, "we abolish slavery!" "Abolish anything on the surface of the earth to save the nation."

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, May 30.—The following despatches were received this afternoon: To the Hon. EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War: Gen. Pope's heavy batteries opened upon the enemy's entrenchments yesterday, about 10 o'clock A. M., and soon drove the rebels from their advanced battery.

Major-General W. T. Sherman established another heavy battery yesterday afternoon within one thousand yards of their works, and skirmishing parties advanced at day-break this morning.

Three of our divisions are already in the enemy's advanced works, about three-quarters of a mile of Corinth, which is now in flames. The enemy has fallen back to the Mobile railroad.

H. W. HALLECK, Major-General. [SECOND DISPATCH.] NEAR CORINTH, May 30. To the Hon. EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War: Three strong reconnoitering columns advanced this morning, on the right, centre, and left, to feel the enemy and unmask his batteries. The enemy very boldly came to his ground at each point, but was driven back with considerable loss.

FROM GEN. HALLECK'S ARMY. PURSUIT OF THE REBELS. WASHINGTON, June 2. The following despatch was received at the War Department this morning: HEADQUARTERS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF THE MISSISSIPPI, CAMP NEAR CORINTH, June 4, 1862.

To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: The following despatch has been received from General Pope to Major General Halleck: It gives me pleasure to report the brilliant success of the expedition sent out on the 28th inst., under Col. Elliott, in command of the Second Cavalry. After forced marches day and night, through a very difficult country, he finally succeeded in reaching the Mobile and Ohio railroad at Booneville at 2 o'clock A. M. on the 30th.

He destroyed the track in many places both south and north of the town, blew up one culvert, destroyed the switch and track, burned the depot and locomotives and a train of twenty-six cars loaded with supplies of every kind, destroyed 10,000 stands of small arms, three pieces of artillery and a great quantity of clothing and ammunition, and killed several prisoners, which he could not keep with his cavalry.

The enemy had heard of his movements, and had a train of box cars and flat cars with flying artillery and five thousand infantry moving up and down the road to prevent him from catching it. The whole road was lined with rebel pickets.

Col. Elliott's command subsisted upon meat alone, such as they could find in the country through which they passed, for several days. For dining and dispatch this expedition has been distinguished in the highest degree, and entitled Col. Elliott and his command to high distinction. Its results will be emboldening to the enemy, and contribute greatly to their loss and demoralization.

HAVE YOU A COUGH? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Do not allow your cough to take its own course. Two thirds of the victims of consumption owe their afflictions to the fatal mistake of "waiting for a cough to get well of itself." Do not fall into this error, but avoid yourself at once of a remedy which in years' experience has demonstrated to contain the most efficacious remedy.

HAVE YOU ASTHMA OR BRONCHITIS? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, which will overcome the spasmodic contraction of the wind pipes, and cause them to expand, and thus relieve which clog them up, and by an easy and free expectoration remove all difficulty of breathing.

HAVE YOU BRONCHITIS? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. This widespread disease which may generally be described as an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the wind pipes or air tubes, and which attacks every part of the lungs, is often taken for consumption. The expectorant cures this inflammation, relaxes the contracting cough, and difficulty of breathing, and if the case is not of too long standing, will certainly produce a cure.

HAVE YOU CONSUMPTION? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. It cleanses the lungs from all irritating matters, while at the same time it feeds and invigorates them. Of all the remedies which have been offered to the public for this dread disease there is none so effective as this. Thousands who have been given up by their physicians as incurable have been restored to perfect health by its use, and their testimony most unequivocal to all who read it.

HAVE YOU PLEURISY? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Pleurisy being two or three large doses in the early stage of the disease in quick succession, and covering copiously in bed, this preparation acts as a valuable and soothing medicine, and subdues the inflammation at the seat.

HAVE YOU WHOOPING COUGH? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. There is no remedy which so effectually cures this disease as the Expectant. What parent can endure the sufferings of her children from this distressing complaint without doing all in her power for their relief? What mother would not be anxious to see, or to see, to relieve immediate benefit? Give it a trial, and let it prove its efficacy.

HAVE YOU GOUT? THEN USE JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Children are subject to no disease more sudden in its attack, or in the absence of prompt relief, more dangerous in its results, than Gout. Parents, therefore, should keep at hand a remedy sure and reliable. Such a remedy may be found in the Expectant, and every careful mother will keep a supply by her.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Is a standard medicine. For thirty years it has been before the public, and during this time its extraordinary powers have been testified to by all classes of people in all quarters of the world. Physicians, clergymen, lawyers, merchants, and mechanics have experienced its remedial effects, and have furnished us with their testimony, and it may be found at length in our Almanac, to be had gratis of all agents. To their convincing certitudes we would refer the doubting. The Expectant sold by Dr. J. C. JAYNE & SON'S FAMILY MEDICINES are sold by all Druggists and Grocers. May 1, 1862.—3 m
