

TERMS—Two Dollars per Annum, $2.50 if paid in advance. No paper discontinued until arrears are paid. These terms will be strictly adhered to hereafter.

If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the carriers, they are directed, they are responsible and they have accepted the bills and ordered them discontinued.

JOBS PRINTING. We have connected with our establishment a well selected JOB OFFICE, which will enable us to execute, in the neatest style, every variety of Printing.

THE AMERICAN.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, BY H. B. MASSER & E. WILVERT, SUNBURY, NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY, PENN.

NEW SERIES, VOL. I, NO. 15. SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1865. OLD SERIES, VOL. 25, NO. 15.

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

ESTABLISHED AS A REFUGE FROM QUACKERY. THE ONLY PLACE WHERE A CURE CAN BE OBTAINED.

DR. JOHNSON has discovered the most Certain, Speedy and only Effectual Remedy in the World for all the most distressing Diseases of the Back, Lungs, Stricture, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Headache, Trembling, Spasms, Convulsions, Dropsy, Pains of the Heart, Stomach, Bowels, or elsewhere, in the Female, and all the other Diseases of the Female, such as the Whites, Leucorrhoea, Menstrual Disorders, &c., &c., which are cured in a few days, or a few weeks, without the use of any violent or dangerous Remedies, and without the necessity of any long confinement in the Hospital. An Unusual will be found at the Stations on the arrival of each train. C. H. MANN, Proprietor.

YOUNG MEN.

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most excellent talents and brilliant intellects, who neglect to visit the Stations of the Great Eastern, Baltimore and Annapolis, or the Stations of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, and are thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

MARRIAGE.

Married Persons or Young Men contemplating Marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic deficiency, debility, &c., &c., should be advised by Dr. J. Johnson, who will prescribe the most certain and effectual Remedy in the World, and who will also be found at the Stations of the Great Eastern, Baltimore and Annapolis, and of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

DEBILITY.

This distressing Affection, which renders the sufferer incapable of any exertion, and which is the result of a variety of causes, such as Solitary Vice, Intemperance, &c., &c., is cured in a few days, or a few weeks, without the use of any violent or dangerous Remedies, and without the necessity of any long confinement in the Hospital. An Unusual will be found at the Stations on the arrival of each train. C. H. MANN, Proprietor.

JONES HOUSE.

Corner Market street and Market Square, BALTIMORE, PA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

G. O. BRUCE.

Authorized War Claims Officer. Washington, D. C. 443 NINTH STREET, No. 1, LYMAN'S BLOCK, Opposite Pension Office, Near the Court House. Publishes the Army Herald, and collects PENSIONS, BOUNTY, BACK PAY, &c.

W A R

TO CONSUMERS OF... The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

TO CONSUMERS OF...

THE Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

THE ONLY reliable self-acting Wringer.

No. 108 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

THE ONLY reliable self-acting Wringer.

No. 108 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS.

No. 108 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS.

No. 108 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

BOARDING HOUSE.

No. 108 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

LATEST IMPROVEMENT OF AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

AT THE FOUNDRY, OF ROEBACK & COOPER, SUNBURY, PENN. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

DRUG & CHEMICAL EMPORIUM.

Market Square, SUNBURY, PA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

PATENT MEDICINES.

Of all kinds, such as Ayer's, Dr. Williams', &c., &c. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

BRUSHES.

Of all kinds, such as Hair, Tooth, Nail, &c., &c. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

PAINTS AND CHEMICALS.

Of all kinds, such as Oil, Spirit, &c., &c. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

LADIES FANCY PERNS.

AT JOHN FAHRENS' Old Established PERMANENT FERRMANUFACTORY, No. 718 ARCH STREET, above 7th, PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

COAL OIL LAMPS.

No. 28 S. SECOND ST., PHILADELPHIA. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

Heading Railroad. WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

November 7th, 1864. The Proprietor would most respectfully call the attention of the citizens of Sunbury and the surrounding country, to the accommodations of his House, situated on the line of the Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers, and is thus exposed to the temptations of the Quack, who, by his wretched and expensive Remedies, only prolongs their suffering and hastens their destruction.

POETICAL.

THE FOOTSTEPS OF DECAT.

He did live. An iron will conquered the messenger Death sent—Daniel Bryan lived. For one month he could not even walk without help. But he had help—Mary helped him.

A year passed away, and Moses Felton returned to Vermont. He entered the Courthouse at Burlington, and Daniel Bryan was on the floor pleading for a young man who had been indicted for forgery. Felton started with surprise. Never before had such torrents of eloquence poured from his lips. The case was given to the jury, and the youth was acquitted. The successful counsel returned from the court room and met Moses Felton.

He shook hands but did not speak. When they reached a spot where non-users could hear them, Bryan stopped. "Moses," he said, "do you remember the words I spoke to you a year ago?" "I do, Daniel."

"Will you now take them back—unsay them forever?" "Yes, with all my heart." "Then I am part-paid."

That evening Mary Bryan was among the happiest of the happy. No allusion was made to the scene of one year before, but she sat in the State Legislature, three in the Senate, and once in the National Congress.

His life was a struggle. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He did live. An iron will conquered the messenger Death sent—Daniel Bryan lived. For one month he could not even walk without help. But he had help—Mary helped him.

A year passed away, and Moses Felton returned to Vermont. He entered the Courthouse at Burlington, and Daniel Bryan was on the floor pleading for a young man who had been indicted for forgery. Felton started with surprise. Never before had such torrents of eloquence poured from his lips. The case was given to the jury, and the youth was acquitted. The successful counsel returned from the court room and met Moses Felton.

He shook hands but did not speak. When they reached a spot where non-users could hear them, Bryan stopped. "Moses," he said, "do you remember the words I spoke to you a year ago?" "I do, Daniel."

"Will you now take them back—unsay them forever?" "Yes, with all my heart." "Then I am part-paid."

That evening Mary Bryan was among the happiest of the happy. No allusion was made to the scene of one year before, but she sat in the State Legislature, three in the Senate, and once in the National Congress.

His life was a struggle. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He did live. An iron will conquered the messenger Death sent—Daniel Bryan lived. For one month he could not even walk without help. But he had help—Mary helped him.

A year passed away, and Moses Felton returned to Vermont. He entered the Courthouse at Burlington, and Daniel Bryan was on the floor pleading for a young man who had been indicted for forgery. Felton started with surprise. Never before had such torrents of eloquence poured from his lips. The case was given to the jury, and the youth was acquitted. The successful counsel returned from the court room and met Moses Felton.

He shook hands but did not speak. When they reached a spot where non-users could hear them, Bryan stopped. "Moses," he said, "do you remember the words I spoke to you a year ago?" "I do, Daniel."

"Will you now take them back—unsay them forever?" "Yes, with all my heart." "Then I am part-paid."

That evening Mary Bryan was among the happiest of the happy. No allusion was made to the scene of one year before, but she sat in the State Legislature, three in the Senate, and once in the National Congress.

His life was a struggle. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He did live. An iron will conquered the messenger Death sent—Daniel Bryan lived. For one month he could not even walk without help. But he had help—Mary helped him.

A year passed away, and Moses Felton returned to Vermont. He entered the Courthouse at Burlington, and Daniel Bryan was on the floor pleading for a young man who had been indicted for forgery. Felton started with surprise. Never before had such torrents of eloquence poured from his lips. The case was given to the jury, and the youth was acquitted. The successful counsel returned from the court room and met Moses Felton.

He shook hands but did not speak. When they reached a spot where non-users could hear them, Bryan stopped. "Moses," he said, "do you remember the words I spoke to you a year ago?" "I do, Daniel."

"Will you now take them back—unsay them forever?" "Yes, with all my heart." "Then I am part-paid."

That evening Mary Bryan was among the happiest of the happy. No allusion was made to the scene of one year before, but she sat in the State Legislature, three in the Senate, and once in the National Congress.

His life was a struggle. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.

He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves. He was a man of iron nerves, but he was also a man of iron will. He was a man of iron will, but he was also a man of iron nerves.