Local Affairs.

Music.—Miss Duvall amnounces in our adverti-sing columns that she will give lessons on the plane and melodeon, to these who may desire it. She is an excellent musician and is highly recommended.

MARKET SQUARE.-Workmen have been engaged during the past week in cleaning up that portion of the Square lafely occupied by the old Court House, which gives it a more sightly appearance. The Square should by all means be enclosed by a suitable fence, and we hope measures will soon be taken by our citizens to have it effected.

THE WEATHER.—There has been no improvemen in the weather this week. We have had almost a continuous rain since Sunday last, with every prospect of a still greater supply of the element. The protracted wet season will, to some extent, interfere with the labors of the farmer, but will not be injurious to the growing crops, which everywhere promise

THE canal between Muncy and Williamsport has been so badly injured by the late freshets that it will take several weeks to repair the breaks.

An employee of the Milton Planing Mill, by the name of Kissner, recently had two fingers cut off by a grooving machine.

BREVET Lieutenant-Colonel I. R. Dunkelberger, of the 1st U. S. Cavalry, who was lately on a visit to his home in this place, has been ordered to accompany recruits for the 8th Cavalry to California. The Colonel's regiment is stationed in the new territory

FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION .- Messes. W. C. Goodrich and Joseph R. Richardson, of this place, have purchased the freight line lately conducted by Weiser & Frick. As this line is a great convenience to the business community, the new firm should be well patronized. They receive goods for shipment, in Philadelphia, at 811 Market street.

THE LUTHERAN CHURCH .- Rev. G. W. Hemper ly, of Sharon Springs, New York, has received and accepted a call from the Lutheran Church, of this place. The reverend gentleman will commence his labors here about the first of August. The congregation have decided on building a parsonage, and a lot on Walnut street, adjoining the premises of Franeis Bucher, has been purchased for that purpose. The building will be of brick, 26 by 48 feet, and two stories high. It is designed to complete it by the first of August.

SECOND ARRIVAL .- We are pleased to notice the second arrival of spring and summer millinery and BRICK .- It is to be regretted that so few of the new buildings, now being constructed in this place, are of brick. That a brick building is but very little Susquehanna Club, in this place, to-day, (Saturday, more expensive than frame, is well known to every at 1 o'clock, P. M., between an independent nin experienced builder, and that it is decidedly more of Sunbury, and the Anthracite Club, of Shamekin durable and cheaper in the end is also a settled matter. As brick will be more abundant and cheaper this season, we are surprised at the infatuation of people who build of wood, under the old idea that it is cheaper, which we have frequently heard questioned by competent judges, even when lumber could be bought at one-third its present price.

LIME, SAND AND STONE .- Seasholtz & Brother request us to say that they are now prepared to furnish these materials, of the best quality and at the most reasonable rates. Farmers and those who contemplate building will do well by patronizing them. This firm will soon complete the kiln lately commenced at the basin, in the upper part of town, and will then be able to do an extensive business in the manufacture of lime.

DEDICATION OF THE MASONIC HALL .- The new Masonic Hall, in this place, which is about completed, will be dedicated on Wednesday, June 26th, with the usual solemn and impressive Masonic ceremonies. Invitations will be extended to a number of Lodges to participate, and a large number of the order from other places are expected to be present on the occasion. The different railroad companies terminating here will issue excursion tickets. The new Hall is one of the largest and finest structures of the kind in this vicinity.

SAPE.—The many friends of Capt. Prowell and Thomas McGaw, who left this place about two months since for the gold regions of Montana, will be glad to learn that they have arrived safely at Fort Kearney, in Nebraska territory. Some apprehension for their safety was felt here in consequence of a rumor being circulated that they were on board a steamboat said to have been captured by the Indians on some river, and all the passengers murdered, but which turned out to be a hoar. A letter from the Captain, written at the Fort and dated 13th inst., was received here on Wednesday last, in which he stated that they were well and would start for Montana on the 15th.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH IN SHAHOKIN TOWNSHIP. On Monday morning of last week, Mrs. Sarah Price, On Monday morning of last week, Mrs. Sarah Price, a widow, who had been living by herself in a house on the farm of Jacob Kline, on the ridge above the farm of Jacob Kline, on the ridge above Snufftown, in Shamokin township, was found dead in a spring, a short distance from the house. From the fact that at different times, recently, she had been heard to say she would do away with herself, it is supposed she arcse from her bed during the night in a state of mental aberation, and proceeding to the spring sat down in it, as she was found in that posture, with her head resting against the wall. HIGH SCHOOL .- We learn that a gentleman from Schuylkill county, Mr. Elias Schneider, who possesses great abilities as a teacher, having had some twenty years' experience, intends erecting, this season, a suitable building for the purpose of establish ing a first-class school at this place. It is proposed to locate the building near the bill, east of Messrs. Reagen & Co.'s contemplated lumber mill. A school of this character is much needed here at the present time, and we hope the efforts of Mr. Schneider will meet with success. It is to be hoped our citizens will give more substantial encouragement to institutions of learning, in the future, than has been given them heretofore.

Duning the recent freshet the river, at Danville, rose to within three or four feet of the high water mark of the flood of 1865. All the cellars under the houses on Mill street, from the canal bridge to the Lackawanna railroad, were inundated. The Pennsylvania Rolling Mill was not in operation, on account of the high water, for several days. A great deal of damage was done to fences and the crops

Our cotemporary of the Afiltonian speaks as fol-lows of the enterprising village of Watsontown, in the upper end of the county, which is rapidly in-creasing in population and business, and which may probably at no distant day become one of the most important business towns in our county:—"Some of our old fogy citizens would perhaps be benefitted by a visit to the thriving little village of Watsontown, which lies four miles to the north-west of Milton and on the same side of the river. Few persons who have not been there during the last twelve months would not recognize in the bustling, busy place, the quiet little village of a year ago. A Saw Mill of the largest capacity has been erected, new dwellings by the score have sprung up and new places of business opened out, giving quite an importance to a place which until lately seemed sunk in the general sleepincss prevailing along the river below Williamsport We are pleased to see these evidences of thrift on the part of our little neighbor. Her progress, however, is but an evidence of what may be accomplished by one energetic business man, backed by unlimited

For the American NORTHUMBERLAND ITEMS .- The old Town Hall to be removed from the common, and to be fitted up to rent for public meetings, &c. The general opinion seems to be that its enterprizing purchaser will make "a good thing" by this operation. We sincerely hope this may be the case.

-Our young fellow townsman, E. K. Bright, has commenced the cabinet making business at the old Cleland shop, corner of Wheatley street and Depot alley. We are sure that he deserves to succeed, and hope our citizens will remember him when they have orders in his line.

Orders from a diswhich reason the court of Northumberland county had set the will aside. The parties concerned in this suit reside in the neighborhood of Turbutville, this county.

THE election at Williamsport on Friday of last ladies' dress goods, at the establishment of Miss week, for Mayor and Councilmen, resulted in the Louisa Shissler. This speaks well for the business of choice of Dr. Logan, democrat, for the former office, our rapidly growing town, as also for Miss Shister, by 66 majority. This is the title of a book written by Rev. Henry This is the title of a book written by Rev. Henry Morgan, of Boston, which is selling very rapidly. The tenth thousand is already issued, and orders have been given for the fifteenth thousand. Nearly all the characters in this story are taken from real life. Mr. Mergan is at the head of the mission enterprise, established in Boston for the purpose of rerectaiming and benefitting the lower classes of the population, and it is said is doing much good. The book is very entertaining, giving in detail the daily life of the juvenile outcasts of the city, their mental and moral characteristics, and the causes which lead nd moral characteristics, and the causes which lead them into vice and crime. THE HISTORY OF THE SECRET SERVICE DURING THE REBELLION. By General L. C. Baker, late Provost Marshal and Chief Detective of the War Department. Philadelphia: P. Garrett & Co.

partment. Philadelphia: P. Garrett & Co.

The appearance of this deeply interesting history will no doubt take many people, both North and South, by surprise. For we know that a large portion of the community have been laboring under the idea that the labors of the secret service would never, on any account, be made public. But here we have them in full, and from the pen of no less a person than General Baker himself. From the nature of the subject, the volume is the most interesting one. the subject, the volume is the most interesting one that has appeared for a great while, and will be read by all classes, North and South, with an eager curi-osity and deep interest. Of course the late Chief Detective of the all-powerful War Department of the Detective of the all-powerful War Department of the United States makes many strange revelations. He spares neither high nor low, Loyal or Rebel, civilian or military leader; he evidently set out to tell the truth, and he has done it. It reads more like a romance than a history, but history it is, literal and matter of fact, with flanks of official vouchers which it is simply impossible to tarn. The work is well printed, and illustrated with numerous fine engra-

The Hendic House.—The card of this large and well known house, at Williamsport, will be found in another column. Capt. E. A. Upson, formerly an obliging and popular conductor on the Phila & Eric Railroad, has become its Superintendent, under whose management we learn it is gaining the reputation of being one of the best hotels in the State. The Captain has had a great deal of experience in the business and thoroughly "knows how to keep a hotel."

BEAUTIFUL.-The gentlemen of this place and vicinity who desire elegant clothing, made of the best material, in the latest style, and warranted to fit, should go to J. F. Shaffer, N. W. corner of Market and Third streets, and order a suit.

THE SEASON.-Spring has come, and with it the ecessity for Spring clothing. The question iswhere can the best and cheapest be had? Those who read this paragraph are invited to call at J. O. Beck's, Fourth street, where clothing is made up in the best style, and at the lowest prices

Spanne.—The present season is devoted to gramoutter, fresh shad, early peas, and new clothes. The first three can be procured in market, but to get the last named indispensables it is necessary to exercise the greatest discretion. Hence men of taste and judgment go to the establishment of J. E. Smick, merchant tailor, on Fourth street, where they procure the most durable and elegant garments.

It is really surprising to learn the amount of the sales at Miller's Excelsior Boot and Shoe Store, Market square. The reason is that Miller keeps none but the best of stock, and sells at a very small ad- & vance. He makes it a study to give satisfaction to all his customers.

MANY Indicrous scenes occurred in Chicago last summer when everybody was suffering great apprehension from danger of cholera. A gentleman was hension from danger of cholera. A gentleman was having his hair-siressed by an English barber, who, with the all-important topic upon his mind, remarked, as he was vigorously removing the dandruff from his customer's scalp, "They say, sir, that the cholera is in the hair." The gentleman sprang up in great consternation from fear of contagion in the brush. "Oh. sir." said the barber, "I doesn't mean, sir, the 'air of the 'ead, but the hair of the hatmosphere." "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" would probably be powerless against cholera, even in the "'air of the 'ead," but it is a sure preventative to those fatal destroyers of youthful beauty, baldness and greyness, and those who would prebaldness and greyness, and those who would pre-serve their capillary adornments should at once provide their toilets with the Restorative.
