EXCELSIOR'S EXCELLENT COFFEE.

While trying Coffee of all the various brands, I have found EXCELSIOR'S EXCELLENT COFFEE to be the best. It is not like the others that are "SOLD EVERYWHERE." A little stretch, we all do know, good goods will easily bear. (But a stretch like this—well everywhere—is very apt to tear.) Now, I am satisfied, without any hesitation, that EXCELSIOR'S EXCELLENT COFFEE is the best. It is not like the others that are "SOLD EVERYWHERE." A little stretch, we all do know, good goods will easily bear. (But a stretch like this—well everywhere—is very apt to tear.)

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry

One of the oldest and most reliable remedies in the world for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Difficult Breathing, Asthma, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, and every Affection of the THROAT, LUNGS AND CHEST, including even CONSUMPTION. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. So general is the use of this remedy, and so popular is it everywhere, that it is unnecessary to recount its virtues. It works speaks for it, and finds utterance in the abundant and voluntary testimony of the many who have suffered and are still suffering from it. We can present a mass of evidence in proof of our assertion that IT CANNOT BE DISCREDITED.

The Rev. Jacob Sechler. Well known and much respected among the German population in this country, makes the following statement for the benefit of the afflicted: HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 15, 1859. Dear Sir—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a delicate and little hope of her recovery were entertained. She then presented a hoarse, dry, croupy cough, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle of your Balsam, she was greatly improved in her health. I have, since that time, used your Balsam, and have also been benefited by it. JACOB SECHLER.

PATRIOTIC SONGS.

THE STAR SPANGLED-BANNER. BY FRANCIS S. KEY. O' say can you see by the dawn's early light, What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming, Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight, O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming, And the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air, Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there, O' say does that star spangled banner yet wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

General Grant replied that he would reflect upon the matter during the night, and let Mr. Dubois know of his determination in the morning. When the morning came, General Grant met Mr. Dubois with a cheerful countenance, and the following conversation took place: General Grant, Uncle Jesse you are going home to-day; tell Governor Yates and the people of Illinois, for me that I will take Vicksburg in sixty days. Mr. Dubois, General Grant, I am glad to hear you say this; but all I ask you to allow me to tell them is that you will take Vicksburg, I don't care whether in sixty days or in six months. General Grant, I will not tell you what they are. Even with the best intentions, you might disclose them to the detriment of the movement. They then parted, and General Grant departed his plan to General Sherman, who protested in writing as detailed in the article, but placed himself under the general orders.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOW GENERAL TOOK VICKSBURG. A Springfield (Illinois) correspondent of the Chicago Republican gives the following interesting chapter of past history: In the Republic of June 3, was published an editorial article with an extract headed "A Search of History," and which gives a full and complete account of the military operations of General Sherman's army against Vicksburg, and which by the capture of Vicksburg, and which movement was evidently entirely one of his own invention, and greatly adds to the military genius of the man. The people have not (probably) before this time, been made aware of the fact that General Sherman, in his judgment and military talent, repudiated such great confidence.

General Grant was led to make the great movement which resulted in the capture of Vicksburg, on the 1st of April 1862, by the Secretary of State, O. M. Hatch, of this State; and the following conversation in substance, took place: Mr. Dubois: "Mr. President, I do not like General Grant's paroling these prisoners Vicksburg. We had better feed them than let them starve." Mr. Lincoln, straightening himself up his full height, and his countenance beaming with that peculiar smile which indicated that he was highly pleased: "Dubois, General Grant has done so well, and we are all pleased at the taking of Vicksburg, let me direct you to have them fed, and let them starve through for his son, who had been the siege, and was then in a Memphis hospital. Mr. Lincoln himself went to the White House to obtain the parole of the prisoners, and while in the presence of Mr. Lincoln, Mr. D. L. Phillips was present, and Mr. D. L. Phillips was the one who made the arrangement for the parole of the prisoners. He also advised 'Dubois' placing his finger upon the base of the railing, and taking his erect posture, 'do you know that, at the time, I stood solitary and alone here in the presence of General Grant. Even—(meaning members of Congress from Northern Illinois) came and took me to the front of the White House, and that I would have a move him. But I remembered that you and others had been down there at the first of April, and had not said a word to me on the subject.'
