

COUNTY CONVENTION.

The members of the Union Party of Northumberland County, are requested to meet in the different Townships and Boroughs of the County, on Saturday the 6th of August, to elect delegates to attend a County Convention, which will assemble in Sunbury, on Monday the 8th of August, to nominate candidates for Congress, Legislature, and the County Offices to be elected at the October election. It is of the greatest importance that each District in the County should be represented.

Local Affairs.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies connected with the German Reformed Church held a festival in the former office of Mr. Hill, on the first three days of the present week. The receipts were over $100.

RAIN.—On Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock a fine rain set in, and continued, with little or no intermission, until midnight. The rain came down in torrents for nearly four hours. It was glorious and refreshing, and was greatly needed to revive the crops of corn, potatoes, and vegetation generally.

AT HOME.—Capt. I. H. Dunkleberger, of the 1st Regiment U. S. Cavalry who was severely wounded in the left arm and shoulder at Petersburg, arrived at this place on Monday last.

THE ANNUAL TERM OF OUR COURTS commenced on Monday. There was not much business transacted, and in the afternoon the Court adjourned over till Wednesday, on account of the election held on Tuesday. On Wednesday evening it again adjourned, in order to give those desirous of doing so, an opportunity to attend a meeting and prayer, as recommended by the President.

THURSDAY BEING A DAY SET APART BY THE President for fasting and prayer, the stores and most of the business places were closed. Divine service was held in several of the churches.

APPLICANTS for the position of teachers in the public schools of this borough will be examined, on Thursday, August 23rd, at 9 o'clock, at W. H. Harris's office.

REBEL PRISONERS.—On Sunday, the 23rd ult., a train with over seven hundred rebel prisoners arrived here, about six o'clock in the morning, on their way to Elmira. Many of them had been taken during the late rebel raid near Washington and Baltimore. We spoke to several of them, who hailed from North Carolina. They seemed in good spirits, but acknowledged they had endured a great privation for a period of forty-two days before Petersburg. They were motionless for peace, but thought they could hold out something longer.

AS they stated, they were hungry, some of the neighbors present furnished a portion of them with fine bread and butter. Several of these were soldiers' wives. We could not help contrasting their generous and christian conduct, with that of the rebel ladies, who generally insult our men prisoners. Instead of furnishing to their wants.

SAVE THE SOLDIERS.—We hope some of our returned soldiers will participate with the uniform in which they fought for the Union, upon any consideration whatever. The time will come when they will regard those old blue coats or red and blue uniforms as the choicest treasures they possess. It would be a great thing for a father to be able to give to his boy or girl, "that coat which was made by his own hands." It will be a precious heirloom to have been in the hands of those who have placed Save the Uniforms—they will be the best titles to honor and respect a man can possess.

THE DRAFT.—QUOTAS OF THE VARIOUS TOWNSHIP.—Below we give the number of persons subject to draft, and the quotas of the various wards, as far as they can be ascertained. The correction of the enrollment lists will make slight changes, but the figures will vary but little in regard to the number.

Table with columns for Township, Males, and Females, listing various townships like Upper Augusta, Lower Augusta, and others with their respective male and female populations.

LETTER FROM THE SUNBURY GUARDS.—FREDERICK CITY, Md., Aug. 1, 1864. DEAR W. D. WEBER:—

Instead of going to Grant, in front of Petersburg, as we expected, orders were received sending the 6th and 19th regts. N.Y. through Maryland in quest of rebels. On the route I conversed with many farmers who had been deprived of property by the robbery in their late raid, and all of them agreed in the abundance with which they hold the rebels, and are no ways particular in their views concerning them. A gentleman told me they came not as warriors, but as the lower class of robbers, resorting to petty larceny, and were so mean that they even asked ladies for the car straps worn as ornaments. At an farmers where they had stolen eight horses, a young lady said that the "low fellows wanted paper to take the boots off his feet to give him."

On the 28th we made Monocacy creek and encamped on the battle ground of that name—the fight of the 12th in which General Lew. Wallace, by holding the rebels at bay, saved Washington. Fruits of the battle are still visible, in broken and bent muskets, pieces of shell, small shot, etc. I saw several trenches which contained over fifty dead rebels each. One grave contained the remains of three rebel staff officers. In another part of the field quite a number of Union soldiers are "sleeping their last sleep," murdered by a foe, who in wickedness and cruelty, would not spare the vanquished. The fight lasted some eight hours, and when the difference in numbers is given, it proves our men fought with a determination to their homes from the invader. Five thousand was the amount of the Union forces, and that of rebels twenty five thousand. Our men had to give way before this heavy number, but not until the enemy's loss was heavy.

Stopping but a short time in this camp, we pushed forward through Frederick city to Harpers Ferry, where we arrived on Saturday last. Here we were allowed but an hour's rest, when told to be on the move again. On the road to Frederick, plenty of evidence was shown of the late strife around that town. On a house by the wayside, on either side of which had been the contending parties, I counted the marks of thirty-odd bullets, while the house standing in front, was completely shelled. The top of the house fell in but while the kitchen was in its height, here and there were seen the marks of the battle.

The advance force August contains a more correct table of contents than usual. The following is the list of contents: Contents Edited by Harvey H. Fessenden, Hon. R. M. Garrison, by George W. Garrison, August 25, 1864, by Longfellow. What will become of them, by J. T. Westwood. Honorable John W. Foster, by Andrew Van Alen. John Jay's Reminiscences, by T. B. Allen. Success of John in Paris, by J. P. B. B. Success of John in Paris, by J. P. B. B. Success of John in Paris, by J. P. B. B.

THE DRAFT.—A number of substitutes are now being placed in the service by persons who have not been drafted, but are subject to draft.

Those eager to know whether the payment of $300 commutation exempt for three full years from all drafts are informed that such payment, if made at any time prior to February last, does so exempt.—In February, the law was changed so that the payment of $300 theretofore exempt only for the intervening duty, while the passage of the Act of this month there is no commutation whatever. All who are heretofore drafted, and found liable, must serve in person or substitute.

DRAFTS.—On Monday last, several drafts came off in Market Square, which resulted in the taping of several men appendages. In the forenoon Wm. T. Riekey, a blatant politician, flaunted with an extra quantity of the green oxid of copper, gave vent, as usual, to a gassy tirade, and, as we learn, abused the Administration and all who supported it or fought under it. Some of the soldier boys home on furlough, among them Bottie Hopper, determined to castigate Riekey, when he drew a knife, whereupon Charles Beck seized him with the weapon from his hands. The scuffle, Riekey's sword was tapped, and it was necessary to take him to a pump to wash his mouth, a cleansing operation that might often be repeated, with advantage to foul mouthed brawlers. Riekey complained that he was left alone, among bull-dogs, and that no one came to assist him, although he gave the sign.—About noon, Hopper, who was entirely under the control of John Barlow, was after him with a pistol. Riekey was finally locked in a room and sent across the river, glad to escape from "Landis's Hole."

In the afternoon a Mr. Hengelder of Milton, a stout athletic man, who threatened to whip some of the boys, was severely handled by David Lewis of this place. David is a small man, and like David of old, was a stranger to fear. The way he handled the Miltonian was rather surprising, and it was thought the lesson might be a useful one.
