

POETRY.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The boy and his two little boys
Are gone to Dixie's land;
And old Dan Tucker's made a match
With Nancy in the strand.

Good News from Home made Mary Blane
And babies quite gay;

But little Dan's in the strand.

Young children are Lucy and
A simple Bell, White and Blue;

And Nelly like her bright bow;

In her home do Dan's sons.

Cowboy They're in Service, Andie,
Sleek magnificently, tall and trim;

And Andie Louis' feet a-tap,

When we're back again.

Friends are here who the girls were,

As we wanted him to be;

Up and Young to Mary, Yes;

They're up and away, and still.

Will you leave them now?

They're up and away, and still;

Then you'll remember me;

When you'll remember me!

Friends are here who the girls were,

As we wanted him to be;

Up and Young to Mary, Yes;

They're up and away, and still.

Will you leave them now?

They're up and away, and still;

Then you'll remember me;

When you'll remember me!

Friends are here who the girls were,

As we wanted him to be;

Up and Young to Mary, Yes;

They're up and away, and still.

Will you leave them now?

They're up and away, and still;

Then you'll remember me;

When you'll remember me!

Friends are here who the girls were,

As we wanted him to be;

Up and Young to Mary, Yes;

They're up and away, and still.

Will you leave them now?

They're up and away, and still;

Then you'll remember me;

When you'll remember me!
