SUNBURY, PA. SATURDAY, DEGEMBER 22, 1866.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK. In accordance with the established custom, no paper will be issued next week. The office will be open, however, to receive orders for job work, and receipt for money, as usual:

cessionist, who vontilates himself occasionally through the columns of the Selinsgrove Times. During the war he openly advocated the doctrines of secession, and justified the rebellion, in the same paper. Thesedoctrines now, however, have become odious, even in the nostrils of the more intelligent and sensible Southerners. The writer now complains of the proposed amendments to the Constitution, embodying. among other things, universal suffrage. He says the war has despoiled the South of half their wealth by emancipating their slaves. The slaves, now freed negroes. whom he would still regard as property, he thinks should continue to form the basis of representation in Congress, so that a hundred thousand whites, in the South, should have as much strength in Congress as two hundred thousand whites in the North. As is Thaddeus Stevens, though it is probable have as much strength in Congress as two well might a Northern man claim the right that Gov. Curtin, as a matter of compliment of representation in his mules and horses,

He also complains that cotton only, of all agricultural products, is taxed. This is true, and if the South was injured by it there a dozen votes each, if so many. The bulk might be some reason for complaint. But of the aspirants must rest satisfied with might be some reason for complaint. But this is not the case. If the tax was 15 cents, instead of 3, it would make no difference to the producers, as no other cotton can come into competition. The cotton growers now get 30 cents, instead of 10 and less before the war, for all they can produce, and whatever tax is imposed is paid by the consumer, and as long as the South can realize three times as much as formerly, for all they can raise, it is worse than folly to complain. At the close of the war the South was willing to accept almost any terms from the North. But since the President has "swung around the circle" they assume the attitude of conquerors, dictate their own terms, and ask the North to accept them.

IMPORTANT BILL, -On Thursday Mr. Stevens submitted to the House a plan of State Government prepared by the Republicans of North Carolina. It recognizes the fundamental condition in the reconstruction of the secoded States, that loyal men alone should fashion and form the new State governments. The bill enfranchises all classes and colors who can take the oath it embodies. The loyal North Carolinians are rejoicing at the prospect of the removal of their present bogus State government. The other Southern States, it is anticipated, will speedily follow the example of their North Carolina brethern. There is an energetic movement in Florida to get rid of the State organization there, and Louisians is falling into line. We are glad to witness this first practical beginning of complete restoration,

-It is proposed that the Boys in Blue, and the members of any other military organizain the ceremonies attending the inauguration of Gen. John W. Geary as Governor of the Commonwealth. The suggestion is a will meet with general approbation. The election of General Geary was not only an acknowledgement and reward of his own personal services and fitness, but was a distinct and graceful recognition of the merits of the military class to which he belongs.

HUMBUG ADVERTISING .- Friend Judd, of the American Agriculturist, the cheapest and best Journal of the kind published, is doing good service in exposing numerous bogus advertisers, and indirectly, though justly, censuring the newspaper press in aiding these charlatans by giving publicity to their advertisements. He looks upon all gift enterprises, without exception, as impositions. In this we concur, and add that any one offering goods at less than the market value, is an impostor. So are also advertisers who profess to perform miracles in their vocation, and those who require payment in advance. And we might add also such advertisers who assume the name of company, and offer to sell the best quality of goods 50 per cent less than their market value. For instance, the "American tisement is so conspicuously displayed in the Agriculturists and which, in some respects, is about the biggest humbug of all the humbugs in that great city.

John H. Suratt. - It is understood that John H. Surratt will be offered his pardon on condition that he will testify as a faithful witness against all other parties who knew or had connection, either directly or indirectly, with the assassination plot.

THE STROUDSBURG BANK,- Humor says that this Bank is minus fifty thousand dollars and neither the Cashier nor any of the Directors are able to give the public any satisfactory explanation of where this amount has gone to. The institution still does business under the old State laws, having never been converted into a National

WELL SAID .- The Pittsburg Commercial contains the following frank avowal in an article referring to Simon Cameron as a candidate for U. S. Senator: "Pennsylvania has no one more loyal to her interests. In him she can confide without a shadow of fear of betrayal. No one is more loyal to the Republican party. He was the first man in the councils of the nation who gave the curse of slavery a death blow, and who was invited to leave the Cabinet on account of his extreme radical views. Let us not be led away by eloquent tongues, but look to the man who has always stood up for our interest at all times and in all places."

A gang in New Orleans steal children, and then get a reward for bringing them back.

THE SENATORSHAP. We copy the following article from the Berksand Schuylkill Journal, with commentsfrom the Harrisburg Telegraph, on the subject, of the successor, in the United States Senate, of Mr. Cowan, We observe that many of the Republican papers take a stand for Gen. Cameron on the ground that in this contest he is truly the representative of the Republican party, having been more thoroughly identified with all the leading measures of the party, than any other available candidate:

It is now ascertained beyond all doubt that Gen. Cameron is the leading Republican candidate for United States Serator.— His far-secing statesmanship from the com-moncement of the Rebellion, his unfinehing radicalism, and his life-long identification with, and defense of, the industrial interests of the Commonwealth, which are again threatened, have caused him to be regarded as the man above all others named for this high office who, at this peculiar crisis, is best fitted for the position. For the last few weeks he has been gaining ground rapidly. So patent is this to the dullest comprehension, that his opponents, of late, his have only the forlors hope of securing his defeat by a coalition of the friends of op-posing candidates. But even this alternaposing candidates. But even this alterna-tive is sure to result in disaster. Gen. Cam-eron has now a majority of the Republican members of the Legislature, and is sure to re-ceive the caucus nomination. If the bold game of buying over enough "Democrats" to defeat him is attempted, as is more than hinted, it too will fail. Republicans have no stomach for "bargains" of that sort.

will get more votes in the caucus. As for other candidates, whose names are legion, even the most prominent of them will not be likely to receive more than half having their names appear in the list of "general nominations." This is our view of the "Senatorial situation." Time will show whether or not we are "well posted."

Our friend of the Journal is correct. Gen.

Cameron will be elected to the United States Senate, next month, without the shadow of doubt. No combinations of the Copperheads or those who were doubtful at the time when the country needed friends can prevent his election. The Republicans of the Commonwealth will insist on the election of Gen. Cameron, because he has always been true to the interests of Pennsylvania and supported the Government in its darkest hour.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Congressional News.

In the United States Senate, on Monday, the proceedings of a meeting of loyal citizens of Norfolk, Va., asking for a reorganization of the government of Virginia, were presented. Mr. Cowau presented a petition for an increased tariff for the protection of manufacturers of silk fabrics. The Military Committee reported the House bill authorizing a contract for an equestrian statue of Lieutenant General Scott, from guns captured in Mexico, to be placed on his grave at West Point. The bill to repeal the annuity section of the Confiscation act was taken up, and was debated by Messrs. Trumbull and Johnson. The bill then went over, and the Nebraska bill came up in order. Mr. Hendricks spoke against the bill. Mr. Brown gave notice of a proposed amendment. The bil was then postponed, and the Amnesty bill was again taken up, but was not finally acted upon. The death of Senator Wright was announced, and appropriate resolutions were adopted. Adjourned. The House of Representatives adopted a resolution declaring that it will give unfal-

Adopted. A resolution instructing the Banking Committee to inquire into the expediency of withdrawing good one, and we join in the hope that it same can be done without injustice to the banks was rejected—yeas 65, nays 68.— Several other resolutions on financial subjects were laid on the table. A resolution making it the duty of the Postmaster General to allow Senators and Representatives to examine all papers and recommendations for office, went over in consequence of the expiration of the morning hour. A message was received from the President, inclosing the reply of the Emperor of Russia to the resolutions congratulating him on his escape from assassination. The Committee on Foreign Affairs was instructed to inquire whether the good offices of the United States should not be employed, if practicable, in restoring peace in the States of South America. A joint resolution prohibiting the further issue of agricultural scrip to States lately in rebellion was passed. The Judiciary Com-mittee was directed to inquire into the case of a negro sentenced to be sold as a slave at Annapolis, and also to report what legisla-tion is necessary to protect loyal citizens in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property in the lately rebellious States, except Tennessee. A suspension of the rules for the introduction of a resolution for the appointment of a committee to inquire whether any acts had been done by any officer of the United States government which in the con-templation of the Constitution are high market value. For instance, the "American crimes and misdemeanors was refused—yeas Tea Company" in New York, whose adver- 88, nays 49. A resolution for the appointment of a select committee to inquire whether the laws of Congress for the assessment and collection of direct taxes in the lately rebellious States, and for the seizure and sale of forfeited and abandoned lands, have been faithfully executed, was adopted. The Committee on Foreign Affairs reported a resolu-tion that it be recommended to the Execu-tive department of the government that the friendly offices of this government be offered for the promotion of peace and harmony in South America, which was adopted. In Committee of the Whole, Mr. Hise, of Kentucky, made a speech against the power of Congress to territorialize the Southern States.

HARRISRURG, Dec. 12,-The following address by the Central Club of the Boys in address by the Central Club of the Boys in Blue of Pennsylvania has just been issued from their beadquarters in this sity to their companions in arms throughout the State:

To the Boys in Blue of Pennsylvania:—
We, the undersigned committee appointed by the Boys in Blue of Harrisburg, at a special meeting held at their hall on Thursday evening, December 6, 1866, to consider the expediency of having a grand display of the Boys in Blue on the occasion of the inauguration of the Governor elect, Majos General John W. Geary, would beg leave to suggest the propriety, and at the same time extend to their brethren throughout the State a cordial invitation to be present on State a cordial invitation to be present on Shoulder to shoulder we fought the battles of the Union on many a well contested field, and when the conflict of arms was over and when we had returned to our homes to enjoy the fluits of our victory, under the leadership of General Geary, we marched in solid column to the ballot box and there thwarted the machinations of those at home who would destroy those glorious results which we strove so hard to bring about. It is, therefore, fitting, that we assemble our-selves together at the State capitol at the selves together at the State capitol at the time above specified, and ratify by our presence the political victory we have lately won and make stronger and brighter those links which bind us together in the circle of a sacred companionship. The New Fronsides Destroyed. The splended iron-clad New Ironsides, first class vessel of war, of 3486 tons old tonnage and 2386 new, was destroyed by fire on Sunday, at the pier at League Island.

She has been laid up for some time. The
New Ironsides was built by Messrs. Cramp & Sons, of this city, in 1862, at a cost of $1,500,000. She had a wooden hull and was plated very heavily. She served in the South Atlantic Squadron at Charleston, where she suffered from the explosion of the torpedo boat David, on the 14th of August 1863. Her injuries were slight, however, and were readily repaired. We have still remaining the Dunderberg, iron, 5090 tons. and 16 guns; the Dictator, 3033 tons and 2 guns, and the Puritan, 3265 tons and 4 guns, The Miantonomah, iron-clad, which so successfully crossed the Atlantic the current year, with Assistant Secretary Fox, tons but 1225, new measurement. We have no ship at present in the service which has won more renown in so short a space of time than the New Ironsides. She was a capital sea-boat; competent to make a voyage without aid, and to hold her own wherever she went. She inaugurated a new era of naval ship building and, though now so unfortunately destroyed, will have effected valuable results in our naval architecture. The causes of her loss have not reached us. They will probably be found in the negli-gence of some who were on board at the time of the misfortune. We are not informed of any loss of life,—Philadelphia United States Gazette.

FROM THE OLD WORLD. THE COLLIERY DISASTER.

BARNSLEY, Sunday, Dec. 16. Several explosions took place at the Oaks Colliery, yesterday and to-day, which show that the fire is still raging in the pit. No further loss of life. Touching scenes of wee and despair are hourly witnessed in the vicinity. Over eighty funerais have taken place. One hundred and sixty women have been left widows, and 330 children have been made orphans by this terrible calamity, and many of these are mourning streets from morning until night.

THE STAFFORDSHIRE EXPLOSION. HAULY, Staffordshire, Dec, 16 .- Eightyfive of those who went into the mine at Talk o' the Hill, on the morning of the ex-plosion, are known to be dead, and there are more still remaining in the pit, of whose safety all hopes are lost. All the dead that have been recovered were buried to-day at Talk o' the Hill. The ceremony was deepy impressive.

LONDON, Dec. 17 .- The Paris correspondence of the Times says: "It is now generally admitted that the object of Gen. Castelnau's mission was to get Maximilian to abdicate."

Paris, Dec. 17.—It is stated, semi-officially, that Gen. Almonte has received assur-ances by telegraph, that Maximilian has abandoned his intention of leaving Mexico, and of an avowed determination to put himself at the head of loyal Mexicans, and fight for his crown.

A TERRIBLE CALAMITY.—On the 12th inst., we learn by cable dispatches, that a terrible explosion took place at the Oaks Colliery, near Barnsley, Yorkshire, England. The colliery contains the largest pit in this district of the country. The shaft is 270 feet deep and the lateral works extend a distance of two miles from the bottom of the shaft. Nearly 400 men and boys were in the mine at the time of the explosion, nearly all of whom perished. Every aid is being given to rescue the survivors. The exploring parties have counted 38 dead bodies within the space of fifty yards. A few of the unfortunate victims have been brought out alive but badly mutilated. The engineers are of oninion that owing to the brought out alive but badly mutilated. The engineers are of opinion that owing to the foul air there can be no more alive within the works. If this is so, over 800 human beings lie dead in the recesses of the pit. The excitement among the families in this town is most intense and painful, and the works and vicinity have been a scene of despair and wailing al! day. A similar ab-cident occurred some twenty years since in the same pit, by which some 78 lives were lost. A second dispatch, dated the 18th, adds to the foregoing an account of a second explosion, at 9 o'clock that morning while working parties were finding and drawing out the dead. Eighty of the bodies had been brought out when the second explosion took place. Several officials and a number of volunteers were in the nit at the time of of volunteers were in the pit at the time of the second disaster, and it is feared that all have perished. The exciting scenes of yes-terday were renewed. A later statement have perished. The exciting scenes of yesterday were renewed. A later statement asys some of the volunteers have been taken out alive. Still later dispatches report another explosion in this colliery at ten o'clock Thursday night. It is estimated that three hundred and fifty buman beings in all have lost their lives by this terrible catastrophe. The mine is now on fire, and the flames have burned from the mouth of the main shaft with great violence. The work of drawing out the bodies is suspended and the mine is to be flooded with water. The cause of the explosion will probably remain a perpetual mystery.
