SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.-The young gentlemen of this place, who entertained our citizens last winter with some excellent negro delineations, music, &c., are now rehearsing and erecting a stage, for the purpose of giving a concert for the benefit of the Soldiers' Monument Fund of Co. C, 47th Pa. Vet. Volunteers. The entertainment will be given early in September—about the 4th or 5th. It is a noble object, and should be encouraged by our citizens.

FE Suppen DEATH IN WILLIAMSPORT -On the 4th inst., Mrs. Augusta, wife of Charles Butt, Jr., of that city, while conversing with her husband and others in the room, was seized with palpitation of the heart, and falling on a sofa, expired almost instantly. RAILBOAD BRIDGE BURNED .- On Friday ofternoon last the covered bridge at Moore's, on the Shamokin Valley Railroad, was set on fire by sparks from the locomotive, and destroyed. Business on the road was brought to a dead halt in consequence. Next day the construction train of the Northern Central road came up with the necessary timbers, and on Monday morning passenger and freight trains were running over the new structure, as usual.

PAVEMENTS .- Our citizens are extensively engaged in paving the sidewatks. For some it will be an expensive improvement, but it will add greatly to the value of their property. Brick and stone is the only material authorized by the ordinance .-Very few have adopted the tar pavement, which, while it costs as much as stone or brick, is certainly not worth one-half, besides being unauthorized.

Queen Emma drew quite a crowd to the depot on Thursday. She arrived in a special car on the mail train, on her way to Niagara. She opened the window of her car, and bowed to some of ladies on the platform.

Vice Presidents-Sergt. J. H. Love, Lieut. Wm.

Recording Secretary-Capt. J. E. Torrington. Corresponding Secretary-Lieut. A. N. Brice. Treasurer-Jno. W. Bucher.

Among the improvements in this place we observe a handsome dwelling house in course of erection by Mr. Thomas D. Grant, on Arch street. There is a yard in front, which a large bay window overlooks. Mr. Stillwell, the architect and builder of the new banking edifice, designed this structure, which we trust will serve as a model and precursor for this and other varied styles.

At the corner of Third and Arch streets our neighbors of the Gazette are making a decided improvement by remodeling their dwelling, which when completed, will present a handsome and impo

BASE BALL.-The Keystone Club, of Har risburg, played a match game with the Susquehanna Club, of this place, on the grounds of the latter, on Thursday of last week. The Harrisburg club arrived in the 7 A. M. train, and after breakiasting with the Susquehanns boys, the game was comin speaking of the coal trade of that region, says that notwithstanding all fears and prophecies to the contrary, the coal trade continues to increase, and there is still a steady demand. The increase up to the same time last year is 108,109 tons, 5 cwt., while that of the Schuylkill, Lehigh and Wyoming valleys shows a gain of over two and a half million tons.—This indicates clearly how the consumption of coal is increasing, as railroads are extended to different points in the country. Wood is becoming too scarce and valuable to be used as fuel. The industrial interests, it would appear from those statements, are also in a flourishing state of activity.

The Pottsville Journal, of last week, gives the following report of the coal trade in the Schuylkill region: menced immediately, in order to give the Harrisburgers time to return on the 11.40 morning train .-As will be seen by the following score, the Susque hanna Club was victorious by 6 runs. Had not three of the best players of our club been absent, the Sus quehanna boys would, no doubt, have made a much better score, which, owing to the late hour at which it was received, we were unable to publish last

Our Aerasi reporter sends us the following poetioal sketch of a grand Pic-Nic that came off near this place, on Saturday, the 18th fast. It is proper to premise that a pic-nic which was to have come off at the same place, two weeks previous, was indefinitely postponed by Midden showers, when all things were ready. The beaux, however, went around late in the altermone and prevailed on the ladies to re-rig THE GRAND PIC-NIC. were ready. The beaux, however, went around late in the afternoon and provided on the laties to re-rig themselves, and "wait for the wagon," which was to take them out. They seen found themselves victimized, and their baskets of provisions, &c., carried off by the gallant chevaliers, for whose benefit, in return, they gave the following described pic-nic.—Hereafter it cannot be said that ladies are not able to keep a secret. Here were, perhaps, twenty ladies, each the repository of a profound secret for several weeks, with probably twenty more helping them to keep it! Yet not one of the gentlemen interested discovered the plot that circumvented them.

Meanwhile the discomfitted beaux
Stood wondering, like chop-fallen focs—
In mute astonishment raised up their eyes,
As if bewildered by some strange surprise,
Now fully convinced that all were sold,
And that which glitters is not always gold.

When the joyful Saturday came round,

Anticipating so great a feast,

First in the list, and first to plan,

Smart as they might be, and up to tricks, In cajoling girls with sham Pie-Nie. They found, at last, they'd "caught a tartar," And however smart, the girls were smarter.

Our gallant cavaliers were found
Eager to renew the deferred Pic-Nic,
In which untimely showers had left them stick.
The eventful day had come, and at last
They were bound to enjoy the grand repast,
Prepared by fairy hands and forms,
In spite of showers, clouds and storms.

The beaux came out in their very best;
They rushed in haste to Tonsorial Jim
To smooth the stubbled face, and to trim
The rude moustache in modern style,
And coax straggling whiskers with brush and i/e.

First in the list, and first to plan,
Came the Indies' right-hand man,
The Flour Merchant—prompt on the ground—
Felt sure that all was safe and sound—
And neither dreamed of trap or snare,
Laid by the hands of the wily fair.
Soon, he who had so many hungry fed
Felt an "aching void" in his own (breadBasket.) and called for the provender
Stowed in the baskets of the fair.
But, slas ' we find that many a slip
Occurs between the cun and lip:

Occurs between the cup and lip; That things are not always as they seem, That "pure ice-cream" is not always cream, When made of buttermilk—stale and sour—

The Doctor, too, looked most demure,

Regan to think, nay, was almost sure, Began to think, nay, was almost sure, That minute doses were not best When thirst and hunger sorely pressed. Ice-cream in allopathic doses He thought an allowable process.

The Express-Man expressed no wish For cakes or coffee, flesh or fish. And of vegetables that stood the test lie deemed sait pickles much the best, And taking care of number one. Left others feast on mirth and fun.

The Junior Publisher was quite content With anything good the fair ones sent, But preferred a well dressed (German) rabbit, As a matter of taste, as well as habit.

The Leather Dealer, also, raised his voice, And did not wish to hide his choice; Was fond of pickles plump and fine. Fresh and dripping from the salted brine. The sandwiches he thought were somewhat hard, But made palatable with ancient lard.

The Bachelor Editor was only there

With a little cotton stuffed inside

A brother Editor was also there, to see

And enjoy the mirth and revelry;
To measure visages with a two-foot rule,
Long as a truant boy's brought back to

And see that all, when truly "sold," Were "labeled" ere they left the fold.

The gallant Colonel was also there,
As the chosen commander of the fair.
And carrying out their plans, well laid,
Outflanked the famous "Sandwich brigade."

Among the other delicacies on board, The regetable pound-cake requires a word. Composed of bran and melon rind, The first and finest of the kind,

It pleased the fancy, as we knew it must. Iced, as it was, with marble dust.

LO SHAMORIN AFFAIRS .- The Herald, of last week, says that a man named Casper Furrer was found dead on last Friday morning, along the railroad, just above the Catholic Church. An inquest was held under the direction of Esquire Lake, which seen at several of the restaurants in town during Thursday evening, and drank freely. Between ten and eleven o'clock he was seen at a saloon near the place where he was found. It is supposed that he sat down on the side of the track, and was struck by bruise in the small of the back, and was otherwise injured. He appeared to have expired immediately.

He was a butcher by trade, a single man, and and

The meeting was organized by the election of the

The demand for coal is falling off, and coal is accumulating a little at the shipping ports. This month we expected would be the dullest in the year, and we are not disappointed at the result. Prices here are about 25 cents lower than they were last month, which equalizes the advance m tolls. We hardly think that coal will be lower in the Coal Regions than it now is, and as it is believed that our transporting companies will advance the tolls 25 cents more on the first of September, dealers abroad need not be apprehensive of any further material decline in the price of coal. Operators cannot afford to mins for less, and would prefer stopping than to submit to any further decline.

In the year of grace, eighteen sixty-six,
Some great events occurred,
Some of them you all may know,
But, of some, you never heard.
Let me, therefore, relats
The story I have to tell,
Of how, and what befell
Some unlucky wights, of inte.
At that most worderful of Pie-Nics,
Time—August eighteenth, 'eixty-six,
Place—out behind the Mill.
When under the bowers of a shady grove,
Lovers for awhile forgot their love,
Where bachelors grave, and Lotharies gay,
Fretted and fumed a "brief hour" away;
While ladies shouted, and the joyous sound
Re-echoed through the woods around.
Meanwhile the discomfitted beaux refuse an offer of job printing the other day by a man who innocently called to get some postage stamps printed! He was quite disappointed because we could not do the work—he wanted 'em' real bad to put on letters when he writ to a gal, and they cost too much to buy them of the post office fellers.

BEAD WHAT DR. SCHENCE IS DOING

R. J. H. SCHENCK.

BEAD WHAT DR. SCHENCE ES DOING.

R. J. H. SCHENCE,

DEAR Six — I feel it a duty I owe to you, and to all who are suffering under the disenses known as Consumption and Liver Complaint, to let them know what great benefit? I have reserved from your Pulmonic Sytup and Seaweed Tonic us so short a time. By the disensing of God it has cured me thus far.

Dr. Schence, I will now make my statement to you, as follows:—About eighteen months ago! was attacked with a sovere cough, and it settled on my lungs! could not redain stything I site, and suffered with evening favore and night sweats. I was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were very yellow; likewise my skin; my appetite all gone, and unable to digeat what I did out; bowels swellon, irregular and costive. I was very low spirited, and had such violent spells of feoughing when I had down at bight and when I arose in the morning that they would last one or two hours.

I then would be nearly exhausted, and was entirely unable to lie on my left side. I cannot describe my wretched suffering as I would wish to do. Every organ in my body was diseased or deranged. Such my method to the time of February, 1892, not able to sit up. I had the best of medical attendance the whole of the time. My cough was so very bad that it racked me very much. I st this time raused a large quantity of thick, yellow, offeraive matter, sometimes with blood, and it was generally accompanied by neurosca and a furred and thek created tongue. At the time of coughing so badiy I would have sharp, shooting paths in my bed raide and heart, alght most inwable raide and heart, alght most inwable raide and heart, alght most inwable freed and heart, alght most inwable raide and heart land much inward fever, pain in my back and under my shoulder blades and in the small of my back, and at the time of was a sovere that R would throw me into posms. Now my physician gave me up to die. There I had, and then I bad again to call is physician for aid we had four of the best of them, but they could be not fine me.

On the 27th of January, 1863, my husband called on Dr. Schenck, 32 Band street, New York, and stated to him my case, with a request for him to call and see me, which he did, and examined me with the respirometer. When he was about to go I asked him if he could care me? His reply was: "I can not tell, both lungs are diseased, and the bronchial tubes are affected on both sides." And yet he seemed to think there were lungs causely left to elenot tell, both lungs are diseased, and the brenchial tubes are affected on both sides. Ami yet he seemed to think there were lange enough left to effect a cure if the diarrien could be stopped. He said in order to do this, he would have to give Mandrake Pills in small dozes at first, to carry off the morbid matter, and then, with estringents, he hoped to check it, which he slid, but the constant coughing, night sweats, and diarrhea had prostrated me so that he was straid my vital powers were tee much prostrated ever to raily, and yet he seemed to think if I could live to get chough Pulsacoic Syaup through my system to cause expectoration, there were lunge enough left for me to recover. He wished me to try the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic at once, saying it would do me as harm, if it did me no good. The first week it seemes to give me strength, so that on Sunday after I sat up in bed and atchearty for a sick woman; but the excit week I lost all hot a and wished my ausband not be give me any more that on Sunday after I sat up in bed and atc hearty for a sick woman; but the next week I test all ho, a and wished my husband not be give me any more medicine. But the doctor had warned him of this, and when the medicine was clearing out the system it made them feel somewhat restless, and to persevere; and he insisted on my taking it; and I new feel the benefit of it. For after eight days I began to gain strength, and, with the exception of a cold that put me back some, I have been gaining strength of body, my cough is going away, and all my pains are gone; no screness of the body, my bowels are regular and my breath is sweet, and I thank Got that I am now going about, and sew and read as well as I ever could. I have taken sixteen bottles of the medicine, eight of each. I now have a good appetite and rest well at night; my cough does not trouble me in getting up or lying down. I would here say to the afflicted with consumption or liver complaint, that Dr Schenek is no humbug. You can rely on what he says. Delay not; it is dangerous to trifle with these diseases. If you would be cured, go at once, and any one wishing to know the facts as herein stated can call at my residence, 117 West Houston street. New York city.
