LE RIVER MEETING .- Pursuant to adjournment a meeting of the citizens of the borough of Sunbury and vicinity, will be held in the Court House, on Monday evening next, Oct. 23d, to take action relative to enforcing the law passed by the legislature last winter, compelling the owners of dams in the Susquehanna, to alter or fix them so as to give shad and other fish a free passage up the river. All persons interested are requested to attend.

LE As the long winter evenings are again appronching, we would suggest to our young friends to organize a literary society and establish a read. Catherine Curran, vs Catherine Wallace. Ing room in this place. Nothing could be more beneficial to the community.

THE SHAD QUESTION -It will be recollected that at the last ression of the Legislature a bill was FALL & WINTER GOODS! passed requiring owners of dams on the Susquehanna River to make such alterations in the structure of Comsisting of DRY GOODS, Dress Goods, Cassimeres their dams as would allow the passage up the river | Cloths, Jeans, Cottonades, Mustins, Dress Goods in of shad from the Chesapeake, and requiring the At- great variety. Shawle, Hosiery and Gloves, Carpet torney-General to take legal measures for the removal of the said obstructions, if, in the course of six months after the passage of the act, the said alterations were not made by the corporate authorities or individual caners. But, either through the negligence or collision of the Legislative authoritives, no specific remediator vindicatory provisions were Sent, Tea. Coffee, Sugar, Molasses, Salt, Fish, &c.

incorporated in the bill. This ensetment was made in pursuance of the demands of the residents along the Susquehanna River, who had, years ago, large shad-fishing privileges by which a vast number of people had been furnished with fish at a very moderate price. Since the con. struction of the various dams that now ruftle the quiet bosom of the "winding stream," the shad have been kept "at bay," and a shad in season is now a great delicacy, only to be enjoyed by those who can pay sixty and seventy cents to fish dealers who bring

The absence of this one edible alone directly affects, the luterests of the inhabitants of Lancaster, York Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Lebanon, Perry, Jumists, Mifflin, Huntingdon, Snyder, Northumberland. Union, Montour, Columbia, Luzerne, Wyoming, Bridford, Susqueharns, Lycoming, Clinton, Centre, Millinery Goods Clearfield and Tioga, twenty-four counties, bordering out the Susquehanna, which in 1860 embraced a population of eight hundred and fifty-one thousand five Just open-1 at the GRAND MILLINERY STORE bundeed and two. There must now be nearly a milfloor inhabitants in these counties alone who are directly interested in this question, and there are other adjaining counties that are more or less affects Meetings have been held in the various towns or the Susquehannu, the object of which has been so force the removal or alteration of the dams in question as provided in the law and to procure the enactment of a more stringent statute, embracing some adequate remedial or vindicatory provisions.

At a meeting held in Harrisburg some two months ago, an Executive Cemmittee, composed of some of the best citizens of the place, was appointed. At a late meeting this Committee decided to call the attention of the people residing along the Susquehauna to this subject, with a vigo to something like concert of action. Circulars were issued to the authorities in the countles more immediately concerned, and a Convention was suggested, which it is now proposed to hold on the first Wednesday in January, next, when the Legislature will te in session. The citizens along the river who feel an interest in this impor. ant subject should at once appoint delegates to repraent their district in this convention.

13º Mr. Ellis Ayres of this borough, was a member of the old S4th Regiment, P. V., and was wound. ed nearly three years ago, and after lying in the Hospital for a long time was finally discharged for physical disability The ball took effect in his mouth, and its whereabouts not having been discovered was not removed. Mr. Ayres has been a great sufferer ever since his return home, having had painful and troublesome gatherings on his lower jaw, neck, breast and back, all efforts to find the ball having beer in vain, until last Friday morning an ugly looking minnie ball was taken from the gathering on has back. It is to be hoped that his recovery will now be both speedy and complete. - Muncy Lumin-
