A REQUEST TO SUBSCRIBERS. A REQUEST TO, SUBSCRIBERS.

We are at present sending bills for subscriptions to the American to a number of subscribers, mostly residing at distant points, who, we trust, will promptly remit the amounts due. These bills, although small in individual cases, in the aggregate make a considerable amount, and are very important to emble us to carry on our business. We shall feel greatly obliged to our patrons to whom these bills are sent if they will immediately comply with our request. Our subscribers are particularly requested not to allow their indebtedness to overrun one year. All subscriptions should be paid in advance, but under no consideration should the year pass around with the subscription unpaid.

SEWING MACHINE POR SALE .- One of Howe's excellent machines, with the latest improvements, has just been received, and will be sold at a reduced price. Inquire at this office.

To BRIDGE BUILDERS .- The County Commis sioners invite proposals for building eight bridges See advertisement in another column.

SELECT SCHOOL .-- Mr. Elias Schneider will open a select school in the Academy building, on Front street, on Monday, September 2d. Mr. Schneider ts recommended as an excellent teacher, and as a school of this character is much needed here, we hope he will be properly encouraged by our citizens, PROP. ANDERSON, the Wigard and Prestidigitator, has been giving a series of entertainments in th Masonio Hall, in this place, during the present week. He succeeded in drawing crowded houses every evening.

SALE OF A FARE. George German, of Point township, this county, has sold his farm, containing one hundred and fifty seres, to a Mr. Springman, of Freeburg, Snyder county, for the sum of $10,000.

ENTERTAINMENT.-The M. E. Sunday School, of this place, intend giving an exhibition at the Masonic Hall, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. This is a laudable enterprise, and should receive the support of the public. The procoeds will be devoted to the purchase of a library. Tickets 25 cents, to be obtained at the stores of H. Y. Friling, N. F. Lightner, and Miss Anna Painter.

THE sudden rise of the creeks and streams have done great injury in this and the neighboring countics. We understand that many of the mill-dame on the Shamokin creek and tributaries have been destroyed or greatly injured. Whole fields of oats, cut but not taken in, have been swept away.

One man, below Selinsgrove, has lost his crop of about 1,000 bushels of onts. Henry Burns and Col. Eyer, in the same neighborhood, have sustained heavy losses in having fields of corn and oats destroyed.

THE MIDDLECREEK RAILHOAD.—The Lewistown Guzette says that the Directors of this road, at their meeting last week, appointed Col. Henry C. Eyer, of Selinsgrove, a Director, in place of Thos. Beaver, resigned. What is known as the Jack's creek route was adopted, the line being almost straight, and easily made, while the route through Lillysville was 1700 feet longer, much curved, and more expensive.

A FREE LECTURS-WHERE TO EMIGRATS .- Dr J. Higgins, the State Immigrant Agent of Maryland, respectfully informs the citizens of Suphury and vicinity that he will deliver a lecture in the Masonic Hall, on Friday evening of next week, August 30th, showing the paramount advantages which Maryland offers for the investment of labor and capital in her lands, in the cheapness and fertility of the soil, the health and mildness of its elimate, the speedy, cheap and varied transportation to the best markets, the abundant yield not only of the staple crops, but also of fruits and vegetables of every variety and of the best quality, the social and moral privileges, &c., &c. A pamphlet of more than one hundred pages, showing the above, will be sent on addressing Dr. James Higgins, State Jumigrant Agent, Baltimore, Md. The lecture will commence at half-past soven o'clock.

This does not be described by the sale of over 20,000 copies in a single month. The author's long and varied experience in the little known and interesting regions of the Far West, furnishes the valuable material for its contents.

Mr. Richardson is widely known as one of our mast beliant journalists and writers. No other author has traveled over so much of our vast western domains, and we know of no one who can so well describe what he has seen. He is always interesting, generally amusing, snd, better still, invariably truthful. mate, the speedy, cheap and varied transportation ing, generally amusing, sud, better still, invariably truthful.

The volume before us is accompanied by an accurate and minute map of the entire region beyond the Missispipi, and is elegantly printed and profusely illustrated with over two hundred engravings from original photographs and sketches from the pencils of Bierstadt, Nast, Hennessy, Darley, Fenn, Stephens, Forbes and other eminent artists, which are really beautiful and worthy of examination as specimens of art. Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution.

This work, we understand, is sold only by subscription, and is just such a one as persons seeking to act as agents should add to their list. It is published by the NATIONAL PUBLISHING Co., Philadelphia. cents, from farm wagons. Tomatoes are retailed at 60 cents per peck, something lower than last week, but still a high figure at this season. We observed some very firm and solid ones, raised by Dr. Waldron, at Milton. Apples are scarce and necessarily high, and are retailed at about 75 cents per peck Melons and citrons are coming freely into market. Good peaches are now arriving, and in a few weeks they will be abundant.

Meats are still high, hams having advanced. Beef is selling at old prices—good pieces from 20 to 25 ets. Mutton is much too high in this place. Whatever may be said of cattle, sheep are plenty, and are quoted at only 5 to 6 ets. per lb., gross, in Philadelphia, where mutton sells in market at 10 to 15 for fore and hind quarters.

Butter being in demand, it was advanced, some days since, by some of our retailers to 30 cents, a price not warranted. Butter is selling in Baltimore at 28 cents, or less than here. In the towns on the Juniata, and at Bedford, it is selling at 15 cents.

HARPEN'S MAGAZINE.—We have received the September number of this excellent publication. It contains the following:—The Dodge Club, or, Italy in MDCCCLIX, (continued;) Our Work, a poem; The Rob Roy in the Baltic; The Haunted House at Watertown; A Pleasant Morning; The Yankee before the Throne; My Mexican Mines; The King; Eight Castles in Spain; Pairing Off; Newspaper Curiosities; Held by a Thread; Hereafter, a poem; La Belle France; a glimpse; Walter Colquitt of Georgia; Mrs. Linchpin's Friend; Martyrs to Circumstances; Rag Fair; What Shall They Do? Mrs. Robertson's Boarders; Stranded, a poem; Editor's Easy Chair; Monthly Record of Current Events, and Editor's Drawer. Published by Harper & Brothers, Franklin Square, New York.

The Lady's Friend, por September.—"The WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS THISK OF US .- Brother Richart, of the Pittston Gazette, recently paid a visit to Sunbury, and thus notices it in the last issue of his paper :- "On Saturday last, we spent an hour or two in this beautifully situated and every-way pleasant town-not the quiet village, however, that it was twenty years ago, when nebody seemed to do anything—yet all had plenty to eat, drink and wear. Railroads have electrified her people thoroughly, and they are now as hopeful of a bright future as those of any other locality in the State .-A splendid new Court House has recently been built, and numerous new buildings of all kinds are in progress. We called upon our brothren of the press at the "Sunbury American" and "Northumberland County Democrat" offices, and found all well and flourishing. Walking leisurely about, we yielded to the attraction of the very fine Book and Stationery Store of Mr. N. F. Lightner, formerly of Pittston. A heavy rain fell during our stay in the town, and the abundant foliage, and spacious lawns, showed off beautifully."

A Hunting Party.

Mr. Editor :—A hunting party from upthe river arrived here on Tuesday morning last, and stopped at the National Hotel. Plans were arranged for an expedition to capture such game as abounds in the woods in this vicinity, and it was agreed upon that each should perform their share of the work, one to be hunter, one sticker, and one skinner of the game that would be captured. The landlord, having an eye to business, stopped their progress by securing a robbin to amuse them, which clated the party so that their errand was forgotten until time to return home. The landlord suggested that cels would probably be as much of a luxury as game. The eals were speedily procured and all embarked on the train going north, the landlord taking charge of the robbin while the hunter, the sticker and the skinner kept cycing the cels. It is supposed that the cels were served up at the United States Hotel, Milton, Pa., in the best style, bottles of champagne cracked over the festive board, and toasts drank to the happy hunters.

Georgetown, Aug. 21, 1867. THE FLOOD.-The late freshets have not been confined to a small locality, but have extended over States. But what is remarkable is the fact that the greatest sufferers, in many instances, are those who supposed they were beyond the reach of floods. This is the case with our Shamokin neighbors. The heavy torrents, rushing from the mountains that surround the town, came through the streets like a mill race, inundating cellars and carrying everything before them. Our Shamokin friends, whose sympathics had been so strongly excited in behalf of this place, when we, in common with most of the towns on the Susquehanna, suffered slightly from the moisture of the great freshet in March, 1865, naturally supposed that the flood at this point was second only in magnitude and importance to the great flood in which one Noah figured so conspicuously.-As most of the bridges between this place and Shamokin were carried off, and all communication, by rail and otherwise, was suspended, rumors of all kinds were naturally set affect. Among these, we understand, was one that the town was entirely submerged, and that the first inquiry made was to ascertain the truth of the story that the new Court House had been carried into the middle of the Sus-Orders by mail promptly attended to. quehanna. Another was that our enterprising old friend, J .- D .- of Shamokin, had authorized some one to make a bid for the wreck of the Court House, as it stood, with a view of re-building it at Shamekin. Our Shamekin friends were, no doubt, greatly relieved when they found that the rains had scarcely raised the Susquebanna sufficiently high to make it navigable, and that everything, as fur as the elements were concerned, was as "calm as a

THE DRAMA-A NEW AND EXCITING PLAY .-Our "devil" having been present at the late Charule and Tableaux entertainments given at the Masonic Hall, in this place, has become thoroughly inapired with the drams, and gives every indication of rivalling the immertal "Spokeshave" himself.—
We give place to one of his "high pressure" effu-

sions, as follows:

The Last "Punkin" Pie—A Yankee Romance,

-Chapter I.—She threw horself upon his breast and wept.
Chapter II.—As she ceased weeping he groaned sudibly. There they sat entwined in each other's arms, and nary one on 'em spoke.
Chapter III.—A voice fractured the solemn stillness of the air. 'Twas Rugene's. ''How sweet, my own love, Harriet; if I had but a pumpkin ple to eat.''

Then she lifted up her tear-dimmed eyes to the starry heavens, clasped her hands wildly, and exclaimed, "Come with me to the kitchen, love, and thou shalt cat thy fill, for there were three of them left at dinner."

They clasped each other by the hand, and rushed to the water.

They clasped each other by the hand, and rushed to the pantry.

Chapter IV.—Two pumpkin pies had disappeared, and the third was about to share the same fate, when a stealthy step was heard.

"Fly, my angel! my beau! 'Tis the old woman, I know. And she fell fainting at his feet.

Chapter V.—The old woman stood face to face with Eugene. And she asked him what he had been doin' with the gal, and he said he hadn't dun nothin'. She seized upon the remaining pie and, with the ferocity of a tigress, she chucked it at him.

Chapter VI.—Her aim had been too true. She hit him in the pit of the stomach, and he fell at her feet a corpse. They buried them both in one grave; and every Spring the village maidens planted onions over the place where the lovers are at last united.

A FEW WORDS TO LADIES.—The use of the ZINGARI BITTERS will give to you that soft, semi-transparent complexion which the God of nature (designing woman to be the lovellest of his works) fully intended that you should have—for it is nature's own powder and paint combined. By purifying the blood, stimulating the pigmentary cells of the dermis, and imparting health and life throughout the entire system, it especially gives that smooth clearness and beauty to the complexion so much to be desired—removing all roughness, blotches, freekles, pimples, and that yellow, sickly look so common in our day; and what is even better than this, it cures every species of female irregularities and diseass.
